Music Lecture

Wednesday, March 25 Imani Mosley, a visiting assistant professor of music at Wichita State University, will give a guest lecture titled “‘A Work That Speaks Its Own Message’: Re-evaluating the Twentieth-Century American Canon in the Twenty-First Century” at 7:30 p.m. in Max Noah Recital Hall. As we enter the third decade of the 21st Century, there is need for fresh perspectives on the history, influence and status of the 20th-Century American compositional canon. Difficult conversations are still being held today in musical spaces, concerning race, gender and privilege. There is newfound interest in the work of black composers, such as Florence Price, William Grant Still, Margaret Bonds and George Walker. Lesser-known composers are becoming part of a larger conversation about American classical music. Mosley’s lecture will examine all these themes. A $10 donation is encouraged. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GC Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. For more information, please email music@gcsu.edu or call 478-445-8289.

Facebook Live: Exhibition - Owen Lovell, piano

Music, Department of : Thursday March 26, 2020

Monday, March 30 A solo piano recital, "Exhibition," by Georgia College Keyboard Coordinator Dr. Owen Lovell will stream live at 7:30 p.m. at facebook.com/georgiacollegealumni and facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment. It will not be recorded or stay on Facebook after the concert. Like an exhibition, each piece will be 'showy' in a way that represents each composer's style and time period. Some pieces include Franz Liszt's "Vexilla regis prodeunt," a romantic variation of a Latin hymn first sung in the year 569 A.D., and Franz Joseph Haydn's "Sonata No.6 in G Major," a textbook example of keyboard playing in the early classical period with opportunities for improvisation. Modest Mussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition," will also be performed. It's an epic work of many moods, depicting 10 distinct paintings. An online $5 donation is encouraged at alumni.gcsu.edu/music. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GC Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. Music, Department of : Tuesday March 31, 2020

Monday, March 30 A solo piano recital, "Exhibition," by Georgia College Keyboard Coordinator Dr. Owen Lovell will stream live at 7:30 p.m. at facebook.com/georgiacollegealumni and facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment. It will not be recorded or stay on Facebook after the concert. Like an exhibition, each piece will be 'showy' in a way that represents each composer's style and time period. Some pieces include Franz Liszt's "Vexilla regis prodeunt," a romantic variation of a Latin hymn first sung in the year 569 A.D., and Franz Joseph Haydn's "Sonata No.6 in G Major," a textbook example of keyboard playing in the early classical period with opportunities for improvisation. Modest Mussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition," will also be performed. It's an epic work of many moods, depicting 10 distinct paintings. An online $5 donation is encouraged at alumni.gcsu.edu/music. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GC Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. Tuesday, April 14 from 12:30 pm to 2:15 pm

"Flipping" a course is the practice of moving the learning of some of the foundational knowledge of a course outside of face-to-face class time in order to free up time in class for activities that are more active and engaging - activities that need to be done face to face. But how do you create modules that are ideal for students to learn from at home? And then what do you do in class with the time you've freed up? Dr. Cynthia Alby explains! This workshop will be offered twice, once on Monday, April 13, and again on Tuesday, April 14. Registrants will receive a link to join the WebEx session of their choice for this workshop.
