New Campus Directory is live!

University Communications : Monday April 3, 2023

The campus directory has moved! Starting today, the old directory.gcsu.edu site has moved to our new campus directory at my.gcsu.edu.

Please visit my.gcsu.edu and update your account information. You can do this by logging into the site (by clicking Login in the top right) and hovering over your email address in the top right corner and selecting "Personal Settings" in the user menu. Please check that all the information under "Account Information" is correct. If not be sure to correct it and click save. You can view a tutorial on updating your information at MyGCSU Help.

Not only does the new directory have an updated look and feel. It also has several new features including the ability to assign departmental editors that have access to edit all the individuals within their department. Each department head can request department editor access for an employee by emailing webcomms@gcsu.edu.

For other questions or to have your department entry updated please email webcomms@gcsu.edu.

Information Technology - April 2023 Open Labs to assist in transition from Webex to Microsoft Teams

Information Technology : Monday April 3, 2023

As a reminder, our campus is phasing out the use of WebEx by 6/1/2023. The Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) and Information Technology (IT) thank those that attended the open labs in March 2023. We encourage you to attend 1 of 2 upcoming April 2023 open labs to help you learn how to effectively utilize the Teams platform and ensure any existing content you have in Webex (in the form of previously saved video conferences) has been downloaded so that you do not lose anything in the transition. Each in-person session will be held on the following days and times:

Mon, 4/10/2023, 9 - 11 am, Library, room 376

Tues, 4/11/2023, 2 - 4 pm, Library, room 376

Check out these video tutorials on Microsoft Teams as an additional resource. We look forward to working with you!

Book Launch for "The Middle Daughter" by Chika Unigwe

English, Department of : Monday April 3, 2023

Please join GCSU's Creative Writing Program's Visiting Writers Series as we celebrate our very own Dr. Chika Unigwe's book launch for The Middle Daughter! She will be reading from her new novel and signing books. Of the novel, reviewer Helon Habila writes, "Chika Unigwe's modern retelling of the myth of Hades and Persephone is pitch perfect—it is a meditation on the need we all share for belonging, and family, and love; a commentary on the journey we must all take in search of freedom."

MFA students Michaela Reed and Sherri-Anne Forde will be reading from their work as well.

Call for Proposals to Present at Annual Governor's Summit

Center for Early Language & Literacy : Monday April 3, 2023

The Sandra Dunagan Deal Center for Early Language & Literacy is collecting submissions for presentations and round table discussions for our Annual Governor's Summit. Submissions are due by April 16, 2023, and selected presenters will be notified by May 5, 2023. We extend this invitation to you to submit your own proposal or share with your contacts and associates. Please consider sharing on websites and social media.

This year's submission topics include:

(1) Implementation of Evidence-based Practices in Early Language & Literacy

Description: Ways in which you or your organization have implemented evidence-based practices in early language and literacy that lead to community impact.

(2) Community Engagement & Supports

Description: Ways in which you or your organization have collaborated with other entities or communities to advance early language and literacy capacity building, best practices, or other related work in the field.

(3) Fund Development Strategies & Supports.

Description: Ways in which you or your organization have leveraged creative mechanisms for fund development via public/private partnerships, grant-seeking, grant-making, entrepreneurial programmatic revenue streams, or other creative strategies.

Presenters may submit a proposal with focus areas in up to two different categories per proposal submission and may present in either a presentation or round table discussion format. Sessions will be 45 minutes. Submissions that include cross-sector partnerships and/or have demonstrated broad impact in the field will be favored.

Faculty and Staff Donor Spotlight - Tony Alcarria

University Advancement : Monday April 3, 2023

Georgia College & State University is home to almost 900 faculty and staff members where acts of philanthropy are evident across campus. Our faculty and staff are giving back to our students, programs, and mission in incredible ways. From our professors and campus leaders, to coaches and facilities crew, to admin and student support staff, we can't thank you enough for your generous contributions in supporting GC programs, scholarships, and organizations across campus! Please read through our amazing donor spotlight below and stay tuned for more!

Meet Tony Alcarria, Senior Lecturer of Italian and Spanish. Tony received a Master of Education from GCSU, has worked here for 25 years and been a donor for 23 years!

-WHY do you give back to Georgia College?

I consider Georgia College a very special place and I received a lot, both academically and personally, during the two years I spent here as a graduate student. I only see it fair that I contribute now for other students to have the same educational experiences I had and to continue to make GC one of the best places to study.

-What fund, department, or program do you donate to?

Department of World Languages and Cultures

-What makes Georgia College a special place?

Georgia College is a special place because it provides students with an individualized instruction, gives them easy access to faculty, mentors and state-of-the-art facilities. The small campus atmosphere makes it easy to make new connections and nurture friendships.

*On April 13th at 4 pm all faculty and staff donors will be celebrated at a reception hosted by President Cox outside the University Advancement office (The Depot). More details to follow!

Did you know you can enroll in payroll deduction and designate your gift to anywhere on campus using this simple online form?

Donors who qualify for President's Society level, give $1,000 annually or $83/month through payroll deduction.

Sustainability Film Series presents "The Sacrifice Zone"

Sustainability, Office of : Monday April 3, 2023

Announcing the second showing in the Office of Sustainability's 2023 Sustainability Film Series, focusing on Environmental Justice.

The Sacrifice Zone

Thursday, April 6, 5:30-7:00pm
Museum Education Room (Library 211)
Enter from Clarke Street entrance.
Please invite students, staff, faculty, and friends.

If you travel down a one-mile stretch of Doremus Avenue in Newark, NJ, you pass a natural gas plant next to a sewage treatment facility next to an animal fat rendering plant next to a series of ominous looking chemical storage containers behind acres of fencing. Airplanes pass overhead every two minutes, their engines rattling windows, while a putrid smell wafts from the open pools at the sewage treatment plant.

This stretch is known as Chemical Corridor, and it's located just down the road from schools and apartment buildings. It borders the Ironbound neighborhood, where Portuguese, Brazilian, Central American and African American residents are separated from toxic substances by little more than a railroad track.

The Ironbound district of Newark, New Jersey, is one of the most toxic neighborhoods in the country. Maria Lopez-Núñez, a Honduran-American resident there, is waging a war for environmental justice. She is part of the Ironbound Community Corporation, one of the most effective environmental justice organizations in the country. The Sacrifice Zone follows Maria as she leads a group of environmental justice fighters determined to break the cycle of poor communities of color serving as dumping grounds for our consumer society (52 min.).

Call for Proposals to Present at Annual Governor's Summit

Center for Early Language & Literacy : Monday April 3, 2023

The Sandra Dunagan Deal Center for Early Language & Literacy is collecting submissions for presentations and round table discussions for our Annual Governor's Summit. Submissions are due by April 16, 2023, and selected presenters will be notified by May 5, 2023. We extend this invitation to you to submit your own proposal or share with your contacts and associates. Please consider sharing on websites and social media.

This year's submission topics include:

(1) Implementation of Evidence-based Practices in Early Language & Literacy

Description: Ways in which you or your organization have implemented evidence-based practices in early language and literacy that lead to community impact.

(2) Community Engagement & Supports

Description: Ways in which you or your organization have collaborated with other entities or communities to advance early language and literacy capacity building, best practices, or other related work in the field.

(3) Fund Development Strategies & Supports.

Description: Ways in which you or your organization have leveraged creative mechanisms for fund development via public/private partnerships, grant-seeking, grant-making, entrepreneurial programmatic revenue streams, or other creative strategies.

Presenters may submit a proposal with focus areas in up to two different categories per proposal submission and may present in either a presentation or round table discussion format. Sessions will be 45 minutes. Submissions that include cross-sector partnerships and/or have demonstrated broad impact in the field will be favored.

Faculty and Staff Donor Spotlight - Tony Alcarria

University Advancement : Monday April 3, 2023

Georgia College & State University is home to almost 900 faculty and staff members where acts of philanthropy are evident across campus. Our faculty and staff are giving back to our students, programs, and mission in incredible ways. From our professors and campus leaders, to coaches and facilities crew, to admin and student support staff, we can't thank you enough for your generous contributions in supporting GC programs, scholarships, and organizations across campus! Please read through our amazing donor spotlight below and stay tuned for more!

Meet Tony Alcarria, senior lecturer of Italian and Spanish. Tony received a Master of Education from GCSU, has worked here for 25 years and been a donor for 23 years!

- Why do you give back to Georgia College?

I consider Georgia College a very special place and I received a lot, both academically and personally, during the two years I spent here as a graduate student. I only see it fair that I contribute now for other students to have the same educational experiences I had and to continue to make GC one of the best places to study.

- What fund, department, or program do you donate to?

Department of World Languages and Cultures

- What makes Georgia College a special place?

Georgia College is a special place because it provides students with an individualized instruction, gives them easy access to faculty, mentors and state-of-the-art facilities. The small campus atmosphere makes it easy to make new connections and nurture friendships.

*On April 13 at 4 p.m. all faculty and staff donors will be celebrated at a reception hosted by President Cox outside the University Advancement office (The Depot). More details to follow!

Did you know you can enroll in payroll deduction and designate your gift to anywhere on campus using this simple online form?

Donors who qualify for President's Society level, give $1,000 annually or $83/month through payroll deduction.

Biology Student Benefits from Attending STEM Industry Night

Biology & Environmental Sciences, Department of : Monday April 3, 2023

STEM Industry Night, hosted by the Career Center, proved to have immediate benefits for one of our students in the Department of Biological & Environmental Sciences. Dana Thiemann, a Biology Senior, got an internship with Aalto Scientific, one of the event vendors. The research that she will be conducting this summer is essentially a continuation of the research she is currently learning in her Molecular Biotechniques class.

The Molecular Biotechniques course is a course-based undergraduate experience (CURE) designed to provide cutting-edge research training to students. Dana, who has not had an opportunity to participate in individual mentored research, is conducting an original class project with a team of 3 other students. Her team is working with the oncogene c-myc. The goal of the team is to design a DNA molecule that can be used to validate the regulatory function of this oncogene.

Over this spring semester, students in this course learned how to design PCR primers, design, and simulate a molecular cloning experiment, perform cell culture techniques, and use some of the department's newer technology like the TapeStation and Nanopore sequencing.

Throughout the course, the students - including Dana - learned how to work in a scientific team and conduct multiple types of data analysis skills along with scientific communication (both written and oral). These transferable skills are evident in her success in getting this internship.

Dana credits Assistant Professor Dr. Arnab Sengupta for providing "...an opportunity like this to us students who have not participated in a research class and thank you for helping me personally with learning new lab techniques and helping with my resume. I truly believe that I would not be getting this internship without this class and your support".

Outdoor Emergency Notification System Test Wednesday, April 5th

Public Safety : Tuesday April 4, 2023

Georgia College will test the Outdoor Emergency Notification System (siren system) Wednesday, April 5, 2023. This test is scheduled to occur the first Wednesday of every month between 10 a.m. and noon and last approximately one minute. No action is required during the testing, and all campus operations should continue as normal. A message stating that this is a test will precede and follow the "alert" tone. In the case of an actual tornado warning, the message would advise of a tornado warning, and the tone would cycle through. This would be repeated every five minutes until the warning expires or is canceled, at which time an all clear message would sound. The audible system test will only be tested when clear sky conditions are present. Tests will not occur when skies are dark or severe weather is predicted for the area on the day the test is scheduled to occur. In this case, the test will be rescheduled for later in the month.

