Colin Cutler- In Concert at Andalusia: The Home of Flannery O'Connor

Andalusia : Tuesday March 1, 2022

Andalusia: The Home of Flannery O'Connor is excited to welcome Colin Cutler to Milledgeville on March 9th. He is going to be performing his new album "Peacock Feathers," a concept album inspired by Flannery O'Connor's short stories.

Colin Cutler is a North Carolina-based singer-songwriter. He has released three full-length albums, with his most recent Hot Pepper Jam coming out in 2021, and has had music featured on BBC Introducing, and in a British film adaptation of the popular web series "Zomblogalypse." He has performed in several countries around the world and is currently working on a rock opera based on Dante's Inferno.

The concert will be at 6 pm, and afterward, there will be a CD launch party. We hope that you come out and join us for what is going to be such an awesome night!

Adella Hunt Logan: Librarian, Educator, Reformer, and Suffragist

Ina Dillard Russell Library : Wednesday March 2, 2022

Recent scholarship has shone a light on the experiences of Black women librarians such as Audre Lorde (Pollock & Haley 2018), Nella Larsen (Hochman, 2018), Belle de Costa Green (Ardizzone, 2017), and Regina Andrews Anderson (Whitmire, 2019). As Pollock and Haley (2018) make clear: "Black women have always been integral to first, literacy movements of the 1800s and later librarianship... social justice activism, and literary cultural production have always intersected for middle class, educated Black women." One place where this can be observed is within the profession of librarianship" (15). Someone whose name is absent from the canon of noteworthy Black women librarians is Adella Hunt Logan, a native of Sparta, Hancock County, Georgia. This presentation will explore the degree to which the collection and dissemination of information and social justice activism intersected within her life and work.

Dr. Magoulick's - Book Talk & Signing Event

English, Department of : Friday March 4, 2022

The Department of English invites you to a book talk and signing event on March 7, for Dr. Mary Magoulick's recent book, The Goddess Myth in Contemporary Literature and Popular Culture: A Feminist Critique, published by University Press of Mississippi in February 2022. Dr. Magoulick will analyze examples of film and television goddesses from the last 50 years, and she will give a brief overview of the rest of the book. There will be copies of the book available for purchase via the GC B&N bookstore with a book signing following the talk. There will be light refreshments as well and time for questions and answers.

Dr. Mary Magoulick, trained as a folklorist and literary scholar, has been a professor of English and Women's and Gender Studies at Georgia College since 2000.

The talk will also be available via Zoom:

Please contact Mary Magoulick or The Department of English for the link.

Review of The Goddess Myth

"The Goddess Myth in Contemporary Literature and Popular Culture is the first book I have seen that ties together insights from feminist archaeology, folklore and mythology, literature, pop culture, and contemporary feminist theory in order to better understand the importance of goddess figures in both historical and contemporary modes of thought. Surveying existing scholarship on goddess culture (everything from what we know about prehistorical societies to current-day neo-pagan, Wiccan, and feminist spirituality practices) and adding a folkloristic lens to analyze literary and pop culture versions of goddess myths and tales, Mary J. Magoulick offers a nuanced and intriguing exploration of what goddess figures can and do mean in a variety of media."

- Jeana Jorgensen, folklorist and author

Deal Center for Early Language and Literacy Virtual Learning Series - The Growing Brain Basics - Part 3: Social-Emotional Development and Understanding Behavior

Center for Early Language & Literacy : Tuesday March 8, 2022

The question of how babies' brains grow in the context of relationships is one of the most important topics in early childhood development. Research on this topic is exploding, underscoring the need for early childhood professionals to learn about foundations of brain development and strategies to best support the growing brains of infants and young children. This series supports participants' exploration of key concepts, research, and concrete strategies from ZERO TO THREE's- The Growing Brain: From Birth to 5 Years Old curriculum.

