Hazing Prevention 101 Required for ALL GC Students

Health Promotion, Office of : Friday September 2, 2022

As part of preventative educational efforts, all GC students will be required to complete an online module-Hazing Prevention 101. This is a program designed to discuss what hazing is, why it is wrong, how it can be detrimental to individuals, groups, and schools, and empower students to report Hazing and how to help their campus be a safer and healthier place.

Students can access this program through Unify. Once a student is logged in to Unify, they should see a list of links in the middle of the screen and should be able to select Hazing Prevention 101. The program is 1 hour long and required for ALL students this year.

The program is due by Friday September 23, 2022.

If you have any questions about the program, please email rachel.pope@gcsu.edu

"Begged, Borrowed, (and Stolen)" Recital: Guest Artist Oboist - Christa Garvey and Faculty Member Pianist - Owen Lovell

Music, Department of : Friday September 2, 2022

Thursday, Sept. 8 Georgia College & State University (GCSU) kicks off its 2022-23 musical season at 7:30 p.m. in Max Noah Recital Hall with "Begged, Borrowed (and Stolen): Collaborations for Oboe and Piano." The concert features guest artist and oboist Christa Garvey and GCSU faculty collaborator and pianist Owen Lovell. Pieces include the elegant Maurice Ravel's "Le Tombeau de Couperin" and the soulful "Incantation and Dance" by William Grant Still. A modern twist is added by Dorothy Rudd Moore's quirky "Baroque Suite," as well as more substantial works by Edvard Grieg and Francis Poulenc. This concert will also be livestreamed at www.facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment. A $5 donation is encouraged. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GC Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. For more information, please email music@gcsu.edu or call 478-445-8289.

Call for Proposals: GC Journeys Community-based Engaged Learning Grants

Center for Teaching & Learning : Tuesday September 6, 2022

The Center for Teaching and Learning is pleased to announce the availability of the Community-based Engaged Learning Grant opportunities sponsored by GC Journeys and Academic Affairs. The grant provides from $500 to $1,000. The purpose of this grant is to provide instructors with seed funding to develop and implement a community-based engaged learning project that incorporates theory and practice within the community, local or international, and to enable students to think critically about the issues in the world around them and find ways to address those issues. Incorporating student learning into real-world activities allows students to see the work they are doing and witness the impact of their efforts on the lives they serve. Additionally, it expands the opportunities for students to participate in GC Journeys.

Application Open: October 3, 2022, to October 17, 2022 at 5 p.m. EST

Winners Announced: On or before November 7

For more information and to get started with your application, please visit the CTL Website and let us know if you have any questions at ctl@gcsu.edu.

A New Student Group for Entrepreneurial Competitions is Recruiting!

College of Business & Technology : Tuesday September 6, 2022

The Center for Innovation is looking to sponsor a new student chapter of ENACTUS, a national organization that aims to develop your entrepreneurial skill set.

The first competition interested students can take part in this year is the ENACTUS entrepreneurial exchange, a six week online program that will immerse students in the culture of Morocco as they work on project ideation, implementation, and impact analysis. Winners of the pitch competition at the culmination of this program are eligible for cash prizes of up to $1,250. Additional competitions, many of which will offer students the ability to travel across the nation and compete for larger cash prizes, will be held at least once a year.

Students can register for the entrepreneurial exchange competition here by September 30th, or they may contact Dr. Nicholas Creel, Director of the Center for Innovation, at Nicholas.creel@gcsu.edu for more information.

Information Technology – Admin Rights on computers

Information Technology : Thursday September 8, 2022

In order to comply with security requirements enforced by the University System of Georgia (USG), Georgia College Information Technology has implemented a service called Admin By Request. This service will allow you to request admin access on GCSU owned technology equipment. Whenever administrative rights are required to perform an action on a computer, you will be prompted to fill out a short form and a request will automatically be sent to Serve. Serve will review the request and either approve or provide feedback so you can continue with the task. Please be aware, actions performed during an admin session will be logged. This software is currently available on newly deployed computers. We will begin rolling out this service to existing machines over the coming weeks. If you are an admin on your machine currently, we will reach out by email as this software is deployed.

To learn more about our implementation of Admin By Request, visit the Information Technology Faculty & Staff resources page.

CTL Workshop - KEEP 'EM COMIN': Deepening Engagement through tools & strategies for personalizing content, communication, and providing feedback

Center for Teaching & Learning : Friday September 9, 2022

Library 241

Friday, September 30

2:30 p.m.

Now that you've developed initial relationships with your learners, let us give you some additional ideas on tools and strategies you can use to further develop meaningful learning connections to keep students interested in the course and content. We will provide tools and strategies on course personalization using GeorgiaVIEW/D2L for personalized communication, content, and feedback. Also, we would like to share some of the latest active learning strategies to engage your learners in thought-provoking ways. In this session, we will discuss how Canva can be used as a course collaboration tool that can bring unique and inviting elements to the design of your course in GeorgiaVIEW/D2L. For those who would like hands-on instruction, we invite you to stick around the open lab immediately following the workshop.

CTL Open Lab: Deepening Engagement through GeorgiaVIEW's Personalized Learning Tools

Center for Teaching & Learning : Friday September 9, 2022

Do you want to deepen engagement with your students to keep them excited about your course and content? Are you interested in learning about GeorgiaVIEW/D2L teaching tools that can make personalizing student engagement easier? If so, CTL is hosting an open lab to allow you to work in three (3) focused breakout sessions, covering the how-tos of course personalization using GeorgiaVIEW/D2L tools. In these breakout sessions, you will learn how to personalize feedback using audio and video notes, use release conditions to personalize learning paths, and create personalized announcements and assessments for your learners.

Everyone is invited to drop into Russell Library, 241, during our open lab hours on September 30 from 3:30 to 4:30 pm, immediately following the "KEEP 'EM COMIN' workshop, and the breakout groups will provide hands-on assistance to topics covered in the workshop. We'll have staff on hand to help you by providing step-by-step guidance as you incorporate these teaching tools into your course. Please bring your laptop.

Registration is encouraged. We look forward to seeing you there!

Student Phish Incident

Information Technology : Friday September 9, 2022

Yesterday afternoon, a student had their email account hacked. The hacker sent roughly 10,000 phishing emails using many different URLs and 3 different phishing schemes.

Several hundred students clicked on the URLs. As a result, to protect the students and the campus, we've had to reset the passwords for those who clicked the URLs.