There are three sirens operated by GC in Baldwin County: one on West Campus and two on Main Campus.

This testing program is designed to maintain a reliable warning system and to meet recommended testing guidelines. Additionally, we want to maximize the effectiveness of the Outdoor Emergency Notification System. By performing these tests, we hope to enhance awareness and education regarding emergency preparedness at Georgia College and within the local community.

For more information on the Outdoor Emergency Notification System and other campus emergency systems, please visit the emergency systems page on the Public Safety website.

Join the Cat Crew - August 17

University Housing : Wednesday April 5, 2023

The Cat Crew is back for Fall Move-In 2023 and WE NEED YOUR HELP!

Register online, today.

Cat Crew is a volunteer opportunity for faculty, staff and community members who would like to help the on-campus students move into the residence halls and apartments.

Volunteers are needed to assist with checking paperwork, distributing water, providing directions and most importantly, helping unload students' cars and get their belongings into their new rooms.

University Housing opens on Thursday, August 17. Students move in between 7:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. in one-hour blocks and volunteers are needed from 7:00 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Students living in the residence halls that volunteer for Cat Crew are permitted to move in on Wednesday, August 16.

As many as 1,500 students will be moving in on August 17. Participating in the Cat Crew is a great way to introduce your organization to the newest residents of the Milledgeville and Georgia College Communities.

Sexual Assault on College Campuses: Awareness and Prevention

English, Department of : Wednesday April 5, 2023

GC2Y "Sex and Resistance" and the Women's Center and LGBTQ+ Programs present: "Sexual Assault on College Campuses: Awareness and Prevention" featuring Title IX Coordinator Shanoya Cordew, LGBTQ+ Programs Coordinator Melissa Gerrior and Interim Chief Diversity Officer & Women's Center Director Dr. Jennifer Graham.

Join us April 6 at 5 p.m. in Arts and Sciences Room 3-70 for an open conversation about sexual assault awareness and how we can make GCSU a safer space with the help of organizations like the GCSU Women's Center and other LGBTQ+ organizations.

We view the conversation around sexual assault awareness to be extremely important as instances of sexual assault are common on college campuses. Many survivors feel discouraged from coming forward about their abuse. With our presentation, we hope to ensure a future where sexual assault is far less frequent and where sexual assault victims of any kind are provided with the proper counseling and justice for what they have endured.

With the help of Shanoya Cordew, who is the student compliance counselor at Georgia College, we hope to inform those who attend that there is a place to report sexual assault and receive mental health counseling. We want to provide a safe and inclusive space that recognizes the seriousness of sexual assault on college campuses, and how we can each do our part in ensuring a safer space where sexual assault of any kind is handled appropriately.

New Training Opportunity: Creating a Resilient Mindset

Human Resources, Office of : Wednesday April 5, 2023

The Office of Human Resources is excited to announce a new virtual training opportunity for all employees on Tuesday, April 11, 2023, 10:00 am - 11:00 am. See the link below to register and a description of the training. We hope you will be able to join us!

Training Topic: Creating a Resilient Mindset

When: Tuesday, April 11, 2023, 10:00 am - 11:00 am EST

Registration Link: <https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/register/1781079523668604246>

Training Description:

Our resilience is tested in several aspects of our lives, particularly when we are under pressure or find ourselves in a challenging environment.

In an ever evolving and transitioning landscape that often brings fear and uncertainty, it is important for us to know how to adjust effectively and remain resilient. This training will explore our relationship with failure and how by trans-forming our perception we can discover the vital secrets for developing an adaptable and confident mindset by embracing vulnerability and fear. Specifically, this session will explore the foundation of resilience, understanding yourself and your personal operating system and identifying the mental obstacles (thoughts, feelings, and attitudes) that get in your way. Participants will focus on five muscles: accepting personal accountability; developing a belief system that encourages and supports success; accurately and objectively assess your moods and blind spots; perfect your deep breathing techniques; and curate curiosity to view situations from different angles.

HOW PARTICIPANTS WILL BENEFIT

- + Discover the power of vulnerability when dealing with failure.
- + Learn how to perceive adversity as a learning opportunity.
- +Tackle limiting beliefs associated with challenge and change.
- + Understand how to embrace fear and take risks.

Two GCSU faculty named as Governor's Teaching Summer Fellows

General Institution : Wednesday April 5, 2023

Two Georgia College & State University educators have been selected to attend the Governor's Teaching Fellows (GTF) Summer Symposium—a selective program that helps teachers increase their knowledge of new technologies and innovative instruction for the classroom.

The two fellows are Dr. Suzanna Roman-Oliver, assistant professor of Secondary Education, and Dr. Omolola Akinola Ologunorisa, lecturer in Geography. They join about a dozen other educators statewide for an intensive five days of learning at the University of Georgia (UGA) May 15 to 19.

"I feel very honored to have been nominated by Georgia College and selected by this program as a fellow for the Summer Symposium. I look forward to engaging in the learning activities and meeting other like-minded educators from different institutions," Roman-Oliver said.

Ologunorisa said, "I love teaching and I value it as a higher calling, and because of this, I always look for avenues to train myself with innovative teaching strategies that will provide my students with active, enhanced and engaging learning experiences."

The Governor's Teaching Fellows Program was established in 1995 by former Georgia Governor Zell Miller to give higher-education faculty more opportunities to develop important teaching skills. GTF is designed to bring professors up-to-speed, so Georgia students are taught tech-savvy skills and can compete for jobs in an ever-changing, global job market.

An outreach program of the Louise McBee Institute of Higher Education at UGA for 25 years, GTF has represented more than 75 different disciplines, professions and teaching areas with over 600 fellows from more than 70 public and private statewide institutions.

Fellows are chosen to participate in an intensive summer symposium or the yearlong symposium that meets three days each month. Both are held at UGA.

Past symposiums addressed numerous themes, like using technology in the classroom and other pedagogical innovations. This year's summer symposium focuses on STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math)-related topics.

As fellows, Roman-Oliver and Ologunorisa will explore issues related to redesigning courses and learn about things like educational technology and assessment, conflict management, law and ethics and the future of education.

Participants are selected based on their teaching experience, instructional and professional development and positive impact on campuses.

At Georgia College, Roman-Oliver teaches courses in the online Masters of Arts in Teaching (MAT) Secondary Education program. She's currently doing research with two other faculty, conducting a document analysis of the "Protect Students First Act." She's completing a proposal for a book and often incorporates social justice and culture into curriculum. As part of her work with the College Of Education's Diversity, Equity and Inclusion committee, she and her colleagues were awarded an Inclusive Excellence Faculty Research Grant to support the use of book clubs in promoting social justice.

Roman-Oliver is working to redesign the course, Secondary Science Pedagogy, for students who want to teach high school science. Her revision will help ensure MAT graduates are prepared to meet the needs of diverse learners in science classrooms. She's looking forward to learning innovative instructional strategies to enhance the courses she teaches.

"I believe this experience will help me grow as an educator in many areas," Roman-Oliver said. "My goal is to be more intentional about connecting my teaching with my research interests. I also want to be exposed to new technologies that can be integrated in online teaching, as well as non-traditional ways to assess students' learning."

At Georgia College, Ologunorisa teaches courses on Geographic Information Systems (GIS), geospatial science, landforms, remote sensing and global connections. She's currently working to help train students in piloting drones and asks all her students to volunteer four hours of service to the university or community.

After the May symposium, Ologunorisa will travel to Nigeria. She was recognized recently by the Institute of International Education and awarded by the Carnegie African Diaspora Fellowship Program to work with Osun State University in Osogbo, Nigeria (UNIOSUN). She'll collaborate on curriculum co-development in Digital Humanities and GIS, as well as mentor graduate students in GIS and remote sensing.

As a fellow, Ologunorisa hopes to redesign some of her courses to better prepare students to "meet contemporary environmental challenges in the fields of disaster management, crime mapping and hot spot assessment, traffic management, mineral exploration, land resources management, military and defense studies and homeland security, among others."

The redesign will positively impact student learning and success, she said, as well as improve her effectiveness as a teacher.

"I am confident that the evidence-based practices and inclusive teaching strategies that I will acquire in the Governor's Teaching Fellows Summer Symposium will prepare me to redesign some courses as well as optimize the learning experience for students across all my classes,” Ologunorisa said. “This fellowship would transform the way I have been teaching for more than ten years and take my teaching pedagogy to the next level for my 21st-century students.”

Support the school that shaped you during our 2023 Giving Challenge!

University Advancement : Wednesday April 5, 2023

Our 4th GCSU Giving Challenge is LIVE now through Thursday, April 6! Please consider making a gift on the GC Giving Challenge page on givecampus.com.

For roughly 48 hours, we are asking our entire community – alumni, students, faculty, staff, and friends – to join together and support six projects in critical need of funding. With your help, we can provide unique learning opportunities, support an expansive educational experience, and offer essential assistance to our students.

Six Projects:

- Heritage Fund
- College of Arts & Sciences - Science Education Center
- J. Whitney Bunting College of Business and Technology - Study Abroad & Student Leadership Tour
- John H. Lounsbury College of Education - GC THRIVE
- College of Health Sciences - Center for Health & Social Issues
- John E. Sallstrom Honors College - Transformative Learning Experience

If you would like to participate via check, please make it made payable to the GCSU Foundation Inc. with the project title on the memo line. Checks can be mailed to: GCSU Advancement, 610 W. Green St., CBX 96, Milledgeville, GA 31061.

If you have any questions, please contact Caroline Attaway at caroline.attaway@gcsu.edu or 478-445-1186.

Diversity 360 Series Event: Allyship in the Workplace

Inclusion and Belonging, Office of : Thursday April 6, 2023

The Office of Inclusive Excellence's final Diversity 360 Series for the Spring semester is called "Allyship in the Workplace". The virtual workshop will be held on Wednesday, Apr. 19 at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Joanna Schwartz, Professor of Marketing from the College of Business and Technology, will be the facilitator.

When you hear the word “allyship”, what do you think it is? While a majority of employees think of themselves as allies, research shows many employees don’t know how to do it, or even know what it means. According to Deloitte’s 2019 State of Inclusion Survey, while 92% of people already see themselves as allies in the workplace, only 29% say they actually speak up when they perceive bias, and 34% simply ignore it.

Being an ally at work means acknowledging your power and influence and using them to advocate for fairness and equity in the workplace. As an employee of GCSU, you have the ability to become an ally and help shape the actions and culture around you—thus fostering an environment that is respectful, inclusive, and supportive, and helps everyone have a secure sense of belonging.

Participants will learn:

- Key terms and concepts as well as how allyship impacts an organization’s culture
- Identify characteristics of a good ally in the workplace
- How to show up for coworkers who hold traditionally marginalized identities
- How to develop the skills and the awareness to become a better ally

Registration to attend the workshop is open. All registrants will receive the link to the workshop.