Part 3: Social-Emotional Development and Understanding Behavior—examine how social-emotional development unfolds in the first 5 years, the role relationships and attachment play in this development, the specifics of empathy development, key factors that influence behavior, and root causes and effective strategies to address behaviors that challenge.

1. Summarize how social–emotional development unfolds in the first 5 years.
2. Describe the role of relationships and attachment in social–emotional development.
3. Outline the development of empathy.
4. Identify the key factors that influence behavior.
5. Explain the root causes of behaviors that are challenging and articulate effective strategies to address them.

Featured Presenter: Katrina Macasaet

Katrina is a Manager of Professional Innovations Division with ZERO TO THREE and lead faculty for Critical Competencies and The Growing Brain curricula. As Manager, Katrina leads the design and delivery of presentations at state, regional, and national early childhood conferences, and meetings. Katrina contributes to the development of research-based and evidence-informed infant-toddler competencies, professional learning options, and other department content. Katrina joined ZERO TO THREE in January 2017 after working as an Instructional Coach for the Orange County Department of Education and as a Child Development Instructor for Saddleback College. Katrina has an undergraduate degree in early childhood education and a master's degree in human development.

Free professional learning with CEU's or GaPDS/DECAL credit hours available after completion of session and survey.

GC in NCAA Tournament - Free Tix and Transportation

University Communications : Tuesday March 8, 2022

We learned late Sunday evening that our Men's Basketball Team has made it to the NCAA DII Tournament! Our first-round game is this Saturday at 12:00 PM in Augusta.

I am also excited to announce that we are providing transportation and covering admission cost to the game for the first 50 students to register. If you are a student and do not need transportation, we will also cover your admission cost to the game. You will need to register here: <https://gcsu.campuslabs.com/engage/submitter/form/start/530403>. We anticipate the buses will depart at approximately 9:00 AM on Saturday. The exact time and location will be sent to students after they register. If you do not require transportation, information will be sent to you about when and where you can pick up your tickets. Please note that we must pre-purchase game tickets so we can only cover the cost of your ticket if you register.

Please let me know if you have any questions. I hope to see you in Augusta!

Go Bobcats!

Backburner: Palmetto Saxophone Quartet Concert

Music, Department of : Monday March 14, 2022

Monday, March 28 At 7:30 p.m., Georgia College will host an exciting and unusual chamber music group, The Palmetto Saxophone Quartet, in Max Noah Recital Hall. The concert, entitled “Backburner,” will also be livestreamed on Facebook at www.facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment. The ensemble consists of virtuoso performer/teachers from the Southeast. Dr. Clifford Leaman is a world-renowned saxophone soloist and senior associate dean of the University of South Carolina School of Music. He plays soprano in the group. Sheldon Johnson, a saxophone professor from Radford University plays alto, and professor Matthew Castner from the University of South Carolina, Aiken, plays baritone saxophone. Georgia College’s own Dr. Andrew J. Allen—assistant professor of saxophone and coordinator of woodwinds, brass, and percussion—is the group’s tenor saxophonist. The program features an “incredibly challenging work” by American composer Frank Ticheli, which figures prominently in the concert. A $5 donation is encouraged. Online donations can be made at alumni.gcsu.edu/music. Mail-in donations for music scholarships can be made out to GCSU Foundations, Inc. and sent to GC Music Department, CBX 66, Milledgeville, GA 31061. "Songs and Sonnets" - Terry Endowed Concert Series

Music, Department of : Monday March 14, 2022

Friday, April 8 The 2nd biennial "John and Margaret Terry Endowed Concert Series," entitled "Songs and Sonnets," will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Russell Auditorium. This event, also livestreamed on facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment, will feature University Chorus, Women's Ensemble, Max Noah Singers, the Georgia College Orchestra and Wind Symphony. "Songs and Sonnets" will provide a Shakespearean musical experience, including two masterworks: "Serenade to Music" by Ralph Vaughan Williams and excerpts from Felix Mendelssohn's "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The University Chorus will perform George Shearing's "Songs and Sonnets," and the Wind Symphony will entertain us with excerpts from "William Byrd Suite" by Gordon Jacob. Other pieces include Erich Korngold's "Much Ado About Nothing" for violin and piano, and a piano solo from Sergei Prokofiev's "Romeo and Juliet." An introduction written by Dr. Jennifer Flaherty, associate professor of English, will be read by Dean Eric Tenbus before each group performs. Professional musicians, hired for the performance, will transform the student chamber orchestra into a full symphony orchestra. This concert is in conjunction with the university's 25th celebration as the state's designated public liberal arts institution. Diversity 360 Series Event: Inclusive Leadership