If you have a student who cannot log in, please have them navigate to unify.gcsu.edu, choose My Password, then step through Change Password. They'll be able to get into the systems using their new password after the systems synchronize (possibly up to 45 minutes.)

If the student has any problems, please have them contact the Serve Help Desk, at (478) 445-7378.

Now Available: First Peer Feedback on Teaching (PFoT) Session for Fall 2022

Center for Teaching & Learning : Monday September 12, 2022

The goal of Peer Feedback on Teaching (PFoT) is to provide support to help you improve the quality of learning in your classroom. Deliberate, continuous improvement of one's teaching is one of the great joys of being a professor. Our trained observers enjoy the opportunity to work with you as you develop and continuously improve your teaching skills. This process takes a cross-disciplinary approach, pairing you with one (1) peer observer outside your department who will act as a support to help you discover and explore how you can hone in on what you already do well and improve upon your strengths.

Utilizing a strengths-based method to help you discover and build upon your skills in the classroom makes PFoT a unique approach to teaching quality. For Fall 2022, PFoTs are offered from September 9 through September 23 and again from October 10 through October 28 for both in-person and synchronous online courses. If you are interested in scheduling a PFoT, please complete this form or contact the Center for Teaching and Learning at (478) 445-2520 or ctl@gcsu.edu. Women's Leadership Faculty Fellows Program

Provost & Academic Affairs, Office of the : Monday September 12, 2022

Georgia College established the Women's Leadership Faculty Fellows Program in 2019 to provide a selected group of current faculty and faculty serving in administrative positions with dedicated time to develop and hone leadership skills and gain a deeper understanding of the challenges and opportunities confronting higher education. The program will specifically focus on issues women face in academic administration.

This year's program begins in November 2022 and runs through May 2023. Fellows will attend monthly virtual and/or face-to-face meetings where they will learn from senior administrators on campus as well as visiting speakers from academia, business, and other fields. The program also features a concluding retreat for more in-depth learning.

Participants will be GC faculty who have been awarded tenure and hold the rank of associate or full professor who represent all colleges and the library and/or academic administrators with faculty status. A selection committee will review the submissions and make recommendations to the Provost.

Applicants should submit materials to Rhonda Griffin, Administrative Assistant for the Office of the Provost (rhonda.griffin@gcsu.edu) by Friday, September 30, 2022. The application materials should include:

- (a) A letter, not to exceed two pages, presenting evidence of interest in academic leadership, experience in academic governance or administration to date, and what the nominee hopes to accomplish with the support of the program;
- (b) Two letters of recommendation; one of which needs to be from an immediate supervisor. Each recommendation letter is limited to one page in length;
- (c) A current C.V. or résumé.

The Women's Leadership Faculty Fellows Program is administered by the Office of the Provost. More information about the program can be found at the website: <https://www.gcsu.edu/provost/womens-leadership-faculty-fellows-program>

Questions about the program may be directed to Dr. Holley Roberts, holley.roberts@gcsu.edu, Dr. Mandy Jarriel, mandy.jarriel@gcsu.edu, or Dr. Liz Speelman, liz.speelman@gcsu.edu.

THURSDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES! DOUBLE INDEMNITY

English, Department of : Monday September 12, 2022

The Georgia College English Department Film Series presents:

THURSDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES!

When: Thursday, September 15, 2022

Where: Arts & Sciences Room 370

Time: 7 p.m.

Coming Soon:

DOUBLE INDEMNITY

Double Indemnity is a 1944 American crime film noir directed by Billy Wilder, co-written by Wilder and Raymond Chandler, and produced by Buddy DeSylva and Joseph Sistrom. The screenplay was based on James M. Cain's 1943 novel of the same title, which appeared as an eight-part serial for Liberty magazine in February 1936.

In this classic film noir, insurance salesman Walter Neff (Fred MacMurray) gets roped into a murderous scheme when he falls for the sensual Phyllis Dietrichson (Barbara Stanwyck), who is intent on killing her husband (Tom Powers) and living off the fraudulent accidental death claim. Prompted by the late Mr. Dietrichson's daughter, Lola (Jean Heather), insurance investigator Barton Keyes (Edward G. Robinson) looks into the case, and gradually begins to uncover the sinister truth.

See you at the movies!

Popcorn and beverages provided!

Georgia Undergraduate Research Conference Updates and Call for Submissions

Mentored Undergraduate Research and Creative Endeavors (MURACE) : Monday September 12, 2022

Georgia College is part of a statewide consortium of institutions that support undergraduate research and creative endeavors across all disciplines: the Georgia Undergraduate Research Consortium. We want to make sure we have a strong showing of our excellent undergraduate research and creative projects. So, MURACE will cover registration fees for all GCSU students who attend the conference. Attendees will also be automatically accepted into GCSU Research Day on March 29th, 2023.

Please encourage your undergraduates to submit their research or creative work to the Georgia Undergraduate Research Conference (GURC). All disciplines and creative work welcome!

* The abstract submission date has been extended to September 23rd

* GURC is now offering a Webinar Option:

Because gas prices continue to stay high and we have so many online students wishing to participate, organizers have added a webinar to the conference. The webinar option will be Nov. 11 and will have a $20.00 registration fee, which will include door prizes student/faculty interaction, and speaker.

* GURC will still offer a traditional, face-to-face option: Students who select the face-to-face option will have access to graduate school booths from all over Georgia, speaker, door prizes, and all conference events. Registration will be $50.00, which includes Friday night reception, Saturday breakfast and lunch.

* Both Webinar and Face-to-Face students will be eligible for Best in Category Awards. Completed projects are due to VSU website by October 10th.

Oral, Poster, Performance, Visual, and Full Panel Presentation options available.

All disciplines invited!

Georgia College Leadership Programs to host distinguished diplomat, scholar

Leadership Programs : Tuesday September 13, 2022

Leo Michel, international security expert, to address "Security, NATO, and Defense"

On Wednesday, September 21st, at 11 a.m., Georgia College Leadership Programs will host a virtual seminar with Leo Michel on "Security, NATO, and Defense."

Leo Michel is currently senior fellow at the Atlantic Council's Scowcroft Center for Strategy and Security. He previously served as director for NATO Policy in the Office of the Secretary of Defense, in the U.S. Department of Defense. Additional appointments in the Pentagon included service as director for non-nuclear arms control, deputy U.S. representative to the U.S.-Russia Bilateral Consultative Commission, and deputy director for verification policy.

"Leo Michel is one of the country's leading experts on international security and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and we are so pleased to welcome him to Georgia College" says Dr. Harold Mock, one of the event organizers. "In this time of renewed great-power competition, we are fortunate indeed to hear the insights of such an esteemed scholar-practitioner."