Summer Break Energy Saving Preparations

Sustainability, Office of : Thursday April 6, 2023

The end of the spring semester is almost here, and with that, most of the campus community will be leaving for summer break. As most buildings will be less occupied than normal, a few energy-saving tasks are being requested in an effort at reducing energy consumption over the break. Your assistance is greatly appreciated by performing the following tasks before leaving for the break:

- Turn off all lights including display case lighting.
- Power down and unplug all non-essential energy-consuming sources (computers, printers, projects, refrigerators, space heaters, phone chargers, televisions, etc.).
- Remove food and liquid waste from refrigerators/offices and place these items in the common areas (kitchens, lounges) or discard in waste containers.
- Where applicable, adjust thermostats to 75 degrees.
- Close and lock all windows and doors.
- Where applicable, close window blinds.

Thank you for your cooperation in these energy saving tasks. Have a safe summer break!

LAST DAY to Support our 4th GCSU Giving Challenge!

University Advancement : Thursday April 6, 2023

TODAY IS THE LAST DAY OF OUR GIVING CHALLENGE! Please consider making a gift on the GC Giving Challenge page on givecampus.com by 11:59 p.m. in support of the area that means the most to you.

Five of our six projects still need your help! What your gift will support for each project:

- Heritage Fund – Your gift will support student success across our campus and provide critical funds to various areas when needed.
- College of Arts & Sciences – Your gift will help the Science Education Center acquire outreach supplies, underwrite a Young Scientists Academy high school student stipend, bring a world-renowned scientist to Central Georgia, and much more.
- J. Whitney Bunting College of Business and Technology – Your gift will support both Study Abroad opportunities and the Student Leadership Tour for our College of Business and Technology students.
- John H. Lounsbury College of Education – Your gift will help provide GC THRIVE students with experiences that will help them find jobs of their choosing at program completion. GC THRIVE is an Inclusive Post-Secondary Education (IPSE) program for students with intellectual disabilities who would not otherwise matriculate as GCSU students.
- College of Health Sciences – Your gift to the Center for Health and Social Issues (CHSI) will help reduce the burdens and disparities of chronic disease among vulnerable populations and beyond, initiate a mobile screening clinic for underserved communities in Central Georgia, and advocate for increased access to healthy and safe foods in and beyond Baldwin County.
- John E. Sallstrom Honors College – Your gift will underwrite the cost of a trip to New York City for students taking Dr. Jenny Flaherty's Honors course on "Underworlds and Afterlives" in the fall of 2023. Students will encounter transformative learning experiences throughout their trip and utilize other cultural resources related to the theme of the course.

Time is running out! Please take a moment to make your gift today.

Guest Scholar Mina Choksi: Calligraphy Workshop and Public Lecture on Jain Art and Philosophy

Philosophy Religion & Liberal Studies, Department of : Friday April 7, 2023

Born and raised in a Jain family, Minaxi Choksi currently studies under the guidance of Jain Monks in her pursuit of greater understanding of Jain principles, philosophy and art. Reviving the Heritage Art of Meditative Calligraphy: Mina's experience in fine and graphic arts includes Glass Fusion and Heritage Arts. She has trained with master calligraphers from around the globe for over 15 years in Latin scripts, and now utilizes that foundation as she develops Indic Calligraphy with a special focus on Brahmi, the most ancient script. As Art Ambassador and founder of KalaCircle at the Jain Center of Southern California, Mina's mission is to offer a comprehensive art program to connect with the community and to manifest the Jain virtues of compassion, universal love and equanimity. On April 27 from 2:00-3:00 p.m. at Peabody Auditorium, Mina will share her techniques and methodology in a public workshop on calligraphy. She will then discuss Jain art and philosophy in her public lecture, also at Peabody Auditorium, from 3:30-4:45 p.m. Please contact the Department of Philosophy, Religion and Liberal Studies at 478-445-5221 for more information.

2023 Maldonado Environmental Hero Award

Sustainability, Office of : Friday April 7, 2023

Nominations are now being accepted for the 2023 Maldonado Environmental Hero Award.

Colin A. Maldonado was a 2013 graduate of Georgia College & State University, with a major in environmental science and a minor in geology. He was president of the Environmental Science Club, a leader for the GC Wellness & Recreation Center climbing wall, and a member of the Bike Polo team. Colin was an activist and a visualist; he employed his heart and his education to manifest a better world for all of us. During his senior year, Colin developed the GC Bike Plan, including designs for bike paths and a bike share program. Colin passed away from a tragic infection while living and learning about sustainability in action at a spiritual center in Costa Rica in 2014.

“The world is changing quickly, and the poison spreading ever faster. We must continue to push the consciousness of a sustainable and spirit-centered lifestyle.”

The Environmental Science Club and the GC Sustainability Council created the Maldonado Environmental Hero Award in 2014 to honor Colin’s determination, faith, optimism and kindness. The award is given annually to recognize a Georgia College student who best exemplifies Colin’s belief that individuals can make a difference to help us all attain a sustainable future.

Please email MaldonadoAward@gmail.com to nominate the student or recent graduate you would like to be considered. Please include a brief statement of how your nominee exemplifies sustainability action and advocacy. Nominations are due by midnight Sunday, April 16.

Thank-a-Teacher @ GCSU - Spring 2023

Center for Teaching & Learning : Monday April 10, 2023

The Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) often hears from students about how instructors impact their learning and personal growth, making them self-actualized in their endeavors. So as an ongoing basis of support, CTL instituted a Thank-a-Teacher program in the Fall of 2021 to acknowledge instructors' contributions to our students. During the Fall 2021 semester, we collected and distributed almost 400 student acknowledgments, and we're excited to hear that some faculty are using student nominations in their tenure and promotion portfolios.

After collecting student feedback, we will provide the named instructors with a certificate and letter acknowledging their nominations. We also post instructor nominations on our website.

Teaching has many intrinsic rewards, but we want to provide GC instructors with a documented way to show their value to GC students.

Please encourage students to follow this link to complete the Thank-a-Teacher form. They can also watch a short Thank-a-Teacher @ GCSU promotional video.

For questions, don't hesitate to contact the Center for Teaching & Learning at ctl@gcsu.edu or 478-445-2520.

Book Launch for "The Middle Daughter" by Chika Unigwe

English, Department of : Monday April 10, 2023

Please join GCSU's Creative Writing Program's Visiting Writers Series as we celebrate our very own Dr. Chika Unigwe's book launch for The Middle Daughter! She will be reading from her new novel and signing books. Of the novel, reviewer Helon Habila writes, "Chika Unigwe's modern retelling of the myth of Hades and Persephone is pitch perfect—it is a meditation on the need we all share for belonging, and family, and love; a commentary on the journey we must all take in search of freedom."

MFA students Michaela Reed and Sherri-Anne Forde will be reading from their work as well.

Faculty and Staff Donor Spotlight - Dr. Holley Morris Roberts

University Advancement : Monday April 10, 2023

Georgia College & State University is home to almost 900 faculty and staff members where acts of philanthropy are evident across campus. Our faculty and staff are giving back to our students, programs, and mission in incredible ways. From our professors and campus leaders, to coaches and facilities crew, to admin and student support staff, we can't thank you enough for your generous contributions in supporting GCSU programs, scholarships, and organizations across campus! Please read through our amazing donor spotlight below!

Meet Dr. Holley Morris Roberts! Dr. Roberts serves as Associate Provost for Academic Affairs, Director of The Graduate School, Professor of Early Childhood Education and has worked at GCSU for 18 years. She is a proud alum of Georgia College where she received a BS in Early Childhood Education (1993) and M.Ed. in Early Childhood Education (1996). She has been a donor for 15 years!

-Why do you give back to Georgia College?

I believe in the mission of Georgia College & State University and have the opportunity to see on a daily basis the excellent work of our faculty and staff and the impact they make on students. I want to support these efforts beyond my professional role at the university, and in a more personal way through giving.

-What fund, department, or program do you donate to?

The Heritage Fund (Annual Giving), International Education, Women's Leadership Conference, College of Education initiatives

-What makes Georgia College a special place?

Georgia College & State University is a special place because of the faculty, staff, and students who work together to make the curricular and co-curricular experiences at this university top-notch. I also think that the beautiful campus in the center of downtown Milledgeville adds a special environment for people to enjoy.

On April 13th at 4 pm all faculty and staff donors will be celebrated at a reception hosted by President Cox outside the University Advancement office (The Depot).

Did you know you can enroll in payroll deduction and designate your gift to anywhere on

Thank-a-Teacher @ GCSU - Spring 2023

Center for Teaching & Learning : Monday April 10, 2023

Is there a GC instructor who has positively impacted your life, and you want to recognize them? If so, the Center for Teaching and Learning developed a Thank-a-Teacher @ GCSU program that allows you to do just that. By completing a short survey, you can tell us how a GCSU instructor has helped you reach your goals, and we will send them a letter and certificate on your behalf. No acknowledgment is too small; acknowledging someone who makes a difference enables you to make a positive difference.

Fighting Obesity: 9th Annual ArtHealthy Festival at Georgia College & State University

College of Health Sciences : Monday April 10, 2023

The 9th Annual ArtHealthy Festival—with popular activities like the Kid Zone, Human Foosball, Human Hungry Hippo, Warrior Jump's inflatable obstacle course and a Zip Line—promises to be a fun, physically-active experience for all ages.

This popular community event, sponsored by Georgia College & State University in partnership with CREATE Inc., attracts up to 2,000 people from Central Georgia in a celebration of health and fitness. It will be 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday, April 15, on Front Campus.

Fulfilling CREATE's vision to "Provide Innovative Responses to Quality-of-Life Barriers," the ArtHealthy Festival is held to address the epidemic of obesity using the arts, education and recreation.

In addition to the new Zip Line, this year's festival features a concert by Dynamic Sounds of Phunk and a Magic Show by local artists.

"Because of its art and healthy living focus, ArtHealthy Festival 2023 once again encourages the community to take care of themselves and one another, as we enjoy the great sounds of old school R&B," said Toyia Barnes, coordinator of ArtHealthy and Georgia College's School of Health and Human Performance.

The festival and all activities are free and open to the public.

Popular activities include:

- Art-in-Motion with physical workouts like double Dutch aerobics and yoga
- A Kid Zone with face painting, art projects, hula hoop dancing, sack races and self portraits
- Medical assessments, first aid and emergency information, self-care and nutritional material and back care, as well as child and office safety, ways to combat stress, dental health and recreational safety
- Testing for blood pressure, Body Mass Index (BMI), bone density, cholesterol, hearing, eyes and glucose
- Prescription drug take-back services
- Live performances
- 200 vendors
- Face Painting, make your own buttons, art projects and more

"From the youngest child to the oldest adult, there's something for everyone at this festival," Barnes said. "It's an annual event that the whole family can enjoy."

Please see attached photo and visit <http://www.arthealthy.org/> or www.facebook.com/ArthealthyFestival for more information.

In the Media Studio: with guest Judy Woodruff

Weds, April 12th 2023

5 p.m.

