Guest Artist Piano Recital: "The Masters of Musical Narrative," featuring Dr. Giuliano Graniti

Music, Department of : Tuesday August 1, 2023

Thursday, Aug. 31, Georgia College & State University's Music Department opens its fall 2023 season with a piano recital, "Masters of Musical Narrative," at 7:30 p.m. in Max Noah Recital Hall.

The recital is a storytelling musical adventure featuring guest pianist and worldwide performer Dr. Giuliano Graniti. He aims to describe human nature through personal battles, both rational and irrational, played out in everyday life. Each musical narrative will be introduced through words, inviting the audience to participate. Familiar works, like Robert Schumann's "Carnaval op. 9" and Frédéric Chopin's "Ballade no. 4" are mingled with lesser-known pieces, like Louis Ballard's Native American "Preludes" and Clara Wieck's "Fugitive Pieces op. 15."

Graniti's own arrangement of the second movement of Sergei Prokofiev's "Symphony no. 5" is included. A $5 donation is encouraged. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GCSU Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. For more information, please email music@gcsu.edu or call 478-445-8289.

The 7th Annual Making Excellence Inclusive Day

Inclusion and Belonging, Office of : Wednesday August 2, 2023

The 7th annual Making Excellence Inclusive (MEI) Day will be held Tuesday, August 15 at 9:00 a.m. in the Arts and Sciences Auditorium. This day of professional development is to develop the skills, knowledge, and competencies needed as we progress toward making Georgia College a more welcoming and belonging environment.

The morning session will include a collaborative panel of distinguished Milledgeville and Georgia College representatives to discuss the MEI program theme: You Can't Spell Inclusion Without Us – Working Together to Prepare for a Diverse Future.

Following the panel discussion, there will be breakout sessions led by our GC faculty and staff, and Dr. Patrice Buckner Jackson, MEI Day keynote speaker and founder of EduCare Training and Consulting, LLC. Dr. Jackson's session is titled, "Disrupting Burnout." The sessions will be held from 10:20 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and will include:

- Understanding Title IX
- GC Hiring Updates
- Eliminating Bias in Recommendation Letters
- Managing Diversity Flashpoints
- Ethics & Allyship
- Building Community through Restorative Practices
- LGBTQ+ Inclusion

The afternoon session will include lunch and the keynote presentation from 12:30 - 1:45 p.m. in the Peabody Auditorium. After lunch, we will conclude the day with community conversations focused on lessons learned and taking action steps to create and maintain a welcoming and belonging campus community. To ensure we have enough lunches for everyone, please be sure to complete the registration form.

Reminder: The 7th Annual Making Excellence Inclusive Day

Inclusion and Belonging, Office of : Wednesday August 9, 2023

The 7th annual Making Excellence Inclusive (MEI) Day will be held Tuesday, August 15 at 9:00 a.m. in the Arts and Sciences Auditorium. This day of professional development is to develop the skills, knowledge, and competencies needed as we progress toward making Georgia College & State University a more welcoming and belonging environment.

The morning session will include a collaborative panel of distinguished Milledgeville and Georgia College representatives to discuss the MEI program theme: You Can't Spell Inclusion Without Us – Working Together to Prepare for a Diverse Future.

Following the panel discussion, there will be breakout sessions led by our GCSU faculty and staff, and Dr. Patrice Buckner Jackson, MEI Day keynote speaker and founder of EduCare Training and Consulting, LLC. Dr. Jackson's session is titled, "Disrupting Burnout." The sessions will be held from 10:20 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and will include:

- Understanding Title IX
- GC Hiring Updates
- Eliminating Bias in Recommendation Letters
- Managing Diversity Flashpoints
- Ethics & Allyship
- Building Community through Restorative Practices
- LGBTQ+ Inclusion

The afternoon session will include lunch and the keynote presentation from 12:30 - 1:45 p.m. in the Peabody Auditorium. After lunch, we will conclude the day with community conversations focused on lessons learned and taking action steps to create and maintain a welcoming and belonging campus community. To ensure we have enough lunches for everyone, please be sure to complete the registration form.

First-year students get introduced to Milledgeville and community service on GCSU Gives Day

Community Engagement and Service, Office of : Monday August 14, 2023

Instead of sleeping in the weekend before classes start—all first-year students will get a lesson in volunteering at a university known for its community service.

Georgia College & State University's annual GCSU Gives Day is 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 19. It's a day when a flood of freshly moved-in freshmen disperse throughout their new community, Milledgeville, to learn the importance of giving back.

The expected economic impact of this year's donated labor is $120,000.

"GCSU Gives Day is a fundamental piece of the liberal arts education we provide students at Georgia College," said Ashley Copeland, director of Community Engagement & Service.

"We want to create informed citizens who care about people and the community they're moving into," Copeland said. "Right from the start, GCSU Gives Day shows our new students what it means to be a part of Georgia College. We give back."

GCSU Gives Day is a bit like a huge chessboard with a myriad of moving pieces.

Two shifts of students, clad in blue T-shirts, will be given instructions and a bagged breakfast. Then, they'll be bussed to more than 30 locations throughout the city. They'll dig, plant, clean, organize and interact with the public at various civic non-profits, businesses, schools, churches and nursing homes.

