Judy Bales, Unhindered Spirit: Embracing Imperfection

Art, Department of : Tuesday January 7, 2020

Leland Gallery is proud to present Unhindered Spirit: Embracing Imperfection by Iowa Fiber Artist, Judy Bales.

Exhibition: Jan. 13 - Feb. 14, 2020

Fashion Show and Gallery Reception: Thursday, Jan. 16, 5 - 8 p.m.

Fashion Show in Magnolia Ballroom: 5 - 5:45 p.m.

Artist and Curators' Talk in Leland Gallery: 6:15 - 8 p.m.

Unhindered Spirit: Embracing Imperfection, presents the work of artist Judy Bales. Bales works with recycled and salvaged materials, exploring different ways to give them new life by modifying their intended purpose. The artworks at first glance do not appear to be inherently industrial, and their contrasting textures alludes to their ambiguity. Using improvisational techniques as she works, Bales creates unique environments and elicits the imperfections or little surprises that can also be seen in the natural world. When recently interviewed about the future of her field, Bales stated, "The dominant thing I observe happening in the world of fiber and recycled materials is the cross-pollination of all disciplines and the blurring of edges between what used to be clearly defined mediums [...] I think it is still important that the different traditions of cultures are respected and cherished even while they are influencing and integrating with one another."

Judy Bales has over 30 years' experience as an artist in multiple fields, including fiber art, fashion, and sculpture. She received her BFA in painting in 1975 and her MFA in fiber art in 1983, both from the University of Georgia. Bales is inspired by improvisational African American quilts and she has published papers and presented at conferences on the subject. Bales' work has been extensively exhibited in the United States as well as in Canada and New Zealand. Bales resides in Iowa where she continues to create with recycled materials and improvisational techniques in her studio.

This exhibition is curated by Georgia College senior Art majors Grace Callaway and Sophie Daniel in fulfillment of their Museum Studies Capstone thesis project. This event is free and open to the public

Que(e)ries + Community

LGBTQ+ Programs : Wednesday January 15, 2020

The Episcopal Campus Ministry (ECM) invites you to participate in Que(e)ries + Community: a conversation with Reverend Ben Wells about the lives of LGBTQ+ individuals and the church.

Rev. Ben is a priest at St. Francis Episcopal Church in Macon. He attended The Church Divinity School of the Pacific where he earned his M.Div with an emphasis in homiletics and liturgics. After being ordained at St. Bartholomew's in Atlanta, Father Ben relocated to Macon to begin work at St. Francis.

ECM will host Rev. Ben Wells from St. Francis in Macon Wednesday, January 29 at 7 p.m. in A&S 364. This event is open to the entire campus community, regardless of religious affiliation, and it is absolutely free! Please email samantha.haisten@gcsu.edu with any questions you'd like Rev. Ben to address.

Four-week Mindfulness Class - Register Today!

Women's Center : Friday January 17, 2020

Join us for a four-week mindfulness class. The Koru class is designed to be an introduction to the practice of mindfulness and will give participants the opportunity to learn several skills including meditation, for managing stress and enriching their lives.

Korea Mindfulness is the only evidence-based mindfulness curriculum designed for college-age adults.†

Korea's randomized, controlled trial shows results:

- Students reported feeling more calm.
- Students improved their mindfulness.
- Students felt more rested.
- Students had greater self-compassion.

This four-week class will be held on the following days from 1-2:15 p.m. in the Women's Center (on the second floor of the HUB). (Students must attend all four sessions.)

- Monday, January 27
- Monday, February 3
- Monday, February 17
- Monday, February 24

Participants can register at: <http://bit.ly/WCKoruJan20>.

This course is open to all students at GC - all genders are welcome.

While there is no cost for the course, there is a Koru app that participants are asked to download for use during the course. This app costs $3.99 and can be used beyond the length of the course. (It's got several neat features.) If the cost of the app is prohibitive, I do have a limited number of codes where students can obtain the app for free. The use of the app is not necessary for the course, so if you don't have a smart phone or don't want the app, that's ok. Additionally, there is a book used in the course, but this book is available for free as an ebook through the GC library.

†Greeson, J.M., Juberg, M., Maytan, M., James, K., & Rogers, H. Journal of American College Health, 2014.

If you are interested in attending, but are not available Mondays at 1 p.m., send Jennifer Graham an email at: jennifer.graham@gcsu.edu.

Reminder: CTL Workshop - Developing Relationships in a Digital Environment

Center for Teaching & Learning : Monday January 27, 2020

Relationship building is one of the main goals of engaging students in a digital learning environment. Several research studies have found a positive correlation between the level of their students' persistence and success in an online learning environment and students' perceptions of social presence. There are various tools and techniques that can improve social presence in an online environment which includes discussion boards, personalized grading feedback, building collaborative teams, the use of synchronous sessions, and the use of faculty-created videos that link to course content. In this session, Dr. Simeco Vinson, Instructional Designer Specialist, along with Dr. Joy Godin, Associate Professor of Management Information Systems, and Dr. Diane Gregg, Assistant Professor of Library Media and Instructional Technology, will provide participants with information on how to develop relationships with students, as well as some of the benefits of the suggested options.

Music Lecture

Wednesday, March 25 Imani Mosley, a visiting assistant professor of music at Wichita State University, will give a guest lecture titled "'A Work That Speaks Its Own Message': Re-evaluating the Twentieth-Century American Canon in the Twenty-First Century" at 7:30 p.m. in Max Noah Recital Hall. As we enter the third decade of the 21st Century, there is need for fresh perspectives on the history, influence and status of the 20th-Century American compositional canon. Difficult conversations are still being held today in musical spaces, concerning race, gender and privilege. There is newfound interest in the work of black composers, such as Florence Price, William Grant Still, Margaret Bonds and George Walker. Lesser-known composers are becoming part of a larger conversation about American classical music. Mosley's lecture will examine all these themes. A $10 donation is encouraged. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GC Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. For more information, please email music@gcsu.edu or call 478-445-8289.