A&S Auditorium

"In the Media Studio" is a 45 minute long lecture and guest series with various media personalities from the broadcast, print, public relations, and other media backgrounds. The event is hosted by Professor Molly Wilkins, Lecturer in the Department of Communication at Georgia College & State University along with a guest student host. The event is produced by Professor Bill Burke, Keith Bergeron, and a team of communication students.

"In the Media Studio" takes its inspiration from the famed "Inside the Actors Studio" series.

Broadcast journalist Judy Woodruff is the Senior Correspondent for the PBS NewsHour, after serving for 11 years as its Anchor and Managing Editor. During 2023 and 2024, she is undertaking a reporting project, "America at a Crossroads," to better understand the country's political divide. She has covered politics and other news for more than four decades at CNN, NBC, and PBS.

The recipient of numerous awards, including the Peabody Journalistic Integrity Award, the Poynter Medal, an Emmy for Lifetime Achievement, and the Radcliffe Medal, she and the late Gwen Ifill were together awarded Arizona State University's Walter Cronkite Award for Excellence in Journalism after Woodruff and Ifill were named co-anchors of the PBS NewsHour in 2013, marking the first time an American national news broadcast would be co-anchored by two women.

For 12 years, Woodruff served as anchor and senior correspondent for CNN, where her duties included anchoring the weekday program, Inside Politics. At PBS from 1983 to 1993, she was the chief Washington correspondent for The MacNeil/Lehrer NewsHour. From 1984-1990, she also anchored PBS' award-winning weekly documentary series, Frontline with Judy Woodruff. In 2011, Woodruff was the principal reporter for the PBS documentary Nancy Reagan: The Role of a Lifetime. And in 2007, she completed an extensive project for PBS and other news outlets on the views of young Americans called Generation Next: Speak Up. Be Heard.

In 2006, Woodruff was a visiting professor at Duke University's Terry Sanford Institute of Public Policy. In 2005, she was a visiting fellow at Harvard University's Joan Shorenstein Center on the Press, Politics and Public Policy. From 2006-2013, she anchored a monthly program for Bloomberg Television, Conversations with Judy Woodruff.

At NBC News, Woodruff was White House correspondent from 1977 to 1982. For one year after that she served as NBC's Today show chief Washington correspondent. She wrote the book, This is Judy Woodruff at the White House, published in 1982 by Addison-Wesley.

Woodruff is a founding co-chair of the International Women's Media Foundation, an organization dedicated to promoting and encouraging women in communication industries worldwide. She serves on the boards of trustees of the Freedom Forum and The Duke Endowment. Formerly she was a trustee of the Carnegie Corporation of New York and the Urban Institute, and a member of The Knight Foundation Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics.

Woodruff is a graduate of Duke University, where she is a trustee emerita. She lives in Washington, DC, with her husband, journalist Al Hunt, and they are the parents of three children.

Rural Studies Institute presents inaugural Rural Changemakers Lecturer Catherine Coleman Flowers

Rural Studies Institute : Tuesday April 11, 2023

The Rural Studies Institute (RSI) in partnership with the Sustainability Council is launching the inaugural Rural Changemakers Lecture Series on April 11, 2023 at 6:30 pm at Peabody Auditorium. We have a very exciting inaugural speaker, Catherine Coleman Flowers, a 2020 MacArthur genius fellow, who is internationally recognized for her work on environmental issues. Below you will find more discussion of her exciting work.

She is a 2020 MacArthur “genius” grant recipient, and an author. She has dedicated her life’s work to advocating for environmental justice, primarily equal access to clean water and functional sanitation for communities across the United States.

She is the Founder of the Center for Rural Enterprise and Environmental Justice (CREEJ), and has spent her career promoting equal access to clean water, air, sanitation, and soil to reduce health and economic disparities in marginalized, rural communities.

Flowers is a Board Member for the Center for Earth Ethics at Union Theological Seminary, and sits on the Board of Directors for the Climate Reality Project and the Natural Resources Defense Council. Flowers is also Co-Chair of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences Commission on Accelerating Climate Action and Practitioner in Residence at Duke University.

She serves as the Vice Chair of the inaugural White House Environmental Justice Advisory Council. Flowers was also named Levenick Resident Scholar in Sustainable Leadership at the University of Illinois for the spring 2021 and was awarded an honorary PhD in science from Wesleyan University.

As the author of Waste: One Woman’s Fight Against America’s Dirty Secret, Flowers shares her inspiring story of advocacy, from childhood to environmental justice champion. She has been featured in The New York Times, The Washington Post, Bloomberg, The Guardian, and on PBS.

REMINDER: Diversity 360 Series Event: Allyship in the Workplace

Inclusion and Belonging, Office of : Wednesday April 12, 2023

The Office of Inclusive Excellence's final Diversity 360 Series for the Spring semester is called "Allyship in the Workplace". The virtual workshop will be held on Wednesday, Apr. 19 at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Joanna Schwartz, Professor of Marketing from the College of Business and Technology, will be the facilitator.

When you hear the word “allyship”, what do you think it is? While a majority of employees think of themselves as allies, research shows many employees don’t know how to do it, or even know what it means. According to Deloitte’s 2019 State of Inclusion Survey, while 92% of people already see themselves as allies in the workplace, only 29% say they actually speak up when they perceive bias, and 34% simply ignore it.

Being an ally at work means acknowledging your power and influence and using them to advocate for fairness and equity in the workplace. As an employee of GCSU, you have the ability to become an ally and help shape the actions and culture around you—thus fostering an environment that is respectful, inclusive, and supportive, and helps everyone have a secure sense of belonging.

Participants will learn:

- Key terms and concepts as well as how allyship impacts an organization’s culture
- Identify characteristics of a good ally in the workplace
- How to show up for coworkers who hold traditionally marginalized identities
- How to develop the skills and the awareness to become a better ally

Register online to attend the workshop. All registrants will receive the link to the workshop.

Staying Optimistic - Conquering Negative Thoughts

Human Resources, Office of : Wednesday April 12, 2023

The Office of Human Resources is excited to announce a new virtual training opportunity for all employees on Wednesday, April 26, 2023, 2:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m. See the link below to register and a description of the training. We hope you will be able to join us!

Training Topic: Staying Optimistic - Conquering Negative Thoughts

When: Wednesday, April 26, 2023, 2:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Online Registration Link

Training Description:

An average person has between 12,000-60,000 thoughts per day, 80% of which are negative. These thoughts are part of the survival mechanism in the mind which focuses on more negative details as a form of self-protection. However, it is not the negative thoughts themselves that are the issue, but rather the importance that we give these thoughts that cause the problem. This session allows participants to learn how to gain control over negative thoughts and turn them into neutral or positive ones, helping to conquer unhealthy and unhelpful habits.

HOW PARTICIPANTS WILL BENEFIT

- Identify the symptoms and causes of negative thoughts.
- Apply strategies to disrupt negative thoughts.

LOCATION CHANGE: In the Media Studio with guest Judy Woodruff

Communication, Department of : Wednesday April 12, 2023

In the Media Studio: with guest Judy Woodruff

Weds, April 12th 2023

5 p.m.

A&S Auditorium

“In the Media Studio” is a 45 minute long lecture and guest series with various media personalities from the broadcast, print, public relations, and other media backgrounds. The event is hosted by Professor Molly Wilkins, Lecturer in the Department of Communication at Georgia College & State University along with a guest student host. The event is produced by Professor Bill Burke, Keith Bergeron, and a team of communication students.

“In the Media Studio” takes its inspiration from the famed “Inside the Actors Studio” series.

Broadcast journalist Judy Woodruff is the Senior Correspondent for the PBS NewsHour, after serving for 11 years as its Anchor and Managing Editor. During 2023 and 2024, she is undertaking a reporting project, “America at a Crossroads,” to better understand the country’s political divide. She has covered politics and other news for more than four decades at CNN, NBC, and PBS.

The recipient of numerous awards, including the Peabody Journalistic Integrity Award, the Poynter Medal, an Emmy for Lifetime Achievement, and the Radcliffe Medal, she and the late Gwen Ifill were together awarded Arizona State University’s Walter Cronkite Award for Excellence in Journalism after Woodruff and Ifill were named co-anchors of the PBS NewsHour in 2013, marking the first time an American national news broadcast would be co-anchored by two women.

For 12 years, Woodruff served as anchor and senior correspondent for CNN, where her duties included anchoring the weekday program, Inside Politics. At PBS from 1983 to 1993, she was the chief Washington correspondent for The MacNeil/Lehrer NewsHour. From 1984-1990, she also anchored PBS' award-winning weekly documentary series, Frontline with Judy Woodruff. In 2011, Woodruff was the principal reporter for the PBS documentary Nancy Reagan: The Role of a Lifetime. And in 2007, she completed an extensive project for PBS and other news outlets on the views of young Americans called Generation Next: Speak Up. Be Heard.

In 2006, Woodruff was a visiting professor at Duke University's Terry Sanford Institute of Public Policy. In 2005, she was a visiting fellow at Harvard University's Joan Shorenstein Center on the Press, Politics and Public Policy. From 2006-2013, she anchored a monthly program for Bloomberg Television, Conversations with Judy Woodruff.

At NBC News, Woodruff was White House correspondent from 1977 to 1982. For one year after that she served as NBC's Today show chief Washington correspondent. She wrote the book, This is Judy Woodruff at the White House, published in 1982 by Addison-Wesley.

Woodruff is a founding co-chair of the International Women's Media Foundation, an organization dedicated to promoting and encouraging women in communication industries worldwide. She serves on the boards of trustees of the Freedom Forum and The Duke Endowment. Formerly she was a trustee of the Carnegie Corporation of New York and the Urban Institute, and a member of The Knight Foundation Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics.

Woodruff is a graduate of Duke University, where she is a trustee emerita. She lives in Washington, DC, with her husband, journalist Al Hunt, and they are the parents of three children.

Rites of Passage Gala

Cultural Center : Wednesday April 12, 2023

Are you a current senior at Georgia College (or do you know of one) that has had substantial involvement with the Cultural Center during your/their time at Georgia College? Please let us know by completing (or encouraging them to complete) the Rites of Passage info form found on GC Connect.

The Cultural Center would like to cordially invite those students, faculty and staff that have been connected to the Cultural Center to join us as we celebrate our graduating honorees at the Rites of Passage Gala on April 21st at 6:00 pm in the Peabody Auditorium. This year, our ceremony will be a gala featuring dinner, a keynote speaker and entertainment afterwards. We will also be honoring select students that have had leadership roles in the Black Student Alliance, Latino Student Association and the LIFE mentorship program. If you are a graduating senior in these programs, we ask that you complete the form linked above at your earliest convenience. We also invite members of the above listed organizations to attend the ceremony, but we ask that all who plan to attend RSVP via GC Connect.

