CTL/IT Workshop - Using Microsoft OneDrive for Classroom Collaboration

Center for Teaching & Learning : Tuesday March 1, 2022

MS OneDrive is a tool to collaborate and share files or content. Collaboration is an effective method that allows groups to work together to achieve shared goals by brainstorming ideas to develop more solutions – thus helping to reach comprehensive learning. With OneDrive, you can share files for group work, track students' progress through real-time monitoring, organize materials by creating assignment folders that can assist you when building content in GeorgiaVIEW, and keep your files updated throughout the learning process.

In this session on March 22 at noon, GC departments of Information Technology (IT) and the Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) come together in a hybrid session to present you with information and ideas to maximize the use of OneDrive in the classroom! Angie Moxley of IT and Simeco Vinson of CTL will explore how to log in to OneDrive using your Unify credentials, synchronize your devices to OneDrive, share files and folders, and practical classroom uses. Registrants who want to join in person can come to Library 376, and those who wish to join online will be sent the meeting link on the morning of the session.

Register for Using Microsoft OneDrive for Classroom Collaboration!

New scholarships for access to Flannery O’Connor materials at Georgia College

Andalusia Institute : Tuesday March 1, 2022

The Andalusia Institute of Georgia College is delighted to announce the availability of three Laidlaw Junior Scholar Fellowship for scholars and artists whose work would benefit from access to an extensive trove of Flannery O’Connor materials.

The Jean M. and William C. Laidlaw Junior Scholar Fellowship has been developed to allow individuals who are just starting to study Flannery O’Connor seriously to explore the numerous O’Connor materials available at the Ina Dillard Russell Library Flannery O’Connor Collection. O’Connor lived in Milledgeville where the college is located and was an alumna of the women’s college that was a precursor to the present institution. Through the years, the Flannery O’Connor Collection has preserved many unique items including her letters, early versions of many of her works and selected volumes from her personal library.

The Fellowship was designed at the behest of Michael and Wendy Laidlaw, the children of Jean M. and William C. Laidlaw, to commemorate their parents’ interest in education, scholarship and literature. They had a desire to see the Laidlaws honored by an award that encouraged people who were newly learning the field to get exposure to the most important collection of O’Connor material available.

“The impact for a graduate student or professor just starting out on their scholarly career is immeasurable,” said Irene Burgess, executive director of Andalusia Institute. “What’s even more exciting, is that given O’Connor’s impact on the visual and performing arts, an artist with the right project could gain a great deal from this.”

The award has been established to fund scholars and artists who need to travel to work with the collection. Three fellowships of $2,000 will be awarded. The deadline to apply is May 30, 2022. To register, please visit https://app.smartsheet.com/b/form/59a0dc8c5c6f428e9ed1e44146a11e85.

Awards will be announced in June 2022.

CTL Workshop - Design for Transformative Learning & Essential Learning Outcomes

Center for Teaching & Learning: Tuesday March 1, 2022

To provide a better understanding of the GC Journeys initiative and help you decide how to incorporate transformative experiences and essential skills into your courses or program, we designed a pair of workshops, Transformative Experiences and Essential Learning Outcomes, both of which have been shown to increase student retention and student engagement rates.

GC Journeys answers several questions: How can faculty and staff make their work more joyful, meaningful, and purposeful? How do we build more meaningful relationships with our students? How do we distinguish our curriculum in a system that doesn't provide much opportunity for creating something liberal-arts-specific? Further answers to these questions can be found in the pair of workshops. Nearly two-thirds of GC faculty have completed the pair of GC Journeys workshops, and our goal is to get to as close to 100% completion as possible!

These highly interactive workshops filled with engagement will provide you with ways to help make the classes and the programs you teach life-changing for students and more meaningful for you.

Please join Drs. Cynthia Alby and Simeco Vinson on April 19th from 3-5 pm on Zoom and find out why the GC Journeys program is already getting nationwide attention. We especially encourage new faculty to attend to better understand GC Journeys and how it applies to you!

Register for Design for Transformative Learning & Essential Learning Outcomes! The Zoom link will be emailed to registrants on the morning of the session.

230 – 270 degrees Fahrenheit produces the best tasting cacao for drinking. Students enrolled in Ceramics 1 and Global Food Studies worked today on transforming the cacao bean into a tasty and complex beverage as they closed the loop from their reading, writing & art making focused on chocolate in Mesoamerica and the social context of cacao drinking among the ancient Maya.

Collette McCarty, Accounting Major, who is taking ceramics as an elective said something similar when she summarized her reading from Traci Arden - “foodways can teach us about different cultures and traditions, and how food was prepared, produced and consumed traditionally throughout a culture.”

Although it did take the muscles of 14 students to toast, peel, and grind up the fermented cacao beans into a smooth paste, their olfactory senses functioned perfectly on high alert. I would say that every student today went away transfixed by the magical aroma, complexity, and engaged learning experience of working with precious cacao from Ecuador.

Fall 2022, ARTS2510-02 Ceramics 1 and introduction to Global Food Studies is open to non-art majors.

Thanks to Hacienda San Jose, Ecuador for the single origin cacao beans
Dr. Magoulick’s - Book Talk & Signing Event

English, Department of: Tuesday March 1, 2022

The Department of English invites you to a book talk and signing event on March 7, for Dr. Mary Magoulick’s recent book, The Goddess Myth in Contemporary Literature and Popular Culture: A Feminist Critique, published by University Press of Mississippi in February 2022. Dr. Magoulick will analyze examples of film and television goddesses from the last 50 years, and she will give a brief overview of the rest of the book. There will be copies of the book available for purchase via the GC B&N bookstore with a book signing following the talk. There will be light refreshments as well and time for questions and answers.

Dr. Mary Magoulick, trained as a folklorist and literary scholar, has been a professor of English and Women’s and Gender Studies at Georgia College since 2000.

The talk will also be available via Zoom:

Please contact Mary Magoulick or The Department of English for the link.

Review of The Goddess Myth

"The Goddess Myth in Contemporary Literature and Popular Culture is the first book I have seen that ties together insights from feminist archaeology, folklore and mythology, literature, pop culture, and contemporary feminist theory in order to better understand the importance of goddess figures in both historical and contemporary modes of thought. Surveying existing scholarship on goddess culture (everything from what we know about prehistorical societies to current-day neo-pagan, Wiccan, and feminist spirituality practices) and adding a folkloristic lens to analyze literary and pop culture versions of goddess myths and tales, Mary J. Magoulick offers a nuanced and intriguing exploration of what goddess figures can and do mean in a variety of media."

- Jeana Jorgensen, folklorist and author

Binghamton University and the Binghamton Biofilm Research Center are excited to begin accepting applications for a new REU site in Summer 2022 focused on microbial biofilms research

Transformative Learning Experiences: Tuesday March 1, 2022

Binghamton University and the Binghamton Biofilm Research Center will be focused on providing research opportunities for early-career students (rising sophomore or junior) from institutions with limited research opportunities (community college, primarily undergraduate institutions, colleges, etc.). The goal is to provide talented and motivated students with a well-mentored, collaborative research experience on microbial biofilms that has the potential to impact their career trajectory and future academic successes.

Our program is centered around the study of microbial biofilms, communities of bacteria and other microorganisms that grow attached to a surface or interface within a self-secreted extracellular polymeric slime matrix. Biofilm cells are distinct in the genes and proteins they express, resulting in unique behaviors that include altered resistance to antimicrobials and host immune systems. Bacterial biofilms have been implicated in more than 80 percent of chronic, infectious diseases and are also the principal cause of biofouling which affects many industrial systems. Program research will focus on three main aspects; 1) how biofilms form and develop, 2) biofilm-specific mechanisms of antimicrobial tolerance, resistance, and virulence, and 3) how biofilm community structure and composition impacts function. Due to the interdisciplinary nature and impact of biofilms, undergraduate research projects may cover microbiology, molecular biology, cellular biology, and engineering disciplines.