Before joining the Defense Department, Michel served in the Directorate for Intelligence in the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, as a legislative aide on national security for a Member of Congress, and as a reporter for French media. He served as an officer in the U.S. Navy from 1969 to 1972.

Michel holds a Master of Arts degree from the Johns Hopkins School for Advanced International Studies and a Bachelor of Arts degree from Princeton University.

The non-partisan event is sponsored by Georgia College's Leadership Programs, in collaboration with the CEPA Foundation, headquartered in France.

"At a liberal arts institution, we teach our students in the classic tradition of leadership for the public good," says Mock. "That involves preparing students for thoughtful and engaged citizenship and active dialogue with thought-leaders in public life."

The event is free and open to the public. The discussion will be conducted in English. To register and join the discussion, please visit the event webpage.

Georgia College's Office of Leadership Programs provides teaching, research, and public service related to leadership, citizenship, democracy, and public affairs. With the support of a distinguished faculty and practitioners, we educate the next generation of Georgia's leaders for the public good. Our programs bring together scholars and students, as well as business leaders, non-profit executives, journalists, and public officials, and offer a trusted forum on citizen-leadership and pressing issues of the day.

Georgia College to host panel on Power of the Public Square

Leadership Programs : Thursday September 15, 2022

On Tuesday, September 20th, at 5 p.m., Georgia College Leadership Programs will host a panel of distinguished contributors for a discussion on "The Power of the Public Square." The event will mark the first in the Inspire! Forum on Leadership series for the 2022-23 academic year.

Panelists include Dr. Kelley Ditzel, assistant professor of public administration, and Dr. Jan Hoffmann, professor of rhetoric, both of Georgia College; and Vivian Cassaniti, Newman Civic Fellow.

The nonpartisan event will be hosted by Georgia College's Office of Leadership Programs, in collaboration with the American Democracy Project and the Constitution Week committee.

Panelists will explore the current state of public dialogue and civil discourse in the United States and in Georgia and offer insights on the symbiosis between the public debate and democracy.

Dr. Harold Mock will moderate the discussion. Mock is director of leadership programs and assistant professor of history.

The event will feature interactive exchange with Georgia College students. "As a liberal arts institution, we teach our students in the classic tradition of leadership for the public good," says Mock. "That involves preparing students for thoughtful and engaged citizenship and active dialogue with thought-leaders in public life."

The event is free and open to the public and will be held in the Magnolia Ballroom in Milledgeville. To join the discussion online, visit gcsu.edu/inspire.

The Inspire! Forum on Leadership is Georgia College's presentation-discussion series on leadership for the public good. Presenters are distinguished executives in private enterprise or hold leadership roles in the public sector and share the university's commitment to leadership for the public good, whether in business, the non-profit sector, or public affairs.

Georgia College's Office of Leadership Programs provides teaching, research, and public service related to leadership, citizenship, democracy, and public affairs. With the support of a distinguished faculty and practitioners, we educate the next generation of Georgia's leaders for the public good. Our programs bring together scholars and students, as well as business leaders, non-profit executives, journalists, and public officials, and offer a trusted forum on citizen-leadership and pressing issues of the day.

THURSDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES! DOUBLE INDEMNITY

English, Department of : Thursday September 15, 2022

The Georgia College English Department Film Series presents:

THURSDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES!

When: Thursday, September 15, 2022

Where: Arts & Sciences Room 370

Time: 7 p.m.

Coming Soon:

DOUBLE INDEMNITY

Double Indemnity is a 1944 American crime film noir directed by Billy Wilder, co-written by Wilder and Raymond Chandler, and produced by Buddy DeSylva and Joseph Sistrom. The screenplay was based on James M. Cain's 1943 novel of the same title, which appeared as an eight-part serial for Liberty magazine in February 1936.

In this classic film noir, insurance salesman Walter Neff (Fred MacMurray) gets roped into a murderous scheme when he falls for the sensual Phyllis Dietrichson (Barbara Stanwyck), who is intent on killing her husband (Tom Powers) and living off the fraudulent accidental death claim. Prompted by the late Mr. Dietrichson's daughter, Lola (Jean Heather), insurance investigator Barton Keyes (Edward G. Robinson) looks into the case, and gradually begins to uncover the sinister truth.

See you at the movies!

Popcorn and beverages provided!

Georgia College holds 30th workshop for new professionals in student affairs

University Housing : Thursday September 15, 2022

Georgia College & State University (GCSU) will host its 30th annual New Professionals Workshop Friday, Sept. 23, at the Student Activities Center. Named after former housing director and retired associate vice president for Student Affairs, Dr. Paul K. Jahr, the workshop is a rite of passage for new employees in housing and student affairs to network and learn the trade.

Up to 140 new professionals from public and private Georgia universities are expected to attend. This is the first workshop since COVID-19. Many attendees will have been in their jobs only a few months to a few years—having just graduated from college or gotten their master's in Student Affairs.

Since its start in 1990, the workshop has prepared about 5,000 student affairs professionals to better handle their jobs.

"That would be 5,000 people who are new to their job for the first time and are being introduced to the student affairs profession," said Larry Christenson, executive director of University Housing for Georgia College. "The primary purpose is networking. We want people to come and meet, talk to people from other campuses and compare notes, pick up a few skills and find support. Basically, the workshop is to show they're not alone."

In 2012, the New Professionals Workshop was renamed the Dr. Paul K. Jahr New Professionals Workshop. That year, Jahr was presented with a commemorative coffee mug—due to his love and constant need for the drink—and a logo was created, complete with a brown coffee ring.

Jahr started the workshop decades ago when he saw a need for young professionals to form support systems. The job, especially in housing, can be stressful which contributes to high turnover rates. Being able to talk to people in similar work situations can be critical for career longevity.

Even today, young professionals look up to and admire Georgia's 'grandfather' of student affairs. Jahr was director of University Housing at Georgia College 17 years, then associate vice president of Student Affairs, before retiring in 2013. He's written housing articles and won many regional and national awards.

Christenson hopes to top that record—with 16 years so far in housing at Georgia College.

"I give Larry a lot of credit for continuing this workshop every year," Jahr said. "It started because there was a perceived need. This is an opportunity for people to get together early in the year. Historically, we've always called it a workshop because the intent is interaction."