Our keynote will be delivered by Mr. Jarrod Benjamin, President and CEO of Lead Firm Speaks (keynote speaker bio here). He is the Florida International University Cybersecurity Apprenticeship Program Director and Adjunct Professor. He currently manages and develops curriculum embedded certifications for the Jack D. Gordon Institute for Public Policy. He serves as a subject matter expert on the $3 million dollar Intelligence Community-Center of Academic Excellence consortium grant. Mr. Benjamin also serves as the Chief Executive Officer of The LEAD Firm. He is responsible for curriculum development, leadership training, keynote events, and serves as an organization consultant for over 120 colleges and universities across the country. Oversight training includes Higher Education Enrollment Management Consultation, Student Leadership, Greek Life, and Student Affairs Professional Team Building. Mr. Benjamin is the founder and host of the Black and Multicultural Greek EMPOWERMENT Summit – Atlanta Edition.

We look forward to this special time and hope that you will join us!

Sustainability Symposium 2023

Sustainability, Office of : Thursday April 13, 2023

Georgia College & State University Office of Sustainability and Sustainability Council are pleased to announce the 2023 Sustainability Symposium & Geospatial Public Health Forum: Examining Environmental Justice by Exposing Waste Issues in our Community and Exploring Our Role in Remediation. Our hope is that this symposium will inspire revolutionary conversations and solutions that will transform the way our communities of GCSU and Baldwin and surrounding counties approach waste treatment and environmentalism.

The Sustainability Symposium's goal is to shed light on environmental justice issues that Baldwin and surrounding counties are facing and encourage conversation and collaboration to get these issues resolved. The symposium is to take place on April 20th, 2023, starting at 5:30 pm in the Arts and Sciences Auditorium. The event will include light refreshments and breakout groups based on interest following panelist speaker addresses. Speakers at the symposium will represent Georgia College & State University's Aquatic Sciences Center, Rural Studies Institute, and Center for Health and Social Issues, as well as a wide variety of representation from many of GCSU's academic departments.

The Georgia College & State University Office of Sustainability and Sustainability Council have been working to make our community more sustainable for the last fifteen years. We feature a unique composting program that diverts food waste from the campus dining hall away from landfills, we have made recycling available campus-wide, promote education programming such as the West Campus Garden, and offer resources to students such as the Campus Corner, a free clothing and food pantry. The annual symposium gives us a platform to celebrate sustainability and broaden our impact in the community.

For more information about the Sustainability Symposium, or to request further information about Georgia College & State University Office of Sustainability and Sustainability Council, please visit the Office of Sustainability website or contact sustaingc@gcsu.edu.

Sustainability Film Series presents "Plastic Earth"

Sustainability, Office of : Thursday April 13, 2023

Announcing the third showing in the Office of Sustainability's 2023 Sustainability Film Series, focusing on Environmental Justice.

Plastic Earth

Monday, April 17, 7:00-8:30pm
Museum Education Room (Library 211)
Enter from Clarke Street entrance.
Please invite students, staff, faculty, and friends.

"Plastic Earth" is the first documentary feature film of its kind to cover the solutions and technologies being worked on in the world today to combat and eventually solve the plastic crisis that our world is facing. Worldwide plastic production coming from fossil-based sources continues to rise and it contributes to climate change, pollution, and threatens the planet's species.

"Plastic Earth" follows the story of a concerned mother, Janice Overbeck. Janice goes on a journey to learn the full story of this problem and to uncover what is happening in the background to solve it. Through dozens of interviews with scientists, engineers, researchers, and innovators, Janice gets first-hand insights on how we can get this problem under control. This documentary film features many of the heroes of the world working to solve the world's plastic and environmental issues (99 min.).

Pop Culture Panel - 5 PM on April 19 in A&S 364!

Center for Teaching & Learning : Friday April 14, 2023

Many professors use references to popular culture as illustrations in teaching. A few have also made it a focus of their research.

Contemporary pop culture is not fundamentally different from the ancient and historical cultural products that it is taken for granted that academics will and should study. Yet it does not always get the same respect as other objects of study. Please join this panel of your faculty colleagues from a wide array of fields and disciplines to learn about what they have discovered as they've applied the tools of their trade to contemporary music, literature, film, and television. If you come expecting to discover new potential research areas, creative ways of using pop culture to assist learning and make it more fun for students, and/or things in your favorite stories and music that you never noticed before, you won't be disappointed. We'll provide the popcorn!

The Pop Culture Panel will take place in Arts and Sciences 364 at 5 PM on Wednesday, April 19.

Requirements for Georgia College Programs Serving Minors

School of Continuing and Professional Studies : Friday April 14, 2023

Georgia College must ensure that all programs involving non-GC student minors (children ages 17 and under) follow the established policy and procedures concerning their protection.

When you choose to offer a program, course, or event where Georgia College assumes custody of the children, you as the Program Administrator are responsible for the safety and protection of the children, staff, and volunteers. You must agree to comply with Georgia College's written policy and procedures. Non-University organizations who operate programs or activities involving minors at Georgia College are also required to run consistent with our guidelines.

Georgia College has a Protection of Minors “one-stop” website that provides step-by-step guidance to assist all Georgia College supervisors and program administrators who offer programs for children. Anyone offering a program serving minors is required to thoroughly review and implement the information provided on this website.

GEORGIA COLLEGE PROTECTION OF MINORS WEBSITE \(log in required\)

Before offering an authorized program, the Program Administrator must register the program and gain the necessary approval to proceed. All ongoing programs and new programs must register their program on an annual basis. Program Administrator training is also required annually. Please visit the website to review all requirements and resources provided.

REGISTER YOUR PROGRAM \(log in required\)

There is no one centralized department for all Georgia College programs that work with children.

Stephanie Westmoreland serves as the campus coordinator for the Protection of Minors on Campus. For questions, concerns, clarification, or guidance, please contact her by phone (478-445-1238) or by e-mail (stephanie.westmoreland@gcsu.edu).

Lavender Graduation - Last Chance to Register!

LGBTQ+ Programs : Monday April 17, 2023

LGBTQ+ graduates and those who support them are invited to attend the 12th Annual Lavender Graduation at Georgia College.

Lavender Graduation 2023 will take place on April 28th from 4-6 p.m. Location will be messaged upon confirmation of registration.

Lavender Graduation serves to celebrate graduating LGBTQ+ students and allies for their strength and persistence in the face of adversity, as well as their achievements and contributions to the university. Participating students (undergraduate and graduate) will receive a certificate and lavender cords. They will also have the opportunity to personally thank an individual who has helped them through their college career.

The 2023 Lavender Graduation is for anyone graduating in 2023 - if you graduating at another point (summer, winter) in 2023, please feel free to participate in this ceremony as we only have a Spring ceremony at this time. Additionally, if you are a graduate who is unable to attend the ceremony, please also feel free to register to get your lavender cords and be recognized for your achievements!

Please follow this link to register to attend.

Additionally, we are accepting nominations for this year's Lavender Awards that celebrate the contributions of a student, staff, or faculty member who has made contributions to the LGBTQ+ community on campus.

Music at the Mansion

Music, Department of : Monday April 17, 2023

Saturday, April 22 Join us for a celebration of spring at 6 p.m. as Georgia College & State University's music ensembles gather on the lawn of Georgia's Old Governor's Mansion. The annual "Music at the Mansion" concert is free and open to the public. This year's event features the university's Wind Symphony, Women's Ensemble, Max Noah Singers, University Chorus, Jazz Combo and Saxophone ensembles. Great songs will get you in the mood of spring like "Walking on the Green Grass" by Michael Hennagin, "Sh-Boom (Life Could Be a Dream)" by the Chords and "Mountain Roads" by David Maslanka, as well as "April is in My Mistress' Face" and "Now Is the Month of Maying," both by Thomas Morley. Bring snacks, drinks, tables, chairs and games for the kids. In the event of rain, the concert will be held inside the Mansion. This concert will also be livestreamed on the Music Department's Facebook page. A $5 donation is encouraged. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GC Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. For more information, please email music@gcsu.edu or call 478-445-8289.

Music Therapy Society wins the Music Therapy Spirit Award

Music, Department of : Tuesday April 18, 2023

The Music Therapy Society of Georgia College was awarded the prestigious Student Spirit Award at the 2023 Southeastern Region Music Therapy Conference, held in Chattanooga, TN. The Spirit Award is awarded to a student music therapy organization that demonstrates outstanding service to the community, involvement at regional and state conferences, and membership to the American Music Therapy Association. The Music Therapy Society was only one of two schools recognized across 10 southeastern states and two U.S. territories (Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands).

Among those attending included 16 current music therapy students, from 2nd year students to seniors completing their music therapy internship. Further, several music therapy faculty, alumni, and students presented concurrent sessions and poster sessions, sharing their scholarly and clinical work with professionals and other students.

Born Digital: Artistic Production in the Age of ARPANET

Art, Department of : Tuesday April 18, 2023

The Georgia College Department of Art Presents

Alana Wolf-Johnson

Visiting Artists and Scholars Program Scholar in Residence, April 18-21, 2023

Public Lecture: April 20, 5:00-6:00 PM, A&S 272

Born Digital: Artistic Production in the Age of ARPANET

Recent headlines suggest that applying computer algorithms to art is a recent development. While it may be hard to resist trying on the latest AI filter dominating your favorite social media application, the origins of computer-assisted and -generated art go back much further. Building upon a series of high-profile collaborations between artists and engineers during the 1960s, the 1970s witnessed a wildly fertile period of creativity that led choreographers, musicians, and visual artists to explore the possibilities of digital technologies. In this talk, you will learn about leading-edge forays into artistic production during the earliest days of the internet.

Alana Wolf-Johnson is an art historian, critic, and curator whose work examines how modern and contemporary artists express human perception and engage with technology. Most recently serving as the Utah Museum of Fine Arts' collections research curator, Dr. Wolf-Johnson has organized and curated exhibitions for the North Carolina Museum of Art, the Atlanta Contemporary, and the Ronald Rettner Hall for Media Arts and Innovation. She co-founded and served as artistic director for Public Acts of Art, a non-profit dedicated to arts education and exhibition in nontraditional venues, and her research has been sponsored by the National Endowment for the Arts and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. Presently writing for Southwest Contemporary magazine, Wolf-Johnson is preparing a book project that explores how art, technology, and countercultural movements intersected on North American college campuses in the 1970s. In 2021, Wolf-Johnson received her doctorate in Visual and Cultural Studies from the University of Rochester.

University Historian Dr. Bob Wilson to give lecture and sign new book on GCSU history

History & Geography, Department of : Wednesday April 19, 2023

Dr. Bob Wilson, professor emeritus of history and university historian for Georgia College & State University, will give a lecture and sign copies of his newly-finished book, "125 Years of Georgia College (1889-2014) The History of Georgia's Public Liberal Arts University," at 6 p.m. Wednesday, April 19, in the state dining room at Georgia's Old Governor's Mansion.

There will be a reception and refreshments after his talk.

This official update to the university's history took Wilson five years to complete. It spans the university's history from 1889 to 2014. The highlight year is 1996, when the university was declared the state's only liberal arts institution under the administration of former university president Dr. Rosemary DePaolo. She served from 1997 to 2003.

"That was the instrumental change for this college," Wilson said.

The talk and reception are free and open to the public. Copies of Wilson's book are available for $20 at the Mansion gift shop.