Students will be housed on-campus and provided with a meal allowance. Students will also earn a $6000 stipend. Students will present their research at our summer undergraduate research poster session and may have the opportunity to present their research at a regional or national conference with travel support from our REU. Additional travel funding is available for travel to and from Binghamton for those in financial need.

If you have students who might be good candidates for this REU experience, please let them know about it by reaching out personally, sharing via Listservs, or posting flyers.

For more information, including descriptions of potential research projects and how to apply, please visit MORE INFORMATION.

Hiring Camp Counselors for Kids' University

Continuing & Professional Education : Wednesday March 2, 2022

Continuing Education at Georgia College is now accepting applications for teachers and counselors to work at Kids' University this summer. The day camp runs from 7:30-5:30, Monday through Friday and is a great and FUN opportunity for hands-on learning and sharing talents with kids in the community. Please reach out to continuingeducation@gcsu.edu to learn more or call Nancy Finney, 478-445-2762. The program runs from May 31st through July 29th. Applicants should apply by March 18th. Applications can be found here.

Kids' University is a day camp for children ages 5-10 held on the GCSU campus each summer. Two camp counselors work together for each class of 20-24 students. Classes are divided by age groups. Teachers plan age-appropriate activities according to each weekly theme in a fun summer learning environment. Topics come to life in areas such as art, computers, drama, music, writing, science, math, history, and geography. In addition, teachers take students to the computer lab and GCSU pool daily and supervise outdoor recreational activities. It’s a great experience for early childhood majors wanting hands-on classroom exposure in a fun, casual, camp situation, or anyone looking to gain leadership skills and have fun this summer.

Pay ranges from $325-$375 a week based on experience.

Georgia Power Endowed Professorship Series for Spring 2022

Biology & Environmental Sciences, Department of: Wednesday March 2, 2022

Georgia Power Endowed Professorship promotes environmental research and public education programs and lectures on the Georgia College campus and the local community, and works with faculty and students in supporting programming in water quality and environmental sciences. This year we combine discussions and talks related to the 50 year anniversary of the US Clean Water Act of 1972.

March 2 at 10 a.m. Dr. Thomas Smith from Arkansas State University will give a lecture titled "Eastern USA and Puerto Rico Cyanobacteria, occurrences, and ecology." Email kalina.manoylov@gcsu.edu for the link to this virtual event.

If you have ever had a thought such as, “I got into this field to support students’ learning, not to be judge and jury,” or “The validity of this whole grading thing seems remarkably shaky,” then this workshop is for you. “Ungrading” and “grade minimizing” are processes where faculty members modify their grading systems to focus more on student learning. Decades of quality research suggest that grades actually do more harm than good (for example, Kohn, 1999). Join a panel of discussants as they share their experiences with ungrading, the issues they faced, and the unexpected rewards. They will provide practical tips for how you can try it yourself and prepare you to go all in or take it slowly. Participants will be provided with a variety of resources to support the process.

This virtual workshop will take place at 3:30 pm on March 24. The meeting link will be sent out to registrants on the day of the workshop.

College of Education welcomes high school students to campus March 9

The John H. Lounsbury College of Education will host Future Georgia Educators (FGE) Day Wednesday, March 9 from 8:45 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Nearly 200 high school students from all across Georgia will be on campus to learn about the university, get a glimpse of the teaching profession from professors and teacher candidates, hear from the 2022 Georgia Teacher of the Year and visit a college fair.

This marks the first time Georgia College has hosted FGE Day in coordination with the Professional Association of Georgia Educators (PAGE).

Sessions and activities for these students will take place across campus.

The Non-Profit, Government, & Helping Industries Career Fair will be held on March 10 from 12 p.m. - 4 p.m. in Peabody Auditorium. Students will meet representatives from non-profit organizations, government agencies and helping industries who are seeking interns and hiring for full-time positions. Opportunities are available for all majors.

Did you know that over 11 million people work in non-profit organizations, making it one of the largest industries in which people work? Non-profits are made up of education, health, social service, philanthropic, professional service, quasi-government, art, and cultural organizations. Over 20 million people work in federal, state, county, or city/local government. These industries make up so much of our workforce so you will not want to leave them out of your job search.

You never have a second chance to make a first impression, so business attire is required for this event. Resumes are also highly encouraged so that you can leave information about yourself with the representatives. Even if you have applied online it helps the recruiter know who you are when you follow up with them at a later date. We recommend that you bring at least 20 copies of your resume but if you plan to talk to every employer, bring more!

The Office of Health Promotion in partnership with Dr. Whitney Heppner's SPaW class and members of the GC Mental Health Initiative are pleased to present a Mental Health Resource Lookbook for campus. In this book, you will find resources to help you direct students and employees to on and off-campus resources to assist when they are having a mental health challenge. This is an easy access point to browse what is available for times of crisis, opportunities for training, and self-help studies and applications. Print copies will be made available to departments at a later time. This lookbook will be housed on the GC Mental Health Page. We are asking that you download this pdf and save to your computer to access as needed. Please download the lookbook here: www.gcsu.edu/gcmentalhealth

The Georgia College Mental Health Initiative is also trying to get as many people trained with Kognito during the month of March that we can. Kognito is an online platform that simulates real conversations and gives you ways to help someone or say the right things when someone is having a mental health challenge. Our hope is that we can get 100 GC community members-students, faculty, and staff- trained with this 1 hour online course. Please visit www.gcsu.edu/counseling/kognito-counseling-services to participate in taking Kognito. Let the Office of Health Promotion know when you or your coworkers complete it so it can be counted to our goal.

Bobcat Men’s Basketball Cleans up in Postseason PBC Awards

University Communications : Friday March 4, 2022

The Peach Belt Conference (PBC) announced its postseason awards in Men’s Basketball Thursday, with Georgia College’s Mark Gainous earning PBC Coach of the Year and Brandon Thomas (McDonough) taking his second Elite-16 Award. Jordan Thomas (Conyers) and Wesley Simpson (DeLand, Florida/Union Grove HS [Ga.]) also took All-PBC trophies.

"I am so happy for Mark and the holistic success he has built within our program," said Director of Athletics Wendell Staton. "There is no higher compliment than being recognized by your peers. Mark is the ultimate team player and exudes contagious positivity. I am thrilled for Mark and our outstanding student-athletes who made this recognition possible."

Gainous earns the second Herbert Greene Coach of the Year honor in his career. The Bobcats are 21-7 this year, the first 20-win season for the program since 2009-10. GC took the No.3-seed in the Peach Belt, and were nationally ranked for three weeks this season.

"Brandon winning back-to-back Elite-16 Awards makes me extremely proud," said Gainous. "He is one of the smartest young men I have ever had the opportunity to be around. Brandon is not only highly intelligent, he is very conscientious about his work. He will make a great doctor one day."

Brandon Thomas brings in his second-straight Elite-16 Award, given to the student-athlete with the top GPA among all eight teams involved in the PBC Tournament. He owns a perfect 4.0 GPA in Public Health with a Pre-Med focus.

"Proud of both JT and Wes for making all-conference," said Gainous. "Both guys are very deserving of being recognized as two of the top players in the PBC. It is such a great league, with so many outstanding players."

Jordan Thomas took a spot on the All-PBC First Team, his fourth career all-conference award. Thomas is averaging 17.3 points per game, second in the league. His 3.1 three-pointers per game is second, and he ranks 11th in assists per game at 3.1.