The day begins with a welcome by Christenson; university President Cathy Cox; and the president of Georgia Housing Officers, Dr. Christian Wells. Speakers include Jahr; vice chancellor of the University System of Georgia (USG) Dr. Stuart Rayfield; GCSU Area Coordinator Dr. Matt Brigner; Mary Ashley McCollough from the USG Office of Legal Affairs; chief diversity officer and director of GCSU's Women's Center, Dr. Jennifer Graham; director of the GC Give Center, Ashley Copley; and executive director of Student Engagement and director of Parent and Family Programs at GCSU, Emily Jarvis.

In breakout sessions, attendees will learn about freedom of expression, how diversity impacts their jobs and how to interact with parents, as well as handling pressure and preventing burnout.

You can learn more about the workshop and register to attend at the University Housing website.

Regents Approve 2023 USG Healthcare Plan Premiums

Human Resources, Office of : Friday September 16, 2022

The Board of Regents has approved the 2023 University System of Georgia (USG) healthcare plans and premiums for active employees and pre-65 retirees.

GOOD NEWS! There will be no employee premium increases for 2023.*

The full announcement is attached as a .pdf in this announcement, but a summary of changes for active employees is included below:

- Tobacco use and working spouse surcharges will increase from $100 to $150.
 - There will be one surcharge for all dependent children 18 and older who use tobacco.
 - You must complete the certification of your tobacco use and working spouse (if applicable) each year during Open Enrollment. If you take no action during Open Enrollment, you will default to the surcharge.
 - Check your Open Enrollment confirmation statement to make sure you completed the certification. Corrections can be made through the end of the year through OneUSG Connect – Benefits at 844-587-4236.
 - The Tobacco Cessation option will continue to be available during Open Enrollment for employees/dependents who are tobacco users to provide an opportunity to take a Tobacco Cessation program, complete the program and have the tobacco surcharge removed. Information about Tobacco Cessation options is available on the USG Wellbeing website under Tobacco and Smoke-Free.
 - The Working Spouse Surcharge will apply to employees who cover their working spouse under the USG plan when the spouse has an offer of coverage from their own employer.
 - You may change/update your surcharge status at any time during the year through OneUSG Connect – Benefits. The change will be effective at the first of the next month.
- Earn up to $200 Well-being Credit for 2023 – New this year – a points-based system with additional earning activities! The new program year begins October 1, 2022. To register, visit ourwellbeing.usg.edu.
- Diabetes Management, Prevention and Weight Management programs continue at no cost.
 - Programs provided for healthcare enrolled members who meet program criteria – information is available on the well-being website.
- Use Accolade for your healthcare needs - customized support and recommendations for employees enrolled in the Anthem Blue Cross Blue Shield of GA plans
- Impacted Wisdom Teeth coverage change - removing coverage from all healthcare plans and adding coverage to the USG dental plan
- Diagnostic Breast Exams coverage at 100% added to all healthcare plans

A summary of the approved plan design changes and premiums are available on the USG benefits website.

2023 Open Enrollment will be October 24 - November 4, 2022. Active employees will begin receiving Open Enrollment information in late September by mail. Complete your 2023 enrollment elections and certifications through OneUSG Connect – Benefits no later than November 4, 2022.

Join the National Constitution Day Conversation via Zoom Today from 2-3 pm, hosted by the American Democracy Project, open to all

American Democracy Project : Friday September 16, 2022

The National American Democracy Project, assisted by our GCSU campus coordinator, will host a National Constitution Day Conversation today from 2-3 p.m. ET. Free and open to all. Designed to reach across differences, this hour-long event, hosted by AASCU's American Democracy Project and facilitated by faculty and students at campuses all over the U.S., including GCSU, creates a space for open discussion of the U.S. Constitution. This national, facilitated dialogue is based on the fundamental value of the pursuit of knowledge for the public good. We will provide access to information about the U.S. Constitution, but you need not be an expert to enjoy this event and to share in the lively conversation. Open to all higher education students, faculty, and staff. Bring your classes and student organizations, and join us for this national dialogue. Register Now: <https://www.aascu.org/Meetings/National-Constitution-Day-Conversation/>.

Student Technology Fee Innovation Grants – Fall 2022 | Application Deadline: October 7

Information Technology : Monday September 19, 2022

Do you have an innovative technology research project in mind? Do you need funding? A portion of the Student Technology Fee has been reserved to fund your innovative research projects.

To support the initiatives of the University, the Provost, CIO and Student Technology Fee Advisory Committee (STFAC) updated the grant guidelines to support research and capitalize on the impact of the grant. STF grants should support technology-based research opportunities that show student impact. Each grant must also include a plan to disseminate the research results so others can benefit from this innovative work.

The grant is not designed to provide ongoing funding and must be used within the fiscal year budget guidelines. The grant is not designed to fund cameras, iPads or computers. STF provides a bulk quantity of cameras, iPads and computers for checkout through Russell Library.

All grant proposals must have the approval and quote(s) from Information Technology. Sonny McKenzie, the director of Technology Support Services, will assist you with pricing and help to ensure your project can be implemented. Please send your request to sonny.mckenzie@gcsu.edu with STF Grant noted. Once you have a well-researched plan with a budget, please complete the Student Technology Fee Grant Request Form.

After you complete your submission, a confirmation email will be sent. Please don't hesitate to contact us with your concerns and suggestions.

The deadline for application submission is October 7, so start planning! The STFAC will provide written notification of fund disbursement by October 28. If you have any questions, please contact the committee at stf@gcsu.edu.

SRIS: Verify Your Courses by October 7

Center for Teaching & Learning : Monday September 19, 2022

Did you know that not all of your courses are automatically included in the student end-of-semester survey? Well, it's true. If you want to ensure your courses are included in the Student Rating of Instruction Survey (SRIS), where you get student feedback on your courses collected at the end of each semester, you should verify that your courses are included by October 7. Most departments ask admins to mark courses for the survey, but you can also follow up with your department chair to verify that your courses are included.

Please contact the Center for Teaching and Learning if you have additional questions or want more details.

Opening Soon: Small-Group Instructional Diagnosis (SGID) Requests

Center for Teaching & Learning : Monday September 19, 2022

The SGID's goal is to provide faculty with important feedback that helps them adjust their teaching and improve student learning outcomes. It also offers faculty a way to reflect on and documents critical teaching behaviors. This process, vetted in research, supports the continuous quality improvement of the teaching and learning process and shows our continued commitment to creating innovative learning environments, high-impact pedagogies, along with meaningful student-faculty interaction at Georgia College. After completion, the requestor will receive a letter from the Center for Teaching and Learning that certifies participation; however, the results are entirely confidential. For Fall 2022, the SGID opens September 26 with a deadline to request a diagnostic by September 30 and subsequently closes on October 7. Piano Studio Recital: "Duets"

Music, Department of : Monday September 19, 2022

Sunday, Sept. 25 Join us for the "GC Piano Studio Recital—Duets," featuring students of the piano studio of Dr. Owen Lovell, at 3 p.m. in Magnolia Ballroom at the Student Activities Center. This recital is an annual tradition at the sixth week of classes when students and alumni can showcase their talents.