Inclusive Excellence, Office of : Tuesday March 15, 2022

The Office of Inclusive Excellence, in collaboration with the College of Business and the Career Center, will present a virtual Diversity 360 event called "Inclusive Leadership" on Wednesday, March 23 at 4p.m. The Zoom link is <https://tinyurl.com/bdhbyt5p>.

More than ever, companies are prioritizing and implementing diversity and inclusion initiatives. Organizations can recruit from a wide demographic of people. However, diversity efforts will not succeed unless businesses create environments where each demographic in the workplace feels welcomed and valued and has a sense of belonging. Therefore, organizations that commit to creating an inclusive culture not only improve their work environments, but they also positively affect their bottom line.

We invite the GC community to hear from a panel of employers discussing how they incorporate diversity and inclusion practices into their organization's culture, the importance and challenges of hiring and retaining a diverse workforce, and the critical skills employees need to work and succeed in an inclusive workplace.

Guest Panelists:

- Shanterrica Reeves, Talent Acquisition Specialist for Sherman Williams
- Larry Elmore, Senior Director of Talent Acquisition & Inclusion for Kids2
- Annette Slide, Board Chair of the DEI Council for Global Payments

Fulbright Scholarship Info Session

National Scholarships Office at Georgia College : Friday March 18, 2022

Come learn more about how you can apply for a Fulbright Scholarship!

The Fulbright Scholarship funds post-graduate study, research, and English Teaching Assistantships for U.S. citizens. Most programs do not have major restrictions, and many do not have language requirements. (Essentially, there is something for everyone!) At seventy-five years old, it has a history of producing prestigious alumni, including glass artist Dale Chihuly, actor John Lithgow, and poet Rita Dove, among many others.

If you think you might be even remotely interested in this excellent opportunity, I'd encourage you to attend, even if you are a first year-student. (It's never too early to start thinking about Fulbright!)

REMINDER: Diversity 360 Series Event: Inclusive Leadership

Inclusive Excellence, Office of : Monday March 21, 2022

The Office of Inclusive Excellence, in collaboration with the College of Business and the Career Center, will present a virtual Diversity 360 event called "Inclusive Leadership" on Wednesday, March 23 at 4p.m. The Zoom link is <https://tinyurl.com/bdhbyt5p>.

More than ever, companies are prioritizing and implementing diversity and inclusion initiatives. Organizations can recruit from a wide demographic of people. However, diversity efforts will not succeed unless businesses create environments where each demographic in the workplace feels welcomed and valued and has a sense of belonging. Therefore, organizations that commit to creating an inclusive culture not only improve their work environments, but they also positively affect their bottom line.

We invite the GC community to hear from a panel of employers discussing how they incorporate diversity and inclusion practices into their organization's culture, the importance and challenges of hiring and retaining a diverse workforce, and the critical skills employees need to work and succeed in an inclusive workplace.

Guest Panelists:

- Shanterrica Reeves, Talent Acquisition Specialist for Sherman Williams
- Larry Elmore, Senior Director of Talent Acquisition & Inclusion for Kids2
- Annette Slide, Board Chair of the DEI Council for Global Payments

Spring 2022 STEM Industry Night

Career Center : Monday March 21, 2022

Join us for the newly re-implemented annual STEM Industry Night on March 30th from 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m. in Donahoo Lounge as part of the Career & Internship Expo Month. Meet and network with recruiting employers looking to recruit science and math students for jobs, internships, and other experiences. In addition to networking with employers, hear from industry professionals, as part of interactive round table discussions, who will provide information about possible career paths, industry trends, and professional advice.