Simpson improves to second-team honors after taking a spot on the third team in 2020-21. He became the ninth player in GC Men's Basketball history to be a two-time All-PBC pick. Simpson averages 14.1 points, 6.8 rebounds and 3.6 assists per contest this year. He ranks 12th in the league in scoring, 10th in rebounds, seventh in assists and third in assist/turnover ratio at 1.9.

The Bobcats hopefully await at-large selections to the NCAA Southeast Regional, set for announcement Sunday, March 6.

Dr. Magoulick’s - Book Talk & Signing Event

The Department of English invites you to a book talk and signing event on March 7, for Dr. Mary Magoulick’s recent book, The Goddess Myth in Contemporary Literature and Popular Culture: A Feminist Critique, published by University Press of Mississippi in February 2022. Dr. Magoulick will analyze examples of film and television goddesses from the last 50 years, and she will give a brief overview of the rest of the book. There will be copies of the book available for purchase via the GC B&N bookstore with a book signing following the talk. There will be light refreshments as well and time for questions and answers.

Dr. Mary Magoulick, trained as a folklorist and literary scholar, has been a professor of English and Women’s and Gender Studies at Georgia College since 2000.

The talk will also be available via Zoom:

Please contact Mary Magoulick or The Department of English for the link.

Review of The Goddess Myth

"The Goddess Myth in Contemporary Literature and Popular Culture is the first book I have seen that ties together insights from feminist archaeology, folklore and mythology, literature, pop culture, and contemporary feminist theory in order to better understand the importance of goddess figures in both historical and contemporary modes of thought. Surveying existing scholarship on goddess culture (everything from what we know about prehistorical societies to current-day neo-pagan, Wiccan, and feminist spirituality practices) and adding a folkloristic lens to analyze literary and pop culture versions of goddess myths and tales, Mary J. Magoulick offers a nuanced and intriguing exploration of what goddess figures can and do mean in a variety of media."

NOW OPEN: Small Group Instructional Diagnosis (SGID) Requests

Center for Teaching & Learning : Monday March 7, 2022

The SGID's goal is to provide faculty with important feedback that helps them adjust their teaching and improve student learning outcomes. It also offers faculty a way to reflect on and documents critical teaching behaviors. This process, vetted in research, supports the continuous quality improvement of the teaching and learning process and shows our continued commitment to creating innovative learning environments, high-impact pedagogies, along with meaningful student-faculty interaction at Georgia College. After completion, the requestor will receive a letter from the Center for Teaching and Learning that certifies participation; however, the results are entirely confidential. For Spring 2022, the SGID opens March 7th and subsequently closes on March 25th. Please submit your requests at least seven (7) days before the first date when you want the observer to come to your class. If you are interested in scheduling an SGID for the Spring 2022 semester, please submit a completed form to the Center for Teaching and Learning at ctl@gcsu.edu.

Adella Hunt Logan: Librarian, Educator, Reformer, and Suffragist

Ina Dillard Russell Library : Monday March 7, 2022

Recent scholarship has shone a light on the experiences of Black women librarians such as Audre Lorde (Pollock & Haley 2018), Nella Larsen (Hochman, 2018), Belle de Costa Green (Ardizzone, 2017), and Regina Andrews Anderson (Whitmire, 2019). As Pollock and Haley (2018) make clear: “Black women have always been integral to first, literacy movements of the 1800s and later librarianship... social justice activism, and literary cultural production have always intersected for middle class, educated Black women.” One place where this can be observed is within the profession of librarianship” (15). Someone whose name is absent from the canon of noteworthy Black women librarians is Adella Hunt Logan, a native of Sparta, Hancock County, Georgia. This presentation will explore the degree to which the collection and dissemination of information and social justice activism intersected within her life and work.

Reminder of cybersecurity fundamentals

Information Technology : Tuesday March 8, 2022

In light of recent events in Europe, you may have questions and concerns about cybersecurity. Am I or is our organization more likely to come under attack? Am I at greater risk?

We don’t have all the answers, nor do we know what will happen next. However, continuing to focus on cybersecurity fundamentals is key to protecting yourself both at home and at work/school. While the sense of urgency may have changed, how cyber attackers target us has not. Here are the fundamentals upon which to focus:

1. Phishing: Phishing and related scams are when cyber attackers attempt to trick or fool you into doing something you should not do. Often these scams are sent as emails, but they can also be text messages, phone calls, or social media posts. Anytime someone is creating a tremendous sense of urgency and rushing you to take action, or someone is promoting an offer that sounds too good to be true, it is most likely an attack.

2. Passwords: Strong passwords are the key to protecting your online, digital life. Make sure each of your accounts is protected by a unique, long password. The longer your password the better. To keep it simple, use passphrases, a type of password made up of multiple words like “honey-butter-happy” or combinations using numbers instead of certain letters like “Spr1ngT1m3Fl0w3r5”. Can’t remember all your passwords? Neither can we. That is why we also recommend you use a Password Manager such as Last Pass to securely store all your passwords. Finally, whenever possible, enable Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA) on your important personal accounts as we have for GC accounts.

3. Updating: Keep your personal computers, devices, and apps updated and current by enabling automatic updating on all your devices. Cyber attackers are constantly looking for new vulnerabilities in the devices and software you use. Keeping them automatically updated makes sure these known weaknesses are fixed and your devices have the latest security features.

In addition, there is going to be a tremendous amount of false information spread on the Internet. Do not trust or rely on information from new, unknown, or random social media accounts, such as posts on LinkedIn, Instagram, Facebook, or Twitter. Many accounts on these sites were created for the sole purpose of putting out fake information. Instead, follow only well-known, trusted news sources that verify the authenticity of information before they broadcast it. Finally, if you wish to donate to any causes in support of recent events, make sure you are donating to a well-known, trusted charity. There will be many scams attempting to trick people into donating to fake charities run by cybercriminals.

Continue to focus on the fundamentals you have learned from in our Cybersecurity Awareness Training, and you will go a long way to protecting yourself, no matter who the cyber attacker is. Contact iso@gcsu.edu if you have questions.

Creative writing students share works with peers across the globe

English, Department of : Tuesday March 8, 2022

As part of Georgia College’s Border-Free initiative, Dr. Kerry Neville, assistant professor of creative writing, recently held a collaborative Open Mic Creative Writing Reading session with four Georgia College students and six students from Al Akhawayn University in Ifrane, Morocco.

Participants virtually met students from the partner university who are studying creative writing on the other side of the world.

As she listened to students present their poetry, fiction and creative nonfiction works, Neville was delighted to see how at ease they were sharing their creative works.

“GC and Al Akhawayn students took a leap of faith, sharing their creative work with each other—having never met each other and only meeting on Zoom that day,” she said. “It can be difficult to be vulnerable and to allow others to ‘hear’ your creative work, especially strangers. However, the group immediately seemed comfortable and listened with great enthusiasm and curiosity as each student read aloud from their fiction, creative nonfiction and poetry.”

Neville’s goal is to hold one open mic session each semester. GC Border-Free helps makes this opportunity possible.

“It allows us to travel outside of Milledgeville, Georgia, the South and United States and enter the world,” she said. “I hope participants feel connected to an international community of writers and understand that we are not the ‘center’—which allows us to expand our sphere of interest and concern.”

Their participation in the event allowed students to see similarities between those of different cultures—and that the human experience is global.

“Through the work that was shared,” Neville said, “we understood that while there are certainly cultural differences, we are very much alike in our human concerns—love, grief, safety, peace and passion.”

Impact Your Teacher Effectiveness Ratings through the Objective Selection Form (OSF)

Center for Teaching & Learning : Tuesday March 8, 2022

The Objective Selection Form (OSF) opens March 8 for the Spring 2022 semester through May 2. The OSF allows faculty to identify targeted learning objectives to measure teaching effectiveness, and faculty response to the OSF drives summative results on the Student Rating of Instruction Survey (SRIS). The primary indicator of teaching effectiveness is how well students rate their progress on learning objectives that faculty mark as Important or Essential on the OSF. Since every course is different, this research-based instructor-driven model interpreters teaching effectiveness based on indicators identified by the instructor. Most instructors being familiar with their course learning objectives, decide and mark the OSF in ten (10) minutes or less per course. You can access the OSF by visiting the "OSF Manager" at https://gcsu.campuslabs.com/faculty/.