This year's recital will be all duets played on a restored 1889 "Burrell" Steinway Model A grand piano. Four-hand duets require a special physical and musical technique to execute. Partners must work together to ensure a successful performance, Lovell said. The program promises a varied array of music—including traditional pieces by German composer Ludwig van Beethoven, Czech composer Antonín Leopold Dvorak, Norwegian composer Edvard Grieg and French composer Maurice Ravel. The recital will conclude with a faculty performance of Austrian composer Franz Schubert's iconic "Fantasy in F minor."

This concert will also be livestreamed at www.facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment. A $5 donation is encouraged. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GC Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. For more information, please email music@gcsu.edu or call 478-445-8289.

Open Enrollment: October 24-November 4

Human Resources, Office of : Monday September 19, 2022

Mark your calendars! Open Enrollment will take place October 24 - November 4, 2022.

Open Enrollment is the designated time of year when employees can review their existing benefit elections and opt to make changes for the following calendar year. Additional information will be forthcoming, but please make note of these critical dates for your 2023 benefit coverage.

After your initial benefit elections, you can only change your benefit elections during each Open Enrollment period unless you experience a qualifying life event, as defined by IRS Section 125 guidelines. The most common life events are listed below:

- Birth and adoption of a child (including stepchildren and legally placed foster children)
- Death of a covered dependent
- Marriage or divorce
- Change in employment status that impacts benefits eligibility (for covered employee and eligible dependents)

If you have a qualifying life event (e.g., marriage, birth of a child, divorce), any eligible benefit updates must be completed within 30 days of the life event. You must also provide documentation within 30 days to support the proof of the status change and/or applicable dependent status.

In most cases, your coverage will begin the first calendar day of the month following the qualifying life event, unless your qualifying event occurs on the first calendar day of the month or if your event is birth/adoption. In these two instances, your coverage will be effective the date of the event, except for spending accounts and critical illness.

Fall 2022 Graduate Research Grants

The Graduate School : Monday September 19, 2022

The Graduate School is now accepting applications for the fall 2022 cycle of the Graduate Research Travel Grants program. Georgia College graduate students are encouraged to apply for funding to support registration costs and travel expenses associated with the presentation of their own original scholarship at professional academic conferences.

Graduate Research Grants will be made in the following category:

Category 1: Grants will be awarded that support student presentations of original scholarship or research conducted with a faculty mentor at professional academic conferences (virtual, in-personal, international, national, regional and state level) in the student's discipline. Grants will also cover costs of research in the student's discipline. There is a maximum of $400 per grant for conference fees. Incomplete applications will not be considered. The deadline to apply is October 15, 2022.

Students seeking funds to support attendance at academic conferences in their field of study should apply through the SGA student travel fund.

For more information and the application, please visit the Graduate Opportunities web page.

Call for Spring 2023 Supplemental Instruction/PASS Academic Support

The Learning Center : Tuesday September 20, 2022

The Learning Center is now accepting requests for Supplemental Instruction support for spring semester 2023. Individual faculty members or departments may request this direct academic support service for the students enrolled in their course(s). The Learning Center will support a number of student SI Leader positions for Spring 2023 using the peer-led Supplemental Instruction model:

Supplemental Instruction Leaders (SIs) are undergraduate students assigned to a section(s) of particular, often introductory, courses. A primary goal of the SI program is to increase enrolled students' successful completion of historically difficult classes. SIs attend all class meetings, take notes, coordinate with faculty as needed, and serve as models to those students currently enrolled in the section. The SIs lead regular, peer-facilitated study sessions, outside of class time, to discuss course concepts, review or practice material, and help strengthen students' study skills. SI Leaders host peer collaborative learning experiences which also promote skills. SIs provide peer collaborative learning experiences which also promote involvement and inclusion into our culture of learning.

As undergraduates, Supplemental Instruction Leaders are not responsible for grading course work, preparing exams, teaching new material, or assigning grades. These responsibilities belong only to the faculty or graduate assistants who are hired by the University to teach the course and who are listed as the instructor of record.

You can find additional details about the criteria we use for the SI Partner Courses attached as well as the below link overview document titled 'What is Supplemental Instruction'. link: <https://www.gcsu.edu/sites/files/page-assets/node-2216/attachments/whatissi.pdf>

It's time now to plan for SIs for the upcoming spring semester. If you would like to request SI/PASS support for sections in your department or have your faculty members make a direct request, please submit requests via the following online Qualtrics form by COB, Friday September 23rd. We realize this is a rapid turn-around but would like the additional time for recruiting an excellent pool of student candidates.

Request SI/QUALTRICS link here: https://gcsu.co1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_9mm6zT72e0QVGvk

All academic disciplines are eligible to apply for SI Leader positions; the Learning Center will continue to hire, train, and supervise the SI Leaders as well as survey faculty partners and the participants at the end of the semester. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me. Allocation decisions will be announced to recipient departments on or about September 25th, allowing time for us to recruit, collaborate, and identify candidates for the best matches for our SI Leaders. We will partner with you in identifying SI Leaders this month and until mid-October; students selected as SI Leaders can utilize Priority Registration to ensure their availability to audit your course section so the sooner we work on this, the better!

Want to Increase Your Students' Reading? - Try Perusall! with Cynthia Alby

Center for Teaching & Learning : Tuesday September 20, 2022

What if you had an app that would significantly increase the quantity and quality of the reading your students were doing for class, made that reading more interesting and interactive for students, provided you with useful insights into how students were engaging, supported readers in becoming more skilled at annotation, and helped you pinpoint what you might need to focus on in class? Perusall does all that. It is the technology that has had the most significant impact on the quality of learning in Dr. Alby's courses in the past several years, and quite frankly, she enjoys this app. It was created by faculty for faculty, and it can be used for free. In this session you will become familiar with what this app can do by interacting with it, and Dr. Alby will support you in considering the best ways to make it do what you would like it to do. By the end of the hour, you will be prepared to use the app with students the following week.