April is Stress Awareness and Management Month

Human Resources, Office of : Wednesday April 19, 2023

Common causes of stress include work, life events, fear and uncertainty. Acute stress (short-term) can be motivational, but left unchecked, it can cause physical and emotional problems. Sustained stress over a prolonged period (chronic stress) can lead to more serious health problems such as depression, weight gain or loss, heart attack, and high blood pressure, to name a few. Learn about the resources, programs and live events offered through USG Well-being that can help you manage your stress on the USG Well-Being website.

Employee Assistance Program (EAP)

Kepro provides employee assistance and work-life solutions to improve wellness, enhance work performance and improve your financial health. Get confidential support for you and your household members. Visit the USG's My Life Expert website (Company Code: USGCares) or call 844-243-4440. See EAP flyer for detailed services.

Live Events

Learn techniques for managing stress by attending the stress management series hosted by Kaiser. Earn 250 points for attending a Money Monday or Well-being Wednesday event.

Virgin Pulse

Discover a digital journey on Virgin Pulse to help reduce stress, anxiety and depression, or grief and loss. Or contact a well-being coach to help you manage your stress. You can earn 1,500 points for completing a journey or 1,000 points per coaching call (up to six).

Financial Health

Schedule a virtual, confidential appointment with CAPTRUST to answer your money-related questions, get personalized advice and help you plan for retirement. Employees and spouses enrolled in a USG healthcare plan can earn 4,000 points in 2023 USG Well-being credits for completing a CAPTRUST Financial Blueprint.

Explore local environmental justice issues during today's 2023 Sustainability Symposium

Sustainability, Office of : Thursday April 20, 2023

Georgia College & State University Office of Sustainability and Sustainability Council are pleased to announce the 2023 Sustainability Symposium & Geospatial Public Health Forum: Examining Environmental Justice by Exposing Waste Issues in our Community and Exploring Our Role in Remediation. Our hope is that this symposium will inspire revolutionary conversations and solutions that will transform the way our communities of GCSU and Baldwin and surrounding counties approach waste treatment and environmentalism.

The Sustainability Symposium's goal is to shed light on environmental justice issues that Baldwin and surrounding counties are facing and encourage conversation and collaboration to get these issues resolved. The symposium is to take place on April 20th, 2023, starting at 5:30 pm in the Arts and Sciences Auditorium. The event will include light refreshments and breakout groups based on interest following panelist speaker addresses. Speakers at the symposium will represent Georgia College & State University's Aquatic Sciences Center, Rural Studies Institute, and Center for Health and Social Issues, as well as a wide variety of representation from many of GCSU's academic departments.

The Georgia College & State University Office of Sustainability and Sustainability Council have been working to make our community more sustainable for the last fifteen years. We feature a unique composting program that diverts food waste from the campus dining hall away from landfills, we have made recycling available campus-wide, promote education programming such as the West Campus Garden, and offer resources to students such as the Campus Corner, a free clothing and food pantry. The annual symposium gives us a platform to celebrate sustainability and broaden our impact in the community.

For more information about the Sustainability Symposium, or to request further information about Georgia College & State University Office of Sustainability and Sustainability Council, please visit the Office of Sustainability website or contact sustaingc@gcsu.edu.

GCSU team scored $5,000 prize at Global Scaling Challenge

College of Business & Technology : Friday April 21, 2023

Three students from the College of Business and Technology tied for third and won $5,000 in the Anderson School of Management Global Scaling Challenge this weekend.

Joseph Dubsky, James McCallum and Grant Jones represented Georgia College & State University in the competition, where they presented a plan for an aerospace company's expansion. Only half of the competing teams made it to finals.

"Our team placing this high in the final rankings of the competition highlights how our university develops soft skills like creative problem solving, communication and teamwork in a way most big universities just can't," said Dr. Nicholas Creel, assistant professor of business law. "As their faculty mentor, I was figuring out the competition's rules and the grading rubrics alongside the students. Nevertheless, these guys came out strong and dominated as though they were seasoned veterans of the competition."

FY2023 Year-End Deadlines Approaching

Finance & Administration : Friday April 21, 2023

UPCOMING CRITICAL DEADLINES

The fiscal year-end is approaching, which means we must accurately account for the institution's financials before closing out the fiscal year on June 30, 2023. This includes ensuring that any funding that can possibly lapse (go back to the state) is accounted for properly. As a state entity, we are governed by certain purchasing policies and procedures, which include deadlines for purchases of varying dollar amounts. To ensure that expenditures are properly reported during the transition of fiscal years, we have deadlines for receiving transactional items. These deadlines, as listed below, are necessary to guarantee that transactions are properly executed and that our financials are appropriately reported.

CRITICAL DEADLINES

Purchase Order cutoff dates:

- May 1, 2023– Requisitions up to $25,000, state or agency contract purchases for any amount.

Project Requests and Purchases

- e-Procurement will not allow requisitions to be entered after May 1, 2023. Requisitions must be entered before 5 p.m. May 1, 2023, in order to be processed. Requisitions must also be approved and have a valid budget check by the dates above in order to provide adequate time for processing. If you have any questions concerning whether items are non-contract or contract, please contact the Purchasing staff at 478-445-4458.

P-Card cutoff dates:

- May 26, 2023– All P-Card transactions occurring between April 28, 2023, through May 27, 2023, must be allocated and signed off by cardholders and approvers in Works. P-Card purchases after this date will not be included in the FY2023 budget. This cutoff will help ensure that all transactions posted on or before this date are posted to your FY 2023 budgets. There may be circumstances where a transaction is delayed and does not post until after the above date. In those cases, the charge will be posted against your FY2024 budget. You can continue to use your card after the above date with the understanding that those charges will be posted against your FY2024 budget.

- June 9, 2023 – Signed P-Card statements with receipts and approvals are due in the Purchasing Department by 5 p.m.

Accounting Services cutoff dates:

- May 1, 2023 – Last day to submit online check requests (i.e., registrations, memberships, direct billings for hotel/car rental, hotel prepayments, refunds, food items, Sodexo invoices, etc.), that are needed before July 14, 2022.
- June 9, 2023 – All petty cash requests for reimbursements are due to Accounting Office by 5 p.m.
- June 16, 2023 – Approved paper travel expense statements (for non-employee, encumbered or international travel) are due by 5 p.m.

Travel cutoff dates:

- May 1, 2023 – Year End Travel Form (see attached)- This form is required for any travel within May 1, 2023 – June 30, 2023, period for encumbrances purposes.
- June 14, 2023 – Last day to submit Online Travel for reimbursement. For questions on year-end travel, please call Omega Hedgepeth at 478-445-1178 or email her at omega.hedgepeth@gcsu.edu.

User Charges cutoff dates:

- June 9, 2023 – Deadline for monthly user charges including Bookstore, gas, mail and Print Shop. For questions, please call Young-Ho Cha at 478-445-6801.

Payroll fiscal year-end notice:

- June 24, 2023 – Any hours submitted after June 24, 2023, for Non-Benefitted Temporary Employees (students, casual labor, hourly rehired retirees) will be posted to the FY 2024 budget. Please keep this in mind for any employees working during the June 25 – June 30, 2023, pay period.

Please use the following contact list for additional information or clarification:

Purchase Orders and P-Cards (Purchasing) – (478) 445-4458

Petty Cash (Accounting) – (478) 445-2961

Online Check Request (Accounting) – (478) 445-2961

Travel Reimbursements, Travel Advances and Year-End Travel (Accounting) – (478) 445-1178

Payroll – (478) 445-6096

Budget Office – (478) 445-8295

Thank you for your efforts in maintaining these policies and procedures.

Chemistry Professor wins 2023 COPLAC Award for impactful teaching

Chemistry, Physics, & Astronomy, Department of : Monday April 24, 2023

Dr. Catrena Lisse, chemistry professor and director of Georgia College & State University's Science Education Center, has won the 2023 Charles Dunn Award from the Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC).

Dr. Eric Tenbus, dean of the College of Arts & Sciences, called the honor well-deserved, saying Lisse continues to be a “tremendous ambassador” for Georgia College.

“We’re ecstatic for Dr. Lisse to have won the COPLAC’s Dunn award,” Tenbus said. “She fully represents the teacher-scholar model as a faculty member and has been a tireless proselytizer for science education throughout the region for many years.”

“We are so pleased that she represents the College of Arts and Sciences in her interactions with the area’s schools—whether running a statewide science fair or mentoring high school and possibly future GCSU students in our Young Scientists Academy in the summer,” he said.

Along with the distinction, Lisse was given a $500 cash prize.

The award is given in memory of the late Charles Dunn, former president of Henderson State University who appreciated the role faculty play in student success.

In giving Lisse the news, COPLAC Executive Director Cole Woodcox wrote: “Your work exemplifies the value of attending a place like Georgia College & State University. On behalf of the 30-member COPLAC Board of Directors, I wish to congratulate you on this recognition of your exceptional work to advance students’ success at GCSU. Thank you for making a public liberal arts education so meaningful.”

Lisse got her Ph.D. at Georgia Institute of Technology and has taught at Georgia College since 2002. She is heavily involved in undergraduate research and community outreach. Through programs like the annual Chemistry Fair, STEMing into the Community and Young Scientists Academy—Lisse works tirelessly to break down barriers that impede historically underrepresented groups from higher education and STEM-related fields.

Lisse made accessibility in STEM-related fields a priority at GCSU and within the community. She also participates in a Leadership Development Affinity Group, Women in Science, which provides professional support and networking to women in STEM. She has mentored more than 60 undergraduate research students.

At Georgia College, Lisse also received the university's Inclusive Excellence Award and, more recently, the Bobcat Award for Outstanding Service to Students.

34th Annual JazzFest- Special Guest: Mace Hibbard, saxophone

Music, Department of : Monday April 24, 2023

Saturday, April 29 The Georgia College & State University (GCSU) Department of Music, in partnership with Allied Arts in Milledgeville, invites the community to Front Campus from 2:30 to 8:30 p.m. for the 34th Annual JazzFest. The evening showcases live performances from local middle and high school bands, the Georgia College Alumni Band and a performance by the Georgia College Jazz Band, featuring renowned saxophonist Mace Hibbard. JazzFest offers local band students an opportunity to shine in a 30-minute performance and receive invaluable feedback from guest clinicians on improving their musicianship. This event also provides jazz lovers and community members a relaxing evening of local and professional entertainment. Bring a picnic blanket and lawn chair. Food and drinks will be on sale, provided by GCSU student organizations Phi Mu Alpha and Sigma Alpha Iota. For more information on JazzFest, contact Cliff Towner at (478) 445-4346 or clifford.towner@gcsu.edu.

In the Media Studio

Communication, Department of : Monday April 24, 2023

This week, Sports Anchor Marvin James will be our guest on "In the Media Studio." This is a 45-minute lecture and guest series with various media personalities from broadcast, print, public relations and other media backgrounds. Professor Molly Wilkins, lecturer in the Department of Communication, is your host, along with two students. Professor Bill Burke will produce the event, along with Keith Bergeron and a team of communication students.

"In the Media Studio" takes its inspiration from the famed "Inside the Actors Studio" series.