Please contact sris@gcsu.edu with technical questions or concerns. For assistance completing the Objective Selection Form (OSF) by matching your course learning objectives to objectives found in the survey, please contact the Center for Teaching and Learning, ctl@gcsu.edu, or 478-445-2520.

Bobcat Award Nominations are Now Open

Student Life, Office of : Tuesday March 8, 2022

The Bobcat Awards and Recognition program is an annual award and recognition ceremony for student leaders and student organizations. There are three classifications of awards: organizations, individuals, and activities. Faculty, staff, students, community partners, alumni, and student organization advisors are highly encouraged to make nominations for these awards. For an organization to be eligible for nomination, the organization must be recognized by the Student Government Association and the Department of Student Activities and be in good standing with the University in all aspects. Individuals must be in good standing as well.

Nominations must be submitted online via the Bobcat Award Nomination Link. Nominations are due by Wednesday, March 23 @ 5:00 p.m. Student organizations and individuals can be nominated multiple times. Individuals may self-nominate (this is not seen as a negative thing at all).

Winners will be announced at the Bobcat Awards and Recognition Ceremony on Tuesday, April 5 @ 7 p.m. in the Magnolia Ballroom of the Student Activities Center. Any questions regarding the nomination process or the ceremony should be directed to Kristy Johnson, Director of Student Activities & Organizations.

Fraternity & Sorority Life award nominations are due on March 11

The Biology Division of the Council on Undergraduate Research (CUR) is pleased to announce a limited number of research supply grants, up to $250 each for biology projects. These awards are intended especially for projects with undergraduates in which a small grant will make a big difference. Award funds will be given as a stipend and do not need to be used during this fiscal year. Award recipients are required to acknowledge CUR for support of their research in publications and presentations of work stemming from the support. Mentors for these projects must be individual CUR members or working at an institution with CUR membership. Application deadline is March 15, 2022. Search for Guest Editors for the Journal of Microbiology & Biology Education 2023 Themed Issue: Scientific Literacy

Transformative Learning Experiences : Wednesday March 9, 2022

Scientific literacy is an essential skill for scientists, health professionals, and consumers of scientific information. For this reason, most biology instructors place an emphasis on the development of scientific literacy in the classroom. However, there are many definitions of scientific literacy and there is robust discussion on the best practices for developing this set of skills in students. The next themed issue of the Journal of Microbiology & Biology Education will explore concepts related to scientific literacy in the classroom and the community. We envision that the issue will focus on topics such as, but not limited to: pedagogical practices that focus on scientific literacy skills, theoretical frameworks that inform the development and understanding of scientific literacy, ways to expose majors and non-majors to the importance of these skills, and community outreach efforts related to scientific literacy.

JMBE is looking for 4-5 guest editors for the Scientific Literacy themed issue.

The principal responsibilities of guest editors are to:

1. Develop the call for papers for the issue
2. Oversee the review of a set of submissions

We envision the timeline for guest editor involvement to be as follows:

April-May 2022- develop call for papers
August 2022 – anticipated manuscript submission deadline
Fall 2022 – early spring 2023 – oversee manuscript review

Preferred qualifications of a guest editor:

1. Expertise in a field related to the focus of the themed issue
2. Excellent communication and organizational skills
3. Demonstrated ability to work within a team
4. Experience having served as a reviewer or editor for JMBE or similar peer-reviewed journals

To apply, please send a one-page letter of intent and a CV to mstotten@ung.edu. The title of the email should read "Application for guest editor". Application review will begin on April 1st and will continue until the positions are filled. Please direct any questions to me at mstotten@ung.edu.

Nominations for the Leadership in Moral Courage Bobcat Award and Academic Scholarship NOW OPEN

Student Life, Office of: Wednesday March 9, 2022

The Leadership in Moral Courage Award was established by two generous donors to recognize and acknowledge students who are driven by empathy and compassion to effect change and make a difference in the lives of others; such change being the direct result of actions taken by the students for moral reasons despite the risk of adverse consequences. Recipients of the Award, through acts of selflessness and courage, have demonstrated a commitment to personal and organizational values at a testing point. All rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors pursing their undergraduate degree at Georgia College are eligible.

- In addition to the Bobcat Award, awardees will receive a $1,000 academic scholarship for the following school year.

Please take the time to nominate student(s) using this form by Wednesday, March 23!

Outdoor education students complete extreme aerial tour

University Communications: Wednesday March 9, 2022

Last weekend, students in Dr. Liz Speelman’s Challenge Course class (ODED 3550) along with several staff members of the Outdoor Center visited Historic Banning Mills in Whitesburg, Georgia, to participate in their canopy zip tours.

The trip came together from a partnership between alumna Lauren Bice Ellis, ’16, who works at Historic Banning Mills, and Dr. Jeff Turner, associate professor of Outdoor Education. Turner provided an American Canoe Association (ACA) training for some of Ellis’ staff last year, and in turn, negotiated the opportunity for GC students to participate in their zip canopy tours to experience and learn more about the recreational side of the industry.

"This was such a great experience for our students. I saw many of them step well outside of their comfort zones. Even more importantly, I heard them making connections and comparisons between the work we do in class and what they were experiencing," Speelman said. "From the safety briefing to how the guides interacted with all of us, the students got to see the difference between a recreational experience and the interpersonal experiences we focus on in our program. One focuses on the activity and the other focuses on the people who are doing the activity."

The students completed their 4-hour, Level 4 "Extreme Tour," which included traversing several unique suspension bridges, a 600-foot-long suspension bridge 100 feet above a creek, a 1,000-foot-long zip line back across the creek and a 2,500-feet-long zip line that goes 70-75 mph.

"Soaring among the treetops was an exhilarating way to connect with friends and have fun in the outdoors! Big thanks to Dr. Speelman and GC Outdoor Education for the great day" said student Madison Green.

Bobcat Soccer to Host Spring ID Camp April 30

Athletics : Thursday March 10, 2022

>>>REGISTER HERE: https://tinyurl.com/yc5h5j8a

The Georgia College Women's Soccer program and head coach Tinna Gallagher have announced a Spring ID Camp set for Saturday, April 30. The camp is taking registrations for any female high-school athletes who are interested in showcasing their skills and playing soccer at the next level.

The Bobcat ID Camp is open to all prospective student-athletes, giving them an important opportunity to gain next-level recognition for their talents and skills. While being able to meet and train with coaches in person, the opportunity also allows these athletes to make connections with coaches and players at Georgia College.

The camp will cost $125 for a 9 a.m.-4 p.m. session, which will consist of individual skill challenges, as well as live-game simulations. Also included in this cost are a campus tour and lunch.

The Office of Health Promotion in partnership with Dr. Whitney Heppner’s SPaW class and members of the GC Mental Health Initiative are pleased to present a Mental Health Resource Lookbook for campus. In this book, you will find resources to help you direct students and employees to on and off-campus resources to assist when they are having a mental health challenge. This is an easy access point to browse what is available for times of crisis, opportunities for training, and self-help studies and applications. Print copies will be made available to departments at a later time. This lookbook will be housed on the GC Mental Health Page. We are asking that you download this pdf and save to your computer to access as needed. (please note there have been a few updates since we last shared this last week, there is a newer version we would like for you to use.