The same workshop will be offered at 12 noon and 3 pm on September 30. Feel free to bring lunch or a snack. We hope you can come in person to 376 Russell Library, but if you need to attend virtually, please contact the Center for Teaching and Learning at ctl@gcsu.edu to request the meeting link.

Benefits & Well-being Fair: October 6, 2022

Human Resources, Office of : Tuesday September 20, 2022

The Benefits Fair is BACK! We will be hosting this in-person event on October 6, 2022 in the Magnolia Ballroom/Student Activities Center from 9:00 AM-3:00 PM (all vendors will take lunch from 12:00-1:00 PM and will not be available to assist employees during this hour). Many of our benefit and retirement vendors will be present and committed to speaking directly to YOU on this day. They will bring materials specific to their area of expertise, and they may even have some goodies for you to leave with, so please come prepared with your questions! As usual, we have partnered with our designated providers to offer biometric screenings and flu shots this day as well (appointments are limited); info for signing up has been shared via FrontPage previously, so please use the search function to find those details!

This year, we are also adding new vendors and will be hosting a Well-being Fair simultaneously. Some of our benefit vendors will serve double duty for Benefits and Well-being, but we will also be inviting some new, local vendors who will be present to provide information on the ways their products and/or services can help you accomplish your well-being goals.

Mark your calendars for October 6th from 9:00 AM-3:00 PM – this Benefit & Well-being Fair in Magnolia Ballroom/Student Activities Center will be your one-stop shop for all things Benefits and Well-being. We can't wait to see you at this year's Fair!

Participate in the Imagine 2030 University Strategic Plan

Provost & Academic Affairs, Office of the : Wednesday September 21, 2022

Dear Campus Community:

We are pleased to share several updates from the Strategic Planning Steering Committee and its subcommittees.

Through this strategic planning process, we are encouraging the campus community and our many internal and external stakeholders to share visions and dreams for the future of Georgia College & State University. These visionary ideas and recommendations will inform us as we collectively develop the next strategic plan. This year's planning process, Imagine 2030, aims to identify all the ways we can boldly move toward the future.

In order for you to engage and remain informed about the progress of the strategic planning process, we invite you to explore the Imagine 2030 website. There you will find President Cathy Cox's charge and specific ways to engage, including upcoming focus group sessions that will be held in late September.

MAKE YOUR VOICE HEARD and sign up for a focus group!

Members of the committee are visiting aspirational universities to better understand how some of the nation's best institutions of higher education provide an outstanding liberal arts education. These insights along with information from focus groups, survey responses, student feedback, Presidential Listening Sessions, and a variety of reports (Academic Innovation Task Force, Graduate Education Task Force, Quality Enhancement Plan, etc.) will provide the foundation for the formation of our guiding pillars.

We are so excited to engage all stakeholders in this critical process so that we can propel the university into the future.

Sign up now for a focus group!

Warm Regards,

Strategic Planning Steering Committee

Information Security Awareness training - Fall 2022

Information Technology : Thursday September 22, 2022

Every GCSU employee is required by the State of Georgia and the University System of Georgia to complete an Information Security Awareness training once per semester. Research shows information security awareness training is the single most effective approach organizations can implement to prevent data breaches or becoming victimized by ransomware.

Starting on Monday, September 26th, everyone will receive an email that provides instructions. Please complete the training, which should take no more than 15-30 minutes, by Friday, October 21st. Student employees are also required to take this training, so we ask that supervisors work with these individuals to ensure all employees complete the course.

If you have any questions regarding the training, please contact the Information Security Officer at iso@gcsu.edu.

Forensics Night: Who Kidnapped Thunder?

Chemistry, Physics, & Astronomy, Department of : Thursday September 22, 2022

UPDATE: Thunder is safe, and his kidnappers have been apprehended.

Read more about the Forensics Night event in this Front Page news story.

In celebration of National Forensics Science Week, the Georgia College & State University (GCSU) Science Education Center and forensic chemistry program invites campus and community to help solve the crime of the semester: “Who Kidnapped Thunder?”

Become a forensic crime scene detective and use scientific evidence at five lab stations to crack this ‘whodunnit’ case— involving the university’s beloved Bobcat mascot, Thunder. Come see how the experts do it in real life! From 5 to 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 28, in Herty Hall.

“Everybody loves crime scene shows on TV, and we wanted to bring it to life for our campus and community,” said Dr. Catrena Lisse, chemistry professor and director of the Science Education Center.

Only one suspect—a mascot from another university—will remain at the end. Who?

Other mascots are jealous of the Bobcat, because they don’t want him to win another “Best Mascot” national award. One of six students, pretending to be assistants for these rascally mascots, will be an accomplice to the crime, driving the get-away car.

Participants will begin the event by watching a news video introducing them to the background story and main elements of the crime. Serving as crime-scene investigators, they’ll each be photographed and receive a fingerprint ID card. Then, they’ll move through five lab stations at Herty Hall, performing a series of forensics experiments to narrow suspects.

Several pieces of trace evidence left at the scene need to be analyzed: hair and fibers from other mascots, blood spots (or is it ketchup stain?), tire marks from the get-away car and multiple finger, paw and claw prints.

Forensic detective wannabes will be given a QR code at the end to determine if their forensic analysis is correct. The code accesses a video showing Thunder’s rescue and the suspect’s arrest.

This whimsical event is a way to celebrate National Forensics Science Week—but also introduce the community to GCSU’s popular new forensic chemistry program, which started in 2021. The Science Education Center is sponsoring the event in conjunction with GCSU Public Safety, Athletics and Student Government Association (SGA), which created content for the news videos.

Eight STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) majors volunteered to help conduct experiments. Three students—who are taking GCSU’s Trace Evidence and Materials Analysis class with Chemistry Professor Dr. Peter Rosado-Flores—helped design crime scene evidence and experiments. They also recorded background videos with Chemistry Professor Dr. John Trombley.

“Studying and learning about forensics can provide you with an opportunity where no two days are the same,” Lisse said. “One day you may be conducting complex laboratory tests and another you may be supporting victims and improving public safety.”

“No matter what the daily task may be—one thing is for sure,” she said. “In the field of forensics, you must use your problem-solving skills each time to uncover the truth.”

Senior chemistry major Liam Newsome of Gibson, Georgia, is doing a concentration in forensics chemistry. Forensics isn’t just for fun, he said. It plays an important role in keeping communities safe and finding justice for crime victims.

Senior Kaitley Congdon of Gainesville is majoring in criminal justice with a forensic chemistry certification. She’s excited for people to learn more about forensic science and solve cases like on TV.