This week's guest, Marvin James, is a sports anchor/sports executive producer at 13WMAZ in Macon. He joined 13WMAZ in May 1999 as a video journalist and worked in several newsroom management positions. In the Fall 2006, Marvin joined the on-air cast of Football Friday Night, covering Houston, Peach and surrounding areas. Now, he serves as sports anchor, in addition to his recurring role with Football Friday Night which airs at 11:35 p.m. in the fall.

Marvin was born into a military family at Lakenheath AB, England and lived in California, New Jersey, South Carolina and Germany before settling in Georgia while in high school. He graduated from Warner Robins High School and was awarded an athletic scholarship to Georgia Southern University to play football. He graduated with a degree in broadcast journalism.

Marvin and his wife, Dr. Damita James have one daughter, Yasmine Drew. His hobbies include community service with his fraternity brothers of Omega Psi Phi, watching sports on TV and writing.

REMINDER: Please Submit your Contracts and Agreements for Next Fiscal Year

Legal Affairs : Monday April 24, 2023

Hello,

As we look towards a new fiscal year, the Office of Legal Affairs is reaching out to the agreement/contract submitters to become proactive in our process of reviewing submitted documents. To allow sufficient time for this process, we are urging our submitters to begin the process now for the 2023-2024 year. This will allow you adequate time to negotiate any terms for your purchases and be ready to process your requisitions when the new fiscal begins.

Please reach out to your vendor contacts. Then, please enter the information in the Proposed Legal Contract portal (https://georgiacollege-bsucw.formstack.com/forms/legal_contract_entry_form). This information should be a proposal/quote, and any of the following that may apply:

- T&C -Terms and Conditions
- SOW - Statement of Work
- MSA – Master Service Agreement
- A link/website that states additional items pertaining to the agreement

Note that this process is a precursor to entering your requisitions for the upcoming fiscal year. Feel free to contact me with any questions or concerns.

Thank you!

Writing for Success grant brings author Mary Carpenter to Milledgeville

O'Connor Institute : Tuesday April 25, 2023

Mary Carpenter, author of "Flannery O'Connor: A Girl Who Knew Her Own Mind" will visit Midway Hills Academy and Lakeview Academy for a two-week writing residency as part of the Writing for Success grant through the Andalusia Institute. The Writing for Success Grant is a 100% federally funded project that aims to increase reading, writing, speaking and listening skills in the Milledgeville/Baldwin County community. The $385,000 grant supports local educators in crafting a responsive 5th grade literacy curriculum by providing resources including text sets, classroom supplies, field trips, podcasting and GCSU mentor support. Project Director Dr. Jordan Cofer says, "We are very excited about hosting Ms. Carpenter. Her book has made O'Connor accessible to a whole new audience who will be able to enjoy and appreciate not just O'Connor's writing but the important contributions she has made in her life."

"Flannery O'Connor: A Girl Who Knew Her Own Mind" is the anchor text for the fourth unit of study for the 5th grade of Baldwin County Schools. This high-low text is about renowned American author, Flannery O'Connor: her rural southern upbringing, her relationship to race, her chronic lupus and her Catholic faith. Through her fiction, O'Connor became a role model for unconventional girls everywhere and for anyone who dreams of becoming a writer. High-low texts are written for readers with a high interest level and low reading skill level. Mary Carpenter has written three high-low texts, inspired by her son's struggle to find interesting books while learning to read.

Carpenter will visit with 5th grade students and teachers at both academies to discuss her writing process and answer questions. She'll lead students through a writing exercise and encourage them to find inspiration in the place they live, much like Flannery O'Connor was inspired by the sights, sounds and settings of Milledgeville during her time writing at Andalusia Farm in the 1950s and 1960s. Carpenter states, "Much of what I say about Flannery and my biography of her is connected to Georgia. Even after she was compelled at age 25, because of her lupus, to return to Georgia and to move back in with her mother, Flannery said, "The best of my writing has been done here." I'm looking forward to my own return to Milledgeville, to the places where Flannery lived and wrote most of her fiction -- and where so much of her life and work are preserved, at Andalusia and at Georgia College."

The community is invited to attend a Book Signing co-sponsored by Allied Arts and the Andalusia Institute Wednesday, April 26 from 4 to 5 p.m. at the Marlor House and a Meet the Author event at Mary Vinson Memorial Library children's theater Thursday, April 27 at 4 p.m. Both events are free and open to the public.

Southern Teachers Agency Tabling TODAY at A&S Fountain!

Career Center : Tuesday April 25, 2023

Southern Teachers Agency will be at the A&S Fountain on Tuesday, April 25th from 11 am - 1 pm to share information about available teaching opportunities. Bring a few copies of your resume and stop by to connect with a recruiter!

Southern Teachers Agency helps college graduates find teaching jobs in college-preparatory schools around the South. While successful progress through a teacher-education program is prized, and essential for some jobs (e.g., for elementary, music, arts, and P.E. teachers), for many positions a teaching certificate is not required. Math majors can be hired to teach math; Spanish majors can teach Spanish, etc. Candidates do, however, need a strong academic record and the personal characteristics that will enable them to manage and motivate K-12 students. To summarize: Teacher certification is not required for most jobs.

Last Times Talk of the semester Wednesday, April 26, noon-12:50 p.m., Library 241; “Are libraries and access to information still considered public goods?” Facilitated by Dr. Shaundra Walker

American Democracy Project : Tuesday April 25, 2023

Join us this Wednesday at noon in 241 Russell Library for the last Times Talk of the semester, an informative and engaging conversation facilitated by Dr. Shaundra Walker, director and associate professor of library science at Georgia College & State University on the topic “Are libraries and access to information still considered public goods?”

The following articles may be referred to during the discussion, so feel free to read them ahead of time; White House Pushes Journals to Drop Paywalls on Publicly Funded Research: <https://www.nytimes.com/2022/08/25/us/white-house-federally-funded-research-access.html>, To Restore Civil Society, Start with the Library: <https://www.nytimes.com/2018/09/08/opinion/sunday/civil-society-library.html> and Attempts to Ban Books Doubled in 2022: <https://www.nytimes.com/2023/03/23/books/book-ban-2022.html>.

Times Talk at Georgia College is celebrating 18 continuous years as the first in the nation to hold a college weekly discussion series on current and significant public events and issues as reported by the New York Times and other reputable news sources. The topics change weekly and are chosen and facilitated by volunteer faculty, staff, students and community members. Times Talks are open to all campus and local community members. Just bring your brain, and there's free pizza while it lasts!

Guidance & Clarification: Summer Schedule 2023

Human Resources, Office of : Tuesday April 25, 2023

In preparation for the start of the summer schedule, which is Monday – Thursday 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Friday 8 a.m. to 12:00 p.m., beginning on May 8 and continuing through August 4, 2023, the Office of Human Resources and Payroll Services has outlined important information for guidance and procedural awareness:

30-Minute Lunches

Supervisors have the flexibility to work with their staff to modify lunch breaks up to 1 hour, as needed. If an additional 30 minutes are approved for lunch:

1. The employee will be required to work an additional 30 minutes to ensure the required hours are worked for the day; the 30 minutes can be added to the beginning or the end of the scheduled workday.
2. The full 1-hour lunch break must be taken around the middle of the workday (ideally between 11 a.m. – 2 p.m.); the additional 30 minutes for lunch may NOT be taken at the beginning or end of the workday to allow for a later arrival or earlier departure.

Working Beyond Summer Operational Hours (Noon on Fridays and Weekends)

Departmental authorities can modify employee schedules as deemed appropriate to ensure commitments are met. Every effort will be made to accommodate scheduling needs using flextime before using compensatory time or overtime when circumstances arise:

1. Flextime: Modifications to work schedules should be requested by the employee and will be subject to approval by the supervisor and the VP of their respective area. See the attached document, Flextime Agreement for Summer 2023; this form must be completed for any employee requesting a modification to the standard summer hours. Any modifications to the standard summer work schedule must be documented in accordance with the Flextime, Compensatory Time and Overtime Policy.
2. Compensatory time (comp time): Employees are prohibited from working any hours outside of the scheduled workday unless a supervisor has authorized the unscheduled work in advance in accordance with USG policy. Bi-weekly paid employees must maintain accurate time records in OneUSG and comply with the established policy above.
3. Overtime: Only certain departments have been pre-approved to work overtime should the need exist. All other departments should follow the guidelines outlined above related to flextime and compensatory time.

Work Schedules, Leave Requests and Holidays

1. All employees have work schedules within OneUSG. All work schedules will be changed by Payroll Services no later than May 5, 2023, to reflect the new summer work schedule. Any exceptions require a fully executed Flextime Agreement for Summer 2023 form on file with the Office of Human Resources, copied to Payroll Services.
1. Action item: Flextime Agreement for Summer 2023 forms must be submitted by all deadlines listed in the table at the end of the Flextime Agreement for Summer 2023 form to avoid inaccurate pay or leave balances.
1. For vacation and sick leave that has already been requested and approved, do not modify. All previously requested and approved vacation and sick leave should automatically change in the system once the schedules have been updated.
1. Action item: Please review after the change is made on 5/5/23 to make sure that all requested leave for the summer is correct on your timesheet and approved.
1. For the weeks in which holidays occur (Memorial Day, Juneteenth and Independence Day), the work week will revert to the regular hours of operation, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Therefore, submit any leave requests during these weeks based on the regular hours of operation.

As we move forward, the office of Human Resources and Payroll Services are available for guidance pertaining to the existing Georgia College & State University policies and procedures.

Contacts

- Questions related to policies and related forms should be directed to the Office of Human Resources at (478) 445-5596 or employeerelations@gcsu.edu.
- Questions pertaining to work schedules, reporting hours on your timecard, and submitting leave requests should be directed to Payroll Services at (478) 445-6096 or payroll@gcsu.edu.

Celebrate the Opening of the Fishing Creek Trail, today, at the Oconee River Greenway

News You Can Use : Wednesday April 26, 2023

The creation of this segment of the Fishing Creek Trail had a lot of support from Georgia College & State University. Dr. Jim Lidstone, former director of the Center for Health and Social Issues, was a major catalyst in getting the City, County, and Greenway Authority together to compete for outside funding. Mass Communication majors helped promote the Live Healthy Baldwin program through social media posts and event planning. Geography Professor Dr. Doug Oetter and numerous Geography students donated over 500 hours of hard work to the surveying and design of the route, and much of that time qualified as matching for the funding grants.

Mary Carpenter has written three high-low texts, inspired by her son's struggle to find interesting books while learning to read.

Carpenter will visit with 5th grade students and teachers at both academies to discuss her writing process and answer questions. She'll lead students through a writing exercise and encourage them to find inspiration in the place they live, much like Flannery O'Connor was inspired by the sights, sounds and settings of Milledgeville during her time writing at Andalusia Farm in the 1950s and 1960s. Carpenter states, "Much of what I say about Flannery and my biography of her is connected to Georgia. Even after she was compelled at age 25, because of her lupus, to return to Georgia and to move back in with her mother, Flannery said, "The best of my writing has been done here." I'm looking forward to my own return to Milledgeville, to the places where Flannery lived and wrote most of her fiction -- and where so much of her life and work are preserved, at Andalusia and at Georgia College."