Please download the lookbook here: www.gcsu.edu/gcmentalhealth

The Georgia College Mental Health Initiative is also trying to get as many people trained with Kognito during the month of March that we can. Kognito is an online platform that simulates real conversations and gives you ways to help someone or say the right things when someone is having a mental health challenge. Our hope is that we can get 100 GC community members-students, faculty, and staff- trained with this 1 hour online course. Please visit www.gcsu.edu/counseling/kognito-counseling-services to participate in taking Kognito. Let the Office of Health Promotion know when you or your coworkers complete it so it can be counted to our goal.

Updated Guidance on Masks from USG

University Communications : Monday March 14, 2022

Please see the updates below regarding masks that have been made on the University System of Georgia (USG) website.

USG encourages masks based on preference and assessment of personal risk

The University System of Georgia (USG) continues to recognize COVID-19 vaccines and boosters offer safe, effective protection and urges all students, faculty, staff and visitors to get vaccinated and/or boosted either on campus or with a local provider. As USG works closely with the Georgia Department of Public Health to prioritize the health and safety of campus communities, the system encourages people to wear masks based on their preference and assessment of personal risk.

Interested in learning more about community-based engaged learning? Check out our upcoming Lunch & Learn sessions hosted by HIPs Champions! Please join Dr. Stefanie Sevcik for a discussion of the framework for building successful community partnerships. Do you want to brush the dust off of a general education course you have taught countless times to make it feel more impactful? Maybe you want to take your advanced seminar students out of the classroom and into the community? We will walk through the steps involved in taking a course you already teach and incorporating a high-impact service-learning experience for your students. We will also discuss examples of service-learning projects happening in courses across the campus and resources to turn your idea into a reality.

This virtual workshop will take place at 12 noon on April 15. The meeting link will be sent out to registrants on the day of the workshop.

Guest Artist Recital: Shades of Life - Dr. Tana Field, mezzo-soprano

Music, Department of: Tuesday March 15, 2022

Monday, March 21 Guest artist and mezzo-soprano, Dr. Tana Field, will perform at Georgia College at 7:30 p.m. in Max Noah Recital Hall. Accompanied by faculty pianist Dr. Owen Lovell, Field’s performance will reflect human experience and hope, spanning all shades of mood from serious and melancholy to triumphant and humorous. Pieces range from 17th-century opera aria to 21st-century cabaret. They reflect a longing for freedom from isolation, the closure of old chapters and new beginnings. Dr. Field serves as professor of music at Murray State University in Kentucky. A $10 donation is encouraged. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GC Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. For more information, please email music@gcsu.edu or call 478-445-8289.

Nominate a student for the Leadership in Moral Courage Bobcat Award and Academic Scholarship

Student Life, Office of: Tuesday March 15, 2022

Please take the time to nominate student(s) using this form by Wednesday, March 23!

The Leadership in Moral Courage Award was established by two generous donors to recognize and acknowledge students who are driven by empathy and compassion to effect change and make a difference in the lives of others; such change being the direct result of actions taken by the students for moral reasons despite the risk of adverse consequences. Recipients of the Award, through acts of selflessness and courage, have demonstrated a commitment to personal and organizational values at a testing point. All rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors pursuing their undergraduate degree at Georgia College are eligible.

- In addition to the Bobcat Award, awardees will receive a $1,000 academic scholarship for the following school year.

Call for staff nominations for the Celebration of Excellence Awards

Staff Council: Wednesday March 16, 2022

Every April, Georgia College hosts the Celebration of Excellence Awards Ceremony to recognize staff who have shown excellence in their field and dedicated service to the University community. Staff Council is now asking for nominations. To nominate a staff member or team on campus, please fill out our online form.

Below is the list of awards available along with a description of the award.

- Individual Service Excellence: This award recognizes individual staff members who have gone above and beyond in their service to students, colleagues, and other Georgia College community members during the last academic year.

- Outstanding Leadership Award: This award recognizes individuals in leadership roles/capacities who have gone above and beyond in their service to students, colleagues, and other Georgia College community members during the last academic year.

- 'The Bright Idea Award' for Outstanding Process Improvement: This award recognizes teams, departments, or divisions that designed and implemented process improvements or initiatives over the last year that have significantly increased effectiveness and efficiency. Projects will be considered on the basis of improved service times, improved quality of service, and the significance of the positive impact on their customers (students, colleagues, community)

- Team Service Excellence: This award recognizes teams that have gone above and beyond in their service to students, colleagues, and other Georgia College community members during the last academic year.

- Bobcat Spirit: This award recognizes an individual who exemplifies the spirit of Georgia College and everything it signifies. Successful candidates can either bleed Blue and Green for the university's many sports teams or exude school spirit in the way they exemplify the Liberal Arts Mission - engaging in intellectual, professional, or civic pursuits; taking initiative; answering the call to leadership; and building a better university community for the future.

- Bobcat Partner Award: Not all members of Team Georgia College are employed by the university. This award recognizes a business or organization that, although not a part of Georgia College, helps the campus community achieve its mission and goals as if it were a member of the team. Successful nominations could be for a vendor that does business with Georgia College or an organization that partners with Georgia College departments, on-campus organizations, or initiatives.

- The Eve Puckett Community Service Award: This award recognizes an individual that donates his or her time to on-campus or community volunteer opportunities above and beyond their responsibilities at Georgia College.

Nominations must be submitted to Staff Council no later than March 29, 2022. Award winners will be announced at the Celebration of Excellence Ceremony on Friday, April 15, 2022. If you have any questions about the nomination process, please email staff_council@gcsu.edu.

Diversity 360 Series Event: Inclusive Leadership

Inclusive Excellence, Office of: Wednesday March 16, 2022

The Office of Inclusive Excellence, in collaboration with the College of Business and the Career Center, will present a virtual Diversity 360 event called “Inclusive Leadership” on Wednesday, March 23 at 4p.m. The Zoom link is https://tinyurl.com/bdhbyt5p.

More than ever, companies are prioritizing and implementing diversity and inclusion initiatives. Organizations can recruit from a wide demographic of people. However, diversity efforts will not succeed unless businesses create environments where each demographic in the workplace feels welcomed and valued and has a sense of belonging. Therefore, organizations that commit to creating an inclusive culture not only improve their work environments, but they also positively affect their bottom line.

We invite the GC community to hear from a panel of employers discussing how they incorporate diversity and inclusion practices into their organization’s culture, the importance and challenges of hiring and retaining a diverse workforce, and the critical skills employees need to work and succeed in an inclusive workplace.

Guest Panelists:

- Shanterrica Reeves, Talent Acquisition Specialist for Sherman Williams
- Larry Elmore, Senior Director of Talent Acquisition & Inclusion for Kids2
- Annette Slidge, Board Chair of the DEI Council for Global Payments

Study Abroad program proposals for faculty-led programs due April 1

International Education Center: Thursday March 17, 2022

To access the Study Abroad Program proposal form and more information on organizing faculty-led programs, visit Developing a Study Abroad Program located in the GC International intranet. Unify login credentials will be needed. The Study Abroad Program Director’s Handbook is listed first, and the Study Abroad Program Proposal Form is listed as Appendix A. All applicants, for first-time or continuing programs, should use the current proposal form (Appendix A); former versions of the proposal form will not be accepted this year.

The deadline for fall 2022, spring 2023 and summer 2023 faculty-led study abroad program proposals to be submitted to the International Education Center, including the appropriate chair’s and dean’s signatures, is April 1, 2022.

Program proposals should be emailed to studyabroadinfo@gcsu.edu by April 1.

Signatures from the Education Abroad Committee chair, the Assistant Vice-President for International Education and the Academic Affairs office will be obtained after the Education Abroad Committee reviews the proposals. Note that proposals for fall 2023 and winter break 2023 programs will be due Sept. 1, 2022.