“I believe it will be a great event for all ages,” Congdon said, “to be able to step into a role they haven’t been able to do before.”

This event is free, open to the public and appropriate for all ages.

Faculty receives $426,025 grant for prostate cancer research

Health & Human Performance, School of : Friday September 23, 2022

Dr. Ernie Kaninjing, assistant professor of public health, has received a $426,025 grant from the National Institute of Health (NIH) to research prostate cancer in African men.

The NIH is the nation's medical research agency. And the gold standard of grant agencies for public health professionals, according to Sheri Noviello, dean of College of Health Sciences (COHS).

"There are three known risk factors for prostate cancer: aging, prior family or hereditary factors and African ancestry," Kaninjing said. "My main motivation, at the minimum, is to reduce the disparities—the differences—if not end them, for this population."

"I'm working with populations that are underserved," he said, "because that's where I believe we can make the greatest impact—and ultimately improve the health of the overall U.S. population."

His research will be completed in three phases: interviews to understand African immigrant acculturation, or assimilation, designing a survey to determine level of acculturation, and then deploying that survey to collect and analyze real data.

"By the end we want to have a good sense of the factors that are driving these differences in health outcomes," Kaninjing said. "So, in subsequent research, we can then tailor interventions that are more likely to succeed in addressing these disparities."

Eventually, the researchers will include about 12 undergraduate students, two graduate assistants and a collaboration between the School of Health and Human Performance, Department of Mathematics and Department of Psychology.

The grant money will be used to fund travel for conducting interviews across Georgia, in Florida and Minnesota. It will also cover transcription and analysis, survey deployment to at least 100 people and dissemination of findings to other researchers.

"This research is not for the sake of research, we have to spread the word to other researchers and help drive the field forward," Kaninjing said. "We're really excited to lay this foundation and show that Georgia College is a place where research is being done."

The Provost's Visiting Scholars Program

Provost & Academic Affairs, Office of the : Friday September 23, 2022

The Office of the Provost is sponsoring the Provost's Visiting Scholars Program. The program, which will support up to three Visiting Scholars for the Spring 2023, is intended to enrich the learning experiences of faculty and students by bringing in outside expertise into the department. The expectation is that domestic scholars will come for a week-long visit (Sunday to Friday) and engage in the department (whether through lecturers, teaching specific classes, meeting with students, etc.). While not required, the Honors College would be happy to host scholars as part of its co-curricular lunch and dinner seminar series.

For more information, please visit this website. If you have any questions, please reach out to Jordan Cofer. Applications are due on Friday, October 14th.

Now Open for Small-Group Instructional Diagnosis (SGID) Requests

Center for Teaching & Learning : Monday September 26, 2022

The SGID's goal is to provide faculty with important feedback that helps them adjust their teaching and improve student learning outcomes. It also offers faculty a way to reflect on and documents critical teaching behaviors. This process, vetted in research, supports the continuous quality improvement of the teaching and learning process and shows our continued commitment to creating innovative learning environments, high-impact pedagogies, along with meaningful student-faculty interaction at Georgia College. After completion, the requestor will receive a letter from the Center for Teaching and Learning that certifies participation; however, the results are entirely confidential. For Fall 2022, the SGID opens September 26 with a deadline to request a diagnostic by September 30 and subsequently closes on October 7. If you are interested in scheduling an SGID, please contact the Center for Teaching and Learning at 478-445-2520 or ctl@gcsu.edu.

Dinner with 12 Strangers Returns

Inclusive Excellence, Office of : Monday September 26, 2022

The Office of Inclusive Excellence is pleased to announce the return of “Dinner With 12 Strangers”, a “building community” event at Georgia College. During the fall semester, there will be two Dinners that will include a delicious meal, fun icebreakers, personal introductions, and an engaging conversation about how we can make Georgia College a more welcoming community for all. Twelve selected individuals from all areas of campus will be invited to be one of the twelve strangers who meet for dinner. The Dinners will be hosted from 5:30 pm to 7:00 pm on two nights during the fall semester: October 20th (Atkinson Porch), and November 17th (Atkinson Porch).

Our spring 2022 semester dinners were a great success! If you are interested in being considered as a guest at either dinner, please follow this link to complete a signup form. Dinner guests will be selected by the Office of Inclusive Excellence and notified at least a week before the dinner is scheduled. Thank you for participating in this exciting new community-building program.

The History Club of Georgia College & State University is thrilled to be back on campus for Fall 2022!

The History Club is a diverse and inclusive environment in which all who are interested in the pursuit of historical knowledge through historical events and research are welcome.

History Club is not restricted to history majors or minors, especially because you don't even have to be a major to enjoy history! As a club, we do our best to foster an environment that encourages friendship, knowledge, and laughter in everything that we do.

Biweekly meetings are hosted by the History Club on Tuesdays at 6:30pm in A&S room 246. Several things are in store this year in the History Club– including the return of the iconic Cemetery Tours at Memory Hill.

Request for Proposals: Affordable Materials Grants Round 22

Ina Dillard Russell Library : Tuesday September 27, 2022

Affordable Learning Georgia, an initiative of the University System of Georgia focused on providing affordable course materials, recently released a Request for Proposals for Affordable Materials Grants. Applications are due by October 31, 2022. Two types of grants are available:

Transformation Grants support individual instructors, teams of instructors, and entire departments, along with supporting professional staff, in replacing their existing commercial textbooks and materials in a specific course with no- or low-cost-to-students learning materials. The maximum award for Transformation Grants is $30,000.

Continuous Improvement Grants support projects that increase the sustainability of open educational resources through substantial revisions and the creation of new materials. The maximum award for Continuous Improvement Grants is $10,000.

Interested faculty should review the attached timeline and return the Intent to Apply form to grants@gcsu.edu no later than October 12, 2022.

Georgia College's Affordable Learning Georgia Champions Team is available to assist with building OER projects. The Office of Grants and Sponsored Projects is available to assist with budget preparation, application review, the grants acknowledgment form, and application submission.

Forensics Night: Who Kidnapped Thunder?

Science Education Center : Wednesday September 28, 2022

In celebration of National Forensics Science Week, the Georgia College & State University (GCSU) Science Education Center and forensic chemistry program invites campus and community to help solve the crime of the semester: "Who Kidnapped Thunder?"

Become a forensic crime scene detective and use scientific evidence at five lab stations to crack this 'whodunnit' case—involving the university's beloved Bobcat mascot, Thunder. Come see how the experts do it in real life! From 5 to 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 28, in Herty Hall.