Freshmen and sophomores are strongly encouraged to attend. Even if you're considering graduate or professional school, this event can help expand your options.

You never have a second chance to make a first impression, so business casual attire is encouraged for this event, particularly for those graduating or seeking full-time jobs and internships. Resumes are also highly encouraged so that you can leave information about yourself with employers. The Career Center is available to help you develop your resume.

Event Agenda:

6:00 – 6:15 p.m. – Check-In & Networking

6:15 – 6:30 p.m. – Welcome & Introduction of Recruiting Employers

6:30 – 7:30 p.m. – Traditional Career Fair Networking

7:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m. - Q & A / Wrap up

Need help with your resume? Make an appointment with the Career Center for a resume review Monday through Friday from 9am-4pm.

CTL/IT Workshop - Using Microsoft Teams for Collaboration

Center for Teaching & Learning : Tuesday March 22, 2022

MS Teams is a cloud-based collaborative software within Microsoft Office, that is designed to bring individuals and groups together to share and store files, meet virtually, and collaborate all in one space. Whether you are working on projects or sharing content, teammates can come together to participate in secure meetings, share files for group work, continuously update files throughout the learning process, and host video conferences. In Teams, you can collaborate in real-time, right where the work is happening, and have informal chats while sharing deliverables. Collaboration and teamwork are effective methods that allow groups to work together to achieve shared goals by brainstorming ideas to develop more solutions – thus helping to reach comprehensive learning. Teams are a hub for teamwork, with possibilities for group assignments and group projects. This communication tool can also support virtual learning and can be used by faculty, students, and staff.

In this session, GC departments of Information Technology (IT) and the Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) come together to present you with information and ideas to maximize the use of Teams in the classroom! Angie Moxley of IT and Jaclyn Queen of CTL will explore how to log in to Teams, Create a Team, create a channel in Teams, and practical classroom uses. The workshop will take place on April 5 at 12 noon and will be hosted as a hybrid session - participants are welcome to attend virtually through a link that will be sent out the morning of the workshop, or face-to-face in Library 376.

History & Geography, Department of : Thursday March 24, 2022

The Department of History and Geography, in collaboration with the Women's and Gender Studies Program and the Latin America, Caribbean, and Latino/a Studies Program, will host a virtual lecture by Dr. Jessica Ordaz on Thursday, April 7th at 12pm Eastern.

Join the event here: <https://tinyurl.com/2rymzxu>

Jessica Ordaz is an Assistant Professor of Ethnic Studies at the University of Colorado Boulder. She received her doctorate from the University of California Davis in American History. During the 2017-2018 academic year, Ordaz was the Andrew W. Mellon Sawyer Seminar postdoctoral fellow at the University of Washington, which focused on comparative racial capitalism. Her first book, The Shadow of El Centro: A History of Migrant Incarceration and Solidarity, was released in March 2021. Her second project will explore the multifaceted history of veganism and plant based foods throughout the Americas, focusing on colonization, food politics, and social justice. This research will illuminate the wider and transnational history of Latinx veganism and how communities of color have engaged with questions of animal, human, and plant relations for centuries.

Virtual Lecture: Crossing Borders in Translation and Making Global Feminist Solidarities

History & Geography, Department of : Thursday March 24, 2022

The Women's and Gender Studies Program will host a virtual lecture by Dr. Emek Ergun on Wednesday, April 20th at 2pm Eastern.