First-time applicants and faculty who are thinking of proposing a study abroad program in the future but are not sure how to begin are encouraged to contact the Assistant Vice President of International Education, Dr. James Callaghan, to discuss study abroad options, curricular ideas, programmatic itineraries and projected budgets. Please email james.callaghan@gcsu.edu.

Fulbright Scholarship Info Session

National Scholarships Office at Georgia College : Monday March 21, 2022

Come learn more about how you can apply for a Fulbright Scholarship on March 23 at 5 p.m. in A&S 340B!

The Fulbright Scholarship funds post-graduate study, research, and English Teaching Assistantships for U.S. citizens. Most programs do not have major restrictions, and many do not have language requirements. (Essentially, there is something for everyone!) At seventy-five years old, it has a history of producing prestigious alumni, including glass artist Dale Chihuly, actor John Lithgow, and poet Rita Dove, among many others.

If you think you might be even remotely interested in this excellent opportunity, I'd encourage you to attend, even if you are a first-year student. (It's never too early to start thinking about Fulbright!)

However, diversity efforts will not succeed unless businesses create environments where each demographic in the workplace feels welcomed and valued and has a sense of belonging. Therefore, organizations that commit to creating an inclusive culture not only improve their work environments, but they also positively affect their bottom line.

We invite the GC community to hear from a panel of employers discussing how they incorporate diversity and inclusion practices into their organization’s culture, the importance and challenges of hiring and retaining a diverse workforce, and the critical skills employees need to work and succeed in an inclusive workplace.

Guest Panelists:

- Shanterrica Reeves, Talent Acquisition Specialist for Sherman Williams
- Larry Elmore, Senior Director of Talent Acquisition & Inclusion for Kids2
- Annette Slidge, Board Chair of the DEI Council for Global Payments

New Database Resources

Russell Library is pleased to offer some new database resources which include Women in Social Movements in the United States, LGBT Magazine Archive, and Food Studies Online.

Women in Social Movements in the United States is organized around the history of women in social movements in the U.S. between 1600 and 2000.

- This collection seeks to advance scholarly debates and understanding about U.S. women’s history.
- It currently includes 124 document projects and archives with more than 5,100 documents and 175,000 pages of additional full-text documents, written by 2,800 primary authors.
- It also includes book, film, and website reviews, notes from the archives, and teaching tools.

LGBT Magazine Archive has 26 of the most influential, longest-running serial publications covering LGBT interests.

- It includes the preeminent US and UK titles – The Advocate and Gay Times, respectively.
- Chronicles more than six decades of the history and culture of the LGBT community.
- In addition to LGBT/gender/sexuality studies, this material also serves related disciplines such as sociology, political science, psychology, health, and the arts.

Food Studies Online provides researchers rich archival content, visual ephemera, monographs, and videos that explore how food shapes the world around us.

- It has social, historical, economic, cultural, religious, and political implications that reach far beyond what is consumed at the dinner table.
- This exciting collection aids researchers in answering such questions as, “What are the environmental and social consequences of various sorts of eating habits?”, “What is a food system?”, and “How is culinary culture shaped by the dynamics of colonialism, immigration, urbanization, and global capitalism?”

Call for Volunteers for Read A Bobcat (Diversity Dialogue Event)

Cultural Center : Tuesday March 22, 2022

Do you have a story to share with others to help broaden their understanding about an identity you have or a stereotype that you have been labeled with? Are you an "open book" that is willing to share your life experiences with others to help unite our campus? The "Read a Bobcat" initiative is Georgia College's version of "The Human Library" which is an organization that creates a safe space for dialogue where topics are discussed openly between our human books and their readers.

We are seeking volunteers that are interested in serving as human books. The following application will ask you to select the identities or stereotypes for which you have a story to tell or life experience to share. We will also ask you to share a summary of your story or experience. Please also indicate your availability during the times provided so that we can schedule volunteers during their availability. We will review the submitted applications and time availability and respond back with a follow up meeting time to provide more information about the volunteer opportunity.

Please submit applications here: https://forms.office.com/r/k8vG82afYd by Monday, March 28, 2022 at 5:00 PM

Our hope is to offer the "Read A Bobcat" event on April 4-6, 2022 during Bobcats Unite which will be a Diversity week celebration including other events as well. At the event, members of the campus community would be able to "check out" a book, meaning that they could possibly select you (the book) to have a 20 minute conversation with based on your story. You would then share your story and be open and willing to have a conversation in which the reader could ask questions and the two of you can engage in dialogue about your identity/identities. We will also ask the reader and the book (you) to provide feedback about your experience.

For additional information about the Human Library organization, please visit: https://humanlibrary.org/meet-our-human-books/. We are not an official affiliate of this project, but would like to offer a similar experience on our campus.

Thank you for volunteering for this opportunity. For additional information, please contact the Cultural Center at 478-445-8155 or via email at culturalcenter@gcsu.edu.

Bobcat Award Nominations are Now Open

Student Life, Office of: Tuesday March 22, 2022

The Bobcat Awards and Recognition program is an annual award and recognition ceremony for student leaders and student organizations. There are three classifications of awards: organizations, individuals, and activities. Faculty, staff, students, community partners, alumni, and student organization advisors are highly encouraged to make nominations for these awards. For an organization to be eligible for nomination, the organization must be recognized by the Student Government Association and the Department of Student Activities and be in good standing with the University in all aspects. Individuals must be in good standing as well.

Nominations must be submitted online via the Bobcat Award Nomination Link. Nominations are due by Wednesday, March 23 @ 5:00 p.m. Student organizations and individuals can be nominated multiple times. Individuals may self-nominate (this is not seen as a negative thing at all).

Winners will be announced at the Bobcat Awards and Recognition Ceremony on Tuesday, April 5 @ 7 p.m. in the Magnolia Ballroom of the Student Activities Center. Any questions regarding the nomination process or the ceremony should be directed to Kristy Johnson, Director of Student Activities & Organizations.

Monday, March 28 At 7:30 p.m., Georgia College will host an exciting and unusual chamber music group, The Palmetto Saxophone Quartet, in Max Noah Recital Hall. The concert, entitled “Backburner,” will also be livestreamed on Facebook at www.facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment. The ensemble consists of virtuoso performer/teachers from the Southeast. Dr. Clifford Leaman is a world-renowned saxophone soloist and senior associate dean of the University of South Carolina School of Music. He plays soprano in the group. Sheldon Johnson, a saxophone professor from Radford University plays alto, and professor Matthew Castner from the University of South Carolina, Aiken, plays baritone saxophone. Georgia College’s own Dr. Andrew J. Allen—assistant professor of saxophone and coordinator of woodwinds, brass, and percussion—is the group’s tenor saxophonist. The program features an “incredibly challenging work” by American composer Frank Ticheli, which figures prominently in the concert. A $5 donation is encouraged. Online donations can be made at alumni.gcsu.edu/music. Mail-in donations for music scholarships can be made out to GCSU Foundations, Inc. and sent to GC Music Department, CBX 66, Milledgeville, GA 31061. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GC Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. For more information, please email music@gcsu.edu or call 478-445-8289.

MS Teams is a cloud-based collaborative software within Microsoft Office, that is designed to bring individuals and groups together to share and store files, meet virtually, and collaborate all in one space. Whether you are working on projects or sharing content, teammates can come together to participate in secure meetings, share files for group work, continuously update files throughout the learning process, and host video conferences. In Teams, you can collaborate in real-time, right where the work is happening, and have informal chats while sharing deliverables. Collaboration and teamwork are effective methods that allow groups to work together to achieve shared goals by brainstorming ideas to develop more solutions – thus helping to reach comprehensive learning. Teams are a hub for teamwork, with possibilities for group assignments and group projects. This communication tool can also support virtual learning and can be used by faculty, students, and staff.