"Everybody loves crime scene shows on TV, and we wanted to bring it to life for our campus and community," said Dr. Catrena Lisse, chemistry professor and director of the Science Education Center.

Only one suspect—a mascot from another university—will remain at the end. Who?

Other mascots are jealous of the Bobcat, because they don't want him to win another "Best Mascot" national award. One of six students, pretending to be assistants for these rascally mascots, will be an accomplice to the crime, driving the get-away car.

Participants will begin the event by watching a news video introducing them to the background story and main elements of the crime. Serving as crime-scene investigators, they'll each be photographed and receive a fingerprint ID card. Then, they'll move through five lab stations at Herty Hall, performing a series of forensics experiments to narrow suspects.

Several pieces of trace evidence left at the scene need to be analyzed: hair and fibers from other mascots, blood spots (or is it ketchup stain?), tire marks from the get-away car and multiple finger, paw and claw prints.

Forensic detective wannabes will be given a QR code at the end to determine if their forensic analysis is correct. The code accesses a video showing Thunder's rescue and the suspect's arrest.

This whimsical event is a way to celebrate National Forensics Science Week—but also introduce the community to GCSU's popular new forensic chemistry program, which started in 2021. The Science Education Center is sponsoring the event in conjunction with GCSU Public Safety, Athletics and Student Government Association (SGA), which created content for the news videos.

Eight STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) majors volunteered to help conduct experiments. Three students—who are taking GCSU's Trace Evidence and Materials Analysis class with Chemistry Professor Dr. Peter Rosado-Flores—helped design crime scene evidence and experiments. They also recorded background videos with Chemistry Professor Dr. John Trombley.

"Studying and learning about forensics can provide you with an opportunity where no two days are the same," Lisse said. "One day you may be conducting complex laboratory tests and another you may be supporting victims and improving public safety."

"No matter what the daily task may be—one thing is for sure," she said. "In the field of forensics, you must use your problem-solving skills each time to uncover the truth."

Senior chemistry major Liam Newsome of Gibson, Georgia, is doing a concentration in forensics chemistry. Forensics isn't just for fun, he said. It plays an important role in keeping communities safe and finding justice for crime victims.

Senior Kaitley Congdon of Gainesville is majoring in criminal justice with a forensic chemistry certification. She's excited for people to learn more about forensic science and solve cases like on TV.

"I believe it will be a great event for all ages," Congdon said, "to be able to step into a role they haven't been able to do before."

This event is free, open to the public and appropriate for all ages.

The Begemann – Gordon Lecture Series “Sometimes a private matter needs public support:” Reproductive Justice in Comparative Context: Ireland/US A Special Talk with Beth Sundstrom

Philosophy Religion & Liberal Studies, Department of : Thursday September 29, 2022

In this lecture, Dr. Sundstrom will discuss the role of women’s health activism in Ireland and the U.S. to build a reproductive justice movement. She will highlight the understudied roles of women’s health activists, who have redefined women’s health and reproduction, making them central concerns in Irish society and government. Dr. Sundstrom will share research that emerged from her Fulbright grant in Ireland to examine gender, science and technology in the global movement for women’s autonomy. The Irish case illustrates how women’s narratives and stories served as the central focus of the reproductive justice movement, engaging with a variety of media outlets, particularly social media, to spread their message. This analysis challenges the nature/culture dualism and highlights the possibilities of empowerment through technology in women’s health.

Dr. Sundstrom will speak at 5 p.m., Thursday, October 6 in the Peabody Auditorium.

Hurricane Ian Update

University Communications : Friday September 30, 2022

Update: 2:00 p.m., Thursday, September 29, 2022

Georgia College & State University continues to closely monitor Hurricane Ian. Local impacts are expected to include one to three inches of rainfall and the likelihood of tropical storm force winds, gusting between 30 and 40 miles per hour.

The university will maintain normal business operations and classes will continue as scheduled for the remainder of the week. Indoor events and activities on Friday and Saturday can continue as scheduled at the discretion of the event's organizer.

Georgia College will continue to monitor the forecast. If there are any changes to the ongoing situation, Public Safety will notify the campus community via GC Alert. We encourage all students and employees to visit the GCSU Public Safety website to ensure your communication preferences are current.

All members of the Georgia College community are encouraged to continue monitoring local weather and news reports. We also encourage students, faculty and staff to avoid unnecessary travel on Friday, particularly if going in an eastwardly direction. The safety and well-being of our students, faculty and staff remain our top priority.

Georgia College & State University is monitoring the projected path of Hurricane Ian, which currently is developing in the Caribbean and has the possibility of impacting the Central Georgia area.

The safety of our students, faculty and staff remains the highest priority as we track the storm.

At this time, normal business operations and classes will continue as scheduled. The latest official weather forecasts show the storm decreasing in strength to a tropical depression by the time it reaches our area, likely in the Friday afternoon into Saturday timeframe, which means considerable rain fall and lower level winds. Some tropical storm force winds are likely to start reaching our area during Thursday into Friday.

Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to monitor local weather reports and review and/or develop their personal response plans. We will keep you advised of any updates, and will make any final announcements on Friday operations by close-of-business on Thursday, so that all students and employees have sufficient time to adjust their plans.

Any significant updates regarding changes to normal business operations will be shared via gcsu.edu; frontpage.gcsu.edu; GCSU's official social media channels; and email.

In the event of emergency circumstances requiring immediate action, a GC Alert will be issued. Please go to the GCSU Public Safety website to learn how to ensure that your communications preferences with GC Alert are current.

Teaching Square @ GC Information Session

Center for Teaching & Learning : Friday September 30, 2022

Are you looking to build a GC collaborative community where you get and give feedback on teaching? Have you heard about Teaching Squares and wondered what it would look like at GC? If so, we're offering two (2) information sessions on Teaching Squares and invite you to come and learn more. Teaching Squares provide faculty from different disciplines with a unique opportunity to collaborate in teams of four (4) to get and give feedback and reflect on teaching. A teaching square provides faculty with a non-evaluative way to gain feedback on their teaching for personal growth and reflection through a small community of faculty vested in seeing each other reach their teaching goals.

Please consider joining us on either Thursday, October 20 at 12 noon or Friday, October 21 at 3 pm for information on how to form your own Teaching Square or learn how we can assist you in creating one.

Registrants have several options for engaging by joining us in person, joining virtually, or requesting session materials only. Please register to receive session information.

We hope you will take advantage of this exciting opportunity!