Join the event here: <https://tinyurl.com/gcwgs22>

Feminist texts constantly cross borders in translation, activating various political connections and transformations on their multidirectional routes. Yet, the specifics of such global mobilities and the impact of those translational encounters have not received much scholarly attention in feminist studies or global studies. In my talk, I will discuss the role of translation in enabling global feminist solidarities by drawing on my research study that explores my Turkish translation of Hanne Blank's Virgin (2007/2008) – a popular feminist book that demystifies the “man-made” histories of virginity in the context of western geographies – and the receptions of the translated book among feminist readers in Turkey. Comparing the US and Turkey, two unevenly positioned cultures with different virginity regimes and feminist legacies, my talk will reveal how a western feminist book was strategically mobilized to unsettle Turkey's virginity codes and what kinds of transgressive effects it generated among its feminist readers. I will end the talk by discussing some of the key political lessons that my research has revealed on how to build global feminist solidarities.

Emek Ergun is an Assistant Professor of Women's & Gender Studies and Global Studies at UNC Charlotte. Her area of expertise is at the junction of transnational feminist studies and feminist translation studies. Ergun is the co-editor of Feminist Translation Studies: Local and Transnational Perspectives (Routledge, 2017) and the 5th edition of Feminist Theory Reader: Local and Global Perspectives (Routledge, 2020). She is also an activist translator and her most recent translation is of Octavia Butler's classic novel, Kindred, published in Turkey in 2019. Ergun's first single-authored book titled Virgin Crossing Borders: Feminist Resistance and Solidarity in Translation will be published by the University of Illinois Press in 2023.

MisCast - A Musical, Magical Cabaret!

Theatre & Dance, Department of : Monday March 28, 2022

Looking for a little magic in your life? Come to MisMagicast! MisCast 2022 is a night of back-to-back musical theatre numbers with a twist: GCSU students will perform as characters originally written to be a different gender than their own. We're ready to make our songs funny, heartwarming, and thought-provoking, and we need an audience to help make some magic happen. Join us!

Performances are at the Campus Black Box Theatre this weekend on April 2nd at 7PM and April 3rd at 2PM. Tickets are free, but donations are accepted. We recommend the show for ages 13 and up.

Criminal Justice Reentry Simulation and Dialogue

Government & Sociology, Department of : Monday March 28, 2022

The Criminal Justice Program is conducting a Reentry Simulation hosted by Dr. Alesa Liles in conjunction with the Offender Alumni Association and Dr. Stacy Moak from the University of Alabama-Birmingham. This simulation was developed by the Department of Justice to simulate the struggles and challenges faced by individuals who are transitioning from incarceration back into society. Each participant assumes the identity of an ex-offender and receives a packet of materials explaining the reentrant's criminal background, current living situation, current job situation, and the specific weekly tasks that must be accomplished in order to avoid the risk of being sent back to prison.

The goal of this simulation is for participants to gain an understanding of the significant obstacles faced by men and women attempting to navigate the system upon their release from incarceration and returning home to their communities. Any faculty, staff, students, and community members are invited to participate.

After the simulation, there will be an opportunity to discuss the complexities of the process and the obstacles returning citizens face.

The event will be held in the Museum Education room in the Library on April 21st at 1pm.

Register for the event here as a participant or volunteer to assist:

GC hosts 6th Annual Student Conference for European Studies Certificate

Government & Sociology, Department of : Monday March 28, 2022

The University System of Georgia (USG) 6th Annual European Studies Certificate Student Conference will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday, April 1, at Georgia College in the old train depot, adjacent to the Centennial Center.

This year's topic is "The European Union in a Time of Crisis."

Fifteen students from Georgia College and Valdosta State University will present research on the European Union (EU) and Balkan nations; post-Brexit assessment of the EU; Finland and Ukrainian Refugees; LGBTQ Rights and the EU; the U.S. Federalist Papers and the EU; and more.

GC History Professor William Risch will be the 12:30 p.m. luncheon speaker, covering "The End of Europe As We Know It? Russia, the EU, and the War in Ukraine." In recent years, the EU has confronted one crisis after another including the Euro and sovereign debt; immigration; Brexit; the threat of authoritarianism in Hungary and Poland; the growing influence of China; the Polish border crisis; and successive waves of the Covid pandemic. Now, Europe is at war.