In this session, GC departments of Information Technology (IT) and the Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) come together to present you with information and ideas to maximize the use of Teams in the classroom! Angie Moxley of IT and Jaclyn Queen of CTL will explore how to log in to Teams, Create a Team, create a channel in Teams, and practical classroom uses. The workshop will take place on April 5 at 12 noon and will be hosted as a hybrid session - participants are welcome to attend virtually through a link that will be sent out the morning of the workshop, or face-to-face in Library 376.

The Archives as Place-Based Learning: Remediating the Library
Archives: Gaming with Twine

Digital Humanities Collaborative : Wednesday March 23, 2022

This "show-and-tell" presentation March 30 at 11 a.m. hosted by the Digital Humanities Collaborative discusses the use of library archives as content for narrative-based video game design in multimodal composition and digital humanities coursework. Joshua Hussey will examine the use of Twine as a method to narrativize archival research with instructional learning goals in group work, games composition, and design. He will present case studies from classes at Georgia Tech and University of Georgia that used Twine in conjunction with content from the UGA Special Collections libraries. Using Twine, students embed archival documents in story lines to reflect both original provenance as well as new context, in order to display the richness of cultural artifacts. By crafting game narratives to curate cultural artifacts, data can be distributed in such a way through user discovery that meaningful information is produced.

Joshua Hussey (PhD, University of Georgia) is a Lecturer in the English Department at the University of Georgia where he teaches courses in first-year writing and literature.

LAST DAY to Nominate a student for the Leadership in Moral Courage Bobcat Award and $1,000 Academic Scholarship

University Advancement : Wednesday March 23, 2022

Please take the time to nominate student(s) using this form by today, March 23!

The Leadership in Moral Courage Award was established by two generous donors to recognize and acknowledge students who are driven by empathy and compassion to effect change and make a difference in the lives of others; such change being the direct result of actions taken by the students for moral reasons despite the risk of adverse consequences. Recipients of the Award, through acts of selflessness and courage, have demonstrated a commitment to personal and organizational values at a testing point. All rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors pursuing their undergraduate degree at Georgia College are eligible.

- In addition to the Bobcat Award, awardees will receive a $1,000 academic scholarship for the following school year.

Have you ever wanted to spice up your course or your program? Have you thought, "There must be a better way to engage our students?" Then join us for the 3rd annual High Impact Practices (HIPs) Summer Institute: Incorporating Transformative Experiences into the Classroom! This five-day professional development opportunity sponsored by GC Journeys and hosted by the Center for Teaching and Learning allows faculty to engage with expert guest speakers on incorporating or enhancing elements of essential learning outcomes, high-impact practices, principles of excellence, authentic assessment, and signature student work into current GC courses. After being provided with information about capstone, first-year experiences, internships, leadership, service learning, study abroad, and undergraduate research, a team of transformative experience mentors will guide participants to decide how to incorporate one (1) Transformative Experience as a cornerstone of their course.

Participants will meet entirely online for the institute's first four (4) days on June 20th, 22nd, 27th, and 29th from 3–5 pm. On the institute's final day, the Wrap-Up Party will meet in-person on August 2 from 12:30 - 1:30 pm, lunch provided - campus location to be announced. Please ensure you can attend all five (5) institute sessions.

All course completers are eligible to receive $500 in professional development funds! Please sign up by clicking here by May 15. For more details, please contact the Center for Teaching and Learning at 478-445-2520 or ctl@gcsu.edu.

Many people within the Milledgeville community are impacted by a lack of access to menstrual products. Period hygiene should not be a privilege but a human right. We're asking the GC community to help us fight against period poverty by donating to our Period Product Drive through March 31st! All donations will be repackaged into kits and donated directly back to the community.

Contributions of pads, liners, tampons, wipes, and other individually wrapped period products can be dropped off at the Women's Center and LGBTQ+ Programs in The HUB (Blackbridge Hall), or our donation boxes outside A&S 2-17 or the Psychology Department (1st floor of A&S). Additionally, please feel free to email drive organizer Victoria Massey (victoria.massey@bobcats.gcsu.edu) to arrange for an in-person office pickup if you're unable to make it to a drop box location!

Celebrate National Cleaning Week March 27-April 2, 2022

Join us for National Cleaning Week as we celebrate the importance, value, and positive impact that cleaning has on public health, the environment, and the economy. This week also offers the perfect opportunity to raise public awareness for the value of clean spaces and appreciation for our front-line cleaning professionals.

Maintaining a clean environment helps lower the risk of viruses and other pathogens that cause disease and trigger allergies. Furthermore, a clean space is closely associated with improved moods, decreased stress levels, and enhanced productivity.

Our building services professionals remain key to our institutional mission and pursuit of preeminence. Please mark your calendars and take a few moments to thank your custodial staff for all they do to help deliver a quality educational experience!

Spring 2022 STEM Industry Night

Career Center: Friday March 25, 2022

Join us for the newly re-implemented annual STEM Industry Night on March 30th from 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m. in Donahoo Lounge. Meet and network with recruiting employers looking to recruit science and math students for jobs, internships, and other experiences. In addition to networking with employers, hear from industry professionals, as part of interactive round table discussions, who will provide information about possible career paths, industry trends, and professional advice.

Freshmen and sophomores are strongly encouraged to attend. Even if you’re considering graduate or professional school, this event can help expand your options.

You never have a second chance to make a first impression, so business casual attire is encouraged for this event, particularly for those graduating or seeking full-time jobs and internships. Resumes are also highly encouraged so that you can leave information about yourself with employers. The Career Center is available to help you develop your resume.

Event Agenda:
6:00 – 6:15 p.m. – Check-In & Networking
6:15 – 6:30 p.m. – Welcome & Introduction of Recruiting Employers
6:30 – 7:30 p.m. – Traditional Career Fair Networking
7:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m. - Q & A / Wrap up

Transforming Memory and History with Digital Humanities

Digital Humanities Collaborative : Monday March 28, 2022

This "show-and-tell" presentation April 4 at 1 p.m. hosted by the Digital Humanities Collaborative will be delivered by Andrea Davis about a project she directs at Arkansas State University. "Memory and History: Transforming the Narrative of the Spanish Civil War and Francoist Dictatorship" is a collaborative Digital Humanities project that enhances access to the audiovisual testimonies of the Spanish Civil War Memory Project through the creation of 1) time-coded and searchable Spanish-language transcriptions, 2) English translations, 3) bilingual indexes that capture narrative structure and map natural language to concepts using the project’s dedicated subject thesaurus; and 4) multimodal scholarly entries based on the thesaurus’s hierarchy of terms that link out to the enhanced testimonies. Reflecting on the history of the project, this talk examines how scholars can draw on the Digital Humanities to navigate critical research decisions related to the adoption of tools, establishment of project guidelines, and creation of alternative scholarly communities and forms of communication.

Andrea Davis is Assistant Professor of History and Digital Humanities Director at Arkansas State University, where she researches the memory cultures and urban social movements of 20th-century Spain.

GC hosts 6th Annual Student Conference for European Studies Certificate

Government & Sociology, Department of: Tuesday March 29, 2022

The University System of Georgia (USG) 6th Annual European Studies Certificate Student Conference will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday, April 1, at Georgia College in the old train depot, adjacent to the Centennial Center.

This year’s topic is “The European Union in a Time of Crisis.”

Fifteen students from Georgia College and Valdosta State University will present research on the European Union (EU) and Balkan nations; post-Brexit assessment of the EU; Finland and Ukrainian Refugees; LGBTQ Rights and the EU; the U.S. Federalist Papers and the EU; and more.