The community is invited to attend a Book Signing co-sponsored by Allied Arts and the Andalusia Institute Wednesday, April 26 from 4 to 5 p.m. at the Marlor House and a Meet the Author event at Mary Vinson Memorial Library children's theater Thursday, April 27 at 4 p.m. Both events are free and open to the public.

GC Welcomes New Executive Director of the Sandra Dunagan Deal Center for Early Language and Literacy on July 1, 2023

Provost & Academic Affairs, Office of the : Wednesday April 26, 2023

I am pleased to announce that following a national search, Dr. Lindee Morgan, has accepted the position of Executive Director of the Sandra Dunagan Deal Center for Early Language and Literacy and will join Georgia College & State University on July 1, 2023.

Dr. Morgan is a licensed speech-language pathologist and has served in a variety of academic and administrative roles within the areas of communication sciences and disorders, autism, and language and literacy development in young children. She is a visionary, results-oriented leader whose excellent communication skills will significantly contribute to her ability to work collaboratively with all stakeholders to promote and advance the statewide mission of The Deal Center at Georgia College & State University.

Dr. Morgan brings over 25 years of varied professional activities in higher education and the public/private sector with extensive research experiences and significant research funding through grants and private and corporate donations. Her research has focused on investigating treatments to improve active engagement, social communication, and other relevant outcomes for vulnerable children. Dr. Morgan most recently served as an associate professor in the Division of Autism and Related Disorders in the Department of Pediatrics at Emory University School of Medicine and as the co-director of the Education Sciences Research Core at the Marcus Autism Center and the co-director of the Louise and Brett Samsky Preschool, both of Children's Healthcare of Atlanta. Previously, Dr. Morgan served in academic and administrative roles at Florida State University, serving as the director of the Florida State University Center for Autism and Related Disabilities and associate director of the Autism Institute in Florida State University's College of Medicine. Dr. Morgan has a well-developed understanding and great passion for the critical role the Deal Center has as the state's research and training hub for leading early language and literacy development.

I would like to thank the members of the Search Committee who worked very hard to complete this search successfully:

- Mark Pelton (chair), associate vice principal, president for Strategic Initiatives
- Amy Jacobs, commissioner, Georgia Department of Early Care and Learning and Chair of the Governing Board of the Sandra Dunagan Deal Center for Early Language and Literacy
- Arianne Weldon, director, Get Georgia Reading Campaign, vice chair, Governing Board of the Sandra Dunagan Deal Center for Early Language and Literacy
- Dr. Alexandra Berglund, assistant principal, professor, Reading, Literacy and Language
- Kimberly Scott, administrative office manager, Sandra Dunagan Deal Center
- Emily Boewadt, senior development officer
- Dr. Nicole DeClouette, interim associate dean, John H. Lounsbury College of Education

- Dr. Tsu-Ming Chiang, professor of Psychology
- Michelle Grove, director, Montessori Academy at Georgia College

I would also like to recognize the Deal Center staff who provided a significant amount of administrative support for the search.

Please join me in congratulating Dr. Lindee Morgan and welcoming her to this critical leadership role at Georgia College!

Thank you,

Dr. Holley Roberts

Associate Provost for Academic Affairs and Director of The Graduate School

Mental Health-You are NOT Alone!

Nursing, School of : Friday April 28, 2023

The National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) is a mental health organization expanding across all 50 states. The organization's beginnings were initiated over lunch between two mothers who both had sons with schizophrenia. It grew into a national establishment that educates communities across the country, provides support and advocacy and listens. NAMI continuously researches mental health and has shared this information for public use. There are numerous resources available on their website at nami.org ranging from infographics, articles, videos, podcasts, discussion groups, webinars, publications and reports and more. They also have opportunities for fundraising, if interested! Go to their website and look for "Get Involved" and then "Find a NAMIWalk." This is a great way to show your support and raise awareness for NAMI and mental illness.

Do you or someone you know have or may have Anxiety Disorder? ADHD? Depression? Suicidal Thoughts? Eating Disorder? OCD? PTSD?

Then check it out! You are NOT Alone!

Emergency Water Conservation Advisory

University Communications : Saturday April 29, 2023

Update: April 29, 2023, 6:18 p.m.

The City of Milledgeville has canceled the Boil Water Advisory issued on Friday, April 28.

City officials ask that water conservation efforts continue through Wednesday, May 3, when repairs to the high service pump at its water treatment facility are expected to be complete.

Georgia College & State University will continue normal operations throughout the week of Monday, May 1 through Friday, May 5. Final exams will continue as scheduled.

Thank you for your patience as the City of Milledgeville issued its emergency water conservation and boil water advisories.

Update: April 27, 2023, 4:36 p.m.

On Friday April 28, normal campus operations will resume for students, faculty and staff.

Although we are seeing improvements to the water pressure across campus, the City of Milledgeville is continuing to work on repairs to its water system and issued a boil water advisory notice earlier today. While the boil water advisory is in effect, we encourage everyone to be familiar with CDC Boil Water Advisory guidelines.

Georgia College continues to stay in close contact with the City of Milledgeville. The city's water officials are testing water samples to ensure the safety of the water supply before ending the boil water advisory, so we do not know how long it will be in effect. (In the past, the city's boil water advisories have lasted from 24 hours up to 72 hours.) Also, water conservation measures will remain in effect for today (Thursday) although we anticipate that they will be withdrawn when the city completes its portable pump installation. We will notify the campus community as soon as we learn more.

Bottled water is available for students who reside in on-campus housing at The MAX dining hall and on GCSU buses. Please make sure to have your Bobcat Card ready when picking up water.

Students who reside in off-campus housing are encouraged to take advantage of the water

distribution site organized by the City of Milledgeville at the Baldwin County Government Annex building not far from campus. We also encourage faculty and staff to bring bottled water to work tomorrow.

Due to the boil water advisory currently in effect, some of our dining operations need to be modified as follows:

- The MAX will remain open regular operating hours with a limited menu.
- Chick-fil-A and AFC Sushi will remain open during regular operating hours.
- The West Campus convenience store will remain open until midnight, but the Pizza Hut will not be able to serve pizza.
- All other retail dining locations will be closed until further notice.

As water pressure is restored across campus, please notify our Facilities Department at 478-445-4279 between 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. or contact your CA or Public Safety after business hours if you notice anything unusual related to our water infrastructure.

Update: April 27, 2023, 10:33 a.m.

The City of Milledgeville has indicated plans to issue a Boil Water Advisory today. Please refer to the City of Milledgeville advisory for this most recent update. You can learn more about how to ensure your safety during a Boil Water Advisory on the CDC website

Georgia College & State University will distribute bottled drinking water to residents of on-campus housing beginning at 11 a.m., today in the Max Dining Hall. Housing residents will need to present their Bobcat Card to receive bottled water.

Students who reside in off-campus housing are asked to utilize a water distribution center set up by the City of Milledgeville at the Baldwin County Government Annex building, located at 1601 N. Columbia Street.

Drinking water distribution at the city site began at 9:00 a.m., this morning, April 27, 2023.

Please look for further communications on Front Page.

Update: April 26, 2023, 6:16 p.m.

Milledgeville city officials have made some progress today in replacing valves in the water system, but have informed us that they do not expect significant improvement in the water pressure situation until the new pump arrives on Thursday from New Jersey and is installed as soon thereafter as possible.

Accordingly, the city has asked us as one of its top water users to support their ongoing conservation efforts by continuing to have as many employees work remotely as possible. We have monitored buildings all around campus, including West Campus, and have found the most impact on upper levels of multi-floor buildings where toilets/urinals may not flush well because of the low water pressure. Other toilets on campus are flushing but may refill very slowly. We have not had any reports of water outages, but should you encounter this issue please notify Facilities as soon as possible (students in residence halls should notify their CA's).

Given the urgency here at the end of the semester, we will again modify our operations on Thursday, April 27, as much as we can without disrupting the essential things that need to be wrapped up at this time of year. Specifically:

- All classes will meet as scheduled and all instructional personnel will report for normal schedules on Thursday, April 27.
- Non-instructional personnel who can work from home are encouraged to continue doing so on Thursday with the approval of your supervisors.
- If your supervisor has asked you to return to campus to work today, Wednesday, please plan to do so again on Thursday, April 27.

Sodexo continues to provide dining services as normal, and other parts of our campus are operating without interruption. We are all hopeful that this situation will be improved by late Thursday – but we will provide another update on Thursday as soon as we can get additional information from the city.

Update: April 25, 2023, 4:48 p.m.

Milledgeville city officials have advised us this afternoon that they have located a temporary pump to help remedy the current water pressure situation but it cannot be installed until Thursday at the earliest. Accordingly, GCSU campus operations will be modified on Wednesday, April 26, just as they were today.

Specifically, all classes will be held and all instructional personnel will report for normal schedules on Wednesday, April 26. Other non-instructional personnel who were notified to report to campus today (Tuesday) will need to report to work on Wednesday. If your supervisor notified you to work remotely or to remain off campus on Tuesday, you should do the same on Wednesday.

So far, our reports are that all parts of campus do have water, but some low-pressure issues have been reported. Sodexo has been able to maintain all dining operations, including scheduled special events, and we expect that library, transportation, dining, book-store operations and scheduled athletic competitions will continue on normal schedules.

We will provide another update by mid-afternoon on Wednesday about Thursday conditions as we continue to be briefed by city officials.

Update: April 24, 2023, 11:16 p.m.

Georgia College & State University has been advised by City of Milledgeville officials that water system issues are likely to continue throughout the day tomorrow, Tuesday, April 25, resulting in low water pressure or no water in many downtown businesses in and around the campus. As a result, GCSU campus operations will need to be adjusted.

All classes will be held, and all instructional personnel will report for normal schedules on Tuesday. Other non-instructional personnel will hear from their supervisors tonight or early tomorrow about their need to report to campus or work remotely tomorrow. Library, transportation, dining and book-store operations will continue on normal schedules.

We will provide updates by mid-afternoon on Tuesday as we are briefed by the city that could impact campus events scheduled for Tuesday afternoon and evening. Look for further communications through Front Page and GC Alert from Public Safety.

Original Message from the City of Milledgeville

The City of Milledgeville has issued an emergency water conservation request for all customers served by the city's water and sewer utility. The city has determined that system-wide water conservation measures are needed at this time due to the system experiencing a motor failure with a high service pump at the city's water treatment facility. This issue may cause widespread water pressure loss.

While the emergency conservation notice is in effect, all water system customers are asked to please refrain from the following:

- No outside water use in any capacity or volume.
- No filling of swimming pools.
- No watering of gardens, lawns or washing cars. (Commercial car washes using recycling techniques may continue to operate.)

The Recommendation for indoor water conservation is as follows:

- Condense loads of laundry.
- Reduce showering times.
- Turn water off when brushing teeth or shaving.
- Make sure all faucets are turned off.
- Make sure dishwashers are full to minimize loads

Voluntarily following this conservation request will make it less probable that complete water pressure will be lost. This conservation request remains in effect until further notice by the City of Milledgeville. For more information, please visit the City of Milledgeville's website.