Risch is author of a book on Ukrainian nationalism, "The Ukrainian West: Culture and the Fate of Empire in Soviet Lviv." His second book on the Ukraine crisis, "One Step from Madness: Power and Disillusionment in Ukraine's Euromaidan Revolution," is almost complete.

A student participant of the 2019 conference said, "Getting involved and building connections with professors and fellow students has been the aspect of college that has stuck with me beyond graduation, and I'm incredibly grateful I could participate in the EU Studies conference."

This conference is made possible with the support of the department of Government and Sociology at Georgia College, the Sam Nunn School of International Affairs at Georgia Tech and the department of Political Science at Valdosta State. The conference is co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union.

Come to the Margaret Harvin Wilson Writing Award Ceremony today to hear creative written works of talented students

English, Department of : Tuesday March 29, 2022

Escape for a moment while you listen to the written works of our talented students during the Margaret Harvin Wilson Writing Award Ceremony today at 5 p.m. in the Pat Peterson Museum Education Room.

Finalists will read their creative works during the ceremony. You're in for a treat!

This award is named after first-generation college student Margaret Harvin Wilson, '34, who waited tables in exchange for discounted tuition and a free dormitory at Georgia College. As a senior, her teacher encouraged Wilson to enter a short story contest in the English Department. Winning first prize in 1933 for "Sympathy Speaks" gave her great confidence for her subsequent career as a teacher.

Margaret married Leland Wilson in 1938. They had three successful daughters with careers in law, medicine and higher education, with the latter, Dr. Mary Sue Coleman, retiring upon serving for 12 years as president of the University of Michigan. In January 2010, Mary Sue and her husband Kenneth established the Margaret Harvin Wilson Writing Award in memory of her mother.

"Why Did Russia Invade Ukraine? Historical Analysis and Possible Outcomes" a lecture presented by Dr. Bill Risch

History & Geography, Department of : Tuesday March 29, 2022

What caused Russia to invade Ukraine on February 24, 2022? Was it Vladimir Putin's personal choice, or were there long-term historical factors behind Russia's decision to attack? What circumstances in Ukraine did Putin exploit to justify this military operation? What did Putin fail to understand about Ukraine? What have the United States and NATO failed to perceive about Ukraine and the invasion it faces? How might this war end? Join Dr. William Risch, Professor of History, as he addresses these questions, and more you may have, on April 4, 2022, at 12:00 p.m. Dr. Risch specializes in the history of Russia and Eastern Europe. He lived in Ukraine for four years. His first book, The Ukrainian West: Culture and the Fate of Empire in Soviet Lviv, was published by Harvard University Press in 2011. His second book, One Step from Madness: Power and Disillusionment in Ukraine's Euromaidan Revolution, is based on his field work in Ukraine in 2013-15, and it deals with the beginning of Russia's war against Ukraine.

Front Porch Lecture series returns with lecture from Bill Griffith and Rachel Hudson from Rowan Oak, hosted virtually by Andalusia: the Home of Flannery O'Connor.

Andalusia : Wednesday March 30, 2022

Andalusia: the Home of Flannery O'Connor is excited to announce the return of its Front Porch Lecture with a lecture from Bill Griffith and Rachel Hudson from Rowan Oak. This lecture will be held virtually on zoom on April 6th at 6 pm EST.

Bill Griffith has been the Curator of Rowan Oak since 1999. Before Rowan Oak, he was Curator of Collections at the University Museum at the University of Mississippi. Bill was raised in east-central Illinois where he was educated at Southern Illinois University, the University of Illinois, and has completed museum internships at the Museum of Northern Arizona and the Oriental Institute. He has been with the University of Mississippi since 1992.

Rachel Hudson is the Assistant Curator of Rowan Oak. She is originally from Annandale, Virginia, but has found a home in Oxford, MS since receiving her Bachelors's in English from the University of Mississippi in 2017.

We are so excited to present our Spring 2022 Front Porch Lecture series and hope to see you there!