GC History Professor William Risch will be the 12:30 p.m. luncheon speaker, covering “The End of Europe As We Know It? Russia, the EU, and the War in Ukraine.” In recent years, the EU has confronted one crisis after another including the Euro and sovereign debt; immigration; Brexit; the threat of authoritarianism in Hungary and Poland; the growing influence of China; the Polish border crisis; and successive waves of the Covid pandemic. Now, Europe is at war.

A student participant of the 2019 conference said, “Getting involved and building connections with professors and fellow students has been the aspect of college that has stuck with me beyond graduation, and I’m incredibly grateful I could participate in the EU Studies conference.”

This conference is made possible with the support of the department of Government and Sociology at Georgia College, the Sam Nunn School of International Affairs at Georgia Tech and the department of Political Science at Valdosta State. The conference is co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union.

MisCast - A Musical, Magical Cabaret!

Theatre & Dance, Department of : Tuesday March 29, 2022

Looking for a little magic in your life? Come to MisMagicast! MisCast 2022 is a night of back-to-back musical theatre numbers with a twist: GCSU students will perform as characters originally written to be a different gender than their own. We’re ready to make our songs funny, heartwarming, and thought-provoking, and we need an audience to help make some magic happen. Join us!

Performances are at the Campus Black Box Theatre this weekend on April 2nd at 7PM and April 3rd at 2PM. Tickets are free, but donations are accepted. We recommend the show for ages 13 and up.

Saladin Scholarships Awarded

Honors College: Tuesday March 29, 2022

Last week was an especially significant one for the John E. Sallstrom Honors College. At the Saladin Scholars Awards Ceremony on Tuesday, March 22, Saladin Scholarships were awarded to Michael Marcinko (Mass Communications), Caroline Cole (History), Isabella Banich (Environmental Sciences), and Isabella Oetting (Exercise Science). Each will be studying abroad, either this summer or next year, in Denmark, England, France, and Belize, respectively. Congratulations!

Special thanks are extended as well to our keynote speaker, Dr. Sylvia Lee of the US EPA, to Dr. Kalina Manoylov (Professor of Biology) for securing Dr. Lee’s participation, and to everyone who contributed to the event. So many colleagues contributed in so many ways. Thank you!

CTL Workshop - Community-based Engaged Learning

Center for Teaching & Learning : Wednesday March 30, 2022

Interested in learning more about community-based engaged learning? Check out our upcoming Lunch & Learn sessions hosted by HIPs Champions! Please join Dr. Stefanie Sevcik for a discussion of the framework for building successful community partnerships. Do you want to brush the dust off of a general education course you have taught countless times to make it feel more impactful? Maybe you want to take your advanced seminar students out of the classroom and into the community? We will walk through the steps involved in taking a course you already teach and incorporating a high-impact service-learning experience for your students. We will also discuss examples of service-learning projects happening in courses across the campus and resources to turn your idea into a reality.

This virtual workshop will take place at 12 noon on April 15. The meeting link will be sent out to registrants on the day of the workshop.

Come to the Margaret Harvin Wilson Writing Award Ceremony today to hear creative written works of talented students

English, Department of: Wednesday March 30, 2022

Escape for a moment while you listen to the written works of our talented students during the Margaret Harvin Wilson Writing Award Ceremony today at 5 p.m. in the Pat Peterson Museum Education Room.

Finalists will read their creative works during the ceremony. You're in for a treat!

This award is named after first-generation college student Margaret Harvin Wilson, ’34, who waited tables in exchange for discounted tuition and a free dormitory at Georgia College. As a senior, her teacher encouraged Wilson to enter a short story contest in the English Department. Winning first prize in 1933 for “Sympathy Speaks” gave her great confidence for her subsequent career as a teacher.

Margaret married Leland Wilson in 1938. They had three successful daughters with careers in law, medicine and higher education, with the latter, Dr. Mary Sue Coleman, retiring upon serving for 12 years as president of the University of Michigan. In January 2010, Mary Sue and her husband Kenneth established the Margaret Harvin Wilson Writing Award in memory of her mother.

The Criminal Justice Program is conducting a Reentry Simulation hosted by Dr. Alesa Liles in conjunction with the Offender Alumni Association and Dr. Stacy Moak from the University of Alabama-Birmingham. This simulation was developed by the Department of Justice to simulate the struggles and challenges faced by individuals who are transitioning from incarceration back into society. Each participant assumes the identity of an ex-offender and receives a packet of materials explaining the reentrant’s criminal background, current living situation, current job situation, and the specific weekly tasks that must be accomplished in order to avoid the risk of being sent back to prison.

The goal of this simulation is for participants to gain an understanding of the significant obstacles faced by men and women attempting to navigate the system upon their release from incarceration and returning home to their communities. Any faculty, staff, students, and community members are invited to participate.

After the simulation, there will be an opportunity to discuss the complexities of the process and the obstacles returning citizens face.

The event will be held in the Museum Education room in the Library on April 21st at 1pm.

Nicholas Brooks, a senior Marketing major from Dacula, GA received the Dr. Doreen Sams Award, in honor of his undergraduate research efforts. Brooks is mentored by Dr. Durongkadej and recently took part in the CFA Institute Research Challenge. This is a worldwide competition between universities in which teams are given a company's stock to research based on their geographic location. Mr. Brooks' team was assigned the Genuine Parts Company, which was founded in Atlanta in 1928 and has grown to become the world's largest automotive aftermarket network. Mr. Brooks' team prepared a research report, which was judged to be one of the top five reports, placing the team into a presentation competition against four universities. This was Georgia College's first year being selected to present and GC was the only university to do so without a Finance major on the team. The GC team finished in third place overall.

Mr. Brooks noted that the competition was a fantastic opportunity to apply what he has learned in his Finance and Marketing courses to real life. "Dr. Durongkadej and Dr. Ling were great resources to go to when our team had questions or problems with our research. I learned through this competition how valuable it is to have a diverse team and how helping others succeed helps you succeed!"

The Dr. Doreen Sams Award comes from a generous gift from faculty to honor the work of Dr. Sams, a recently retired Professor of Marketing who served as one of the founding members of MURACE (Mentored Undergraduate Research and Creative Endeavors). Dr. Sams has served as the MURACE Faculty Coordinator from 2012-2022, the former President of the Georgia Undergraduate Research Consortium, a CUR (Council of Undergraduate Research) board member, an author of The Mentoring Undergraduate Research Handbook, and an editor of Undergraduate Research. Dr. Sams has been a driving force for organizing and advocating for undergraduate research influence undergraduate research institutionally, statewide, and even nationally. She has mentored several undergraduate researchers during her career. Additionally, she has helped organize much of GC’s undergraduate research efforts and has been an integral part of the GC Journeys initiative.

"Why Did Russia Invade Ukraine? Historical Analysis and Possible Outcomes" a lecture presented by Dr. Bill Risch

History & Geography, Department of: Wednesday March 30, 2022

April 4, 2022 12:00 Arts & Sciences Courtyard

What caused Russia to invade Ukraine on February 24, 2022? Was it Vladimir Putin’s personal choice, or were there long-term historical factors behind Russia’s decision to attack? What circumstances in Ukraine did Putin exploit to justify this military operation? What did Putin fail to understand about Ukraine? What have the United States and NATO failed to perceive about Ukraine and the invasion it faces? How might this war end? Join Dr. William Risch, Professor of History, as he addresses these questions, and more you may have, on April 4, 2022, at 12:00 p.m. in the Arts & Sciences Courtyard. Dr. Risch specializes in the history of Russia and Eastern Europe. He lived in Ukraine for four years. His first book, The Ukrainian West: Culture and the Fate of Empire in Soviet Lviv, was published by Harvard University Press in 2011. His second book, One Step from Madness: Power and Disillusionment in Ukraine’s Euromaidan Revolution, is based on his field work in Ukraine in 2013-15, and it deals with the beginning of Russia’s war against Ukraine.