New this year, students will work sites that best align with their academic major and career interests. Also new: Five alumnae will be site leaders, including Carrigan Flotlin, '19 and '20, who worked the original GCSU Gives Day in 2018.

"Being a part of the team that helped put it all together was amazing," Flotlin said. "This opportunity gave me the chance to see student impact in the Milledgeville community through a different lens. It's definitely exciting to see how far this day has come since the very first one, and I'm honored that I am still able to participate."

The biggest volunteer site this year is the Life Enrichment Center's back-to-school "Kids Block Party" in the Urban Arts Village at 224 E. Walton St., Milledgeville.

Georgia College students will help set up booths and run games and learning activities for children. The university's Sandra Dunagan Deal Center for Early Language and Literacy will give away copies of "Thunder Learns to Read," written by a faculty member. Thunder—the university's Bobcat mascot—will be there along with Georgia College President Cathy Cox for a reading at 10 a.m. School supplies, packed by students, will also be distributed.

Other GCSU Gives Day sites include:

- Oconee River Greenway, 420 E. Greene St. Students will collect tires from the river, pick weeds and remove trash from trails. Tires will be brought to a collection site for recycling at 311 Linda Dr. N.E. as part of "Tire Amnesty Day," proclaimed by the Baldwin County Commissioners.

- Salamander Springs Farm, 178 Hitchcock Rd. Students will pick weeds, mulch, prune and clear trails.
- Lakeview Academy, 220 N. ABC St. Students will clean and beautify area to create a bird sanctuary.
- Central State Hospital, 171 Allen Rd. Students will paint a mural and create a Zen garden for the Georgia Department of Behavioral Health.
- Milledgeville Cares, 121 Thomas St. S.E. Students will paint baseboards, window trims and a porch.
- Linus Project, 220 S. Wayne St. Students will make 'no-sew' blankets for celebration of the project's Milledgeville chapter.
- Georgia's Old Capital Heritage Center, 95 Depot Circle Dr. Students will set up and help run a fundraiser, "Art in the Park."
- Milly Free Fridge, 601 S. Wilkinson St. Students will pack food items at Magnolia Ballroom on campus to transport to Milly Free Fridge.
- Georgia War Veteran's Home, 2249 Vision HWY. Students will play bingo and cornhole with vets in the Birdsong Recreation Center.
- Midway Hills Primary School, 375 Blandly Rd. Students will assemble a chicken coop and green house.
- Heart of Georgia Animal Care, 62 GA-22. Students will clean kennels, walk animals and paint a picnic table.
- Green Acres Health and Rehab, 313 Allen Memorial Dr. Students will play bingo with senior citizens and polish fingernails.

Work Smarter, Not Harder—Become a Time Management Master

How often do we hear the phrase, “There aren’t enough hours in the day?” Many people find themselves constantly adding to the to-do list with the day passing by with the feeling that they haven’t accomplished anything.

Effective management of time is critical to ensure you feel better accomplished and less overwhelmed at the end of a busy day. Time management is a learned skill. It requires self-discipline and a desire to become conscious of how one manages one’s daily activities. This session will provide a basic explanation of the time management process and effective time management. It will discuss how to prioritize important events and explore the role of delegation and communicating requests with others. It will discuss the importance of prioritizing important events and explore the role of delegation and communicating delegation requests with others.

How participants will benefit:

- + Explain the time management process.
- + Provide characteristics of effective time managers.
- + Discuss the importance of prioritizing important events.

Is it time to put limits on the Supreme Court?

College of Education : Monday August 28, 2023

Constitution Week Event: Although checks and balances were established in our Constitution to oversee the three branches of our federal government, the Supreme Court has escaped many of the ethical and legal limits the executive and legislative branches have implemented. Considering recent events, are these limits necessary for the judiciary? Join us Sept. 21 from 6 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. for a vigorous debate about the role of our Supreme Court and citizens' expectations.

First Times Talk of the semester this Wednesday Aug. 30, 12:00-12:50 p.m., 241 library - Dr. Brian Newsome, professor of History/Honors College and dean, "France on Fire: Summer of Protests"

American Democracy Project : Monday August 28, 2023

Please join us this Wed. Aug. 30 for our inaugural Times Talk conversation of the Fall semester in 241 Library. On 27 June, 17-year-old Frenchman Nahel Merzouk was shot and killed by a police officer in Nanterre, a western suburb of Paris, during a traffic stop. His killing touched off weeks of widespread protests characterized by attacks on state/municipal buildings, the burning of cars, and police efforts to contain the protests. What are the roots of the protests? How are they linked to both domestic and international trends? Dr. Brian Newsome, dean of the John E. Sallstrom Honors College and professor of history, will facilitate the conversation. In preparation, participants are encouraged to read this brief New York Times overview; https://www.nytimes.com/2023/06/29/world/europe/france-riots-nahel-shooting.html?name=stylIn-france-unrest®ion=TOP_BANNER&block=storyline_menu_recirc&action=click&pgtype=Article&variant=undefined

Next week's Times Talk Wed. Sept. 6, 12-12:50 p.m.: Dr. Cynthia Alby, professor of teacher education, "So a Bot walks into a bar: Will AI make us funnier (or more creative, efficient, productive...)" <https://www.nytimes.com/2023/08/15/arts/television/comedy-artificial-intelligence-chatgpt.html?searchResultPosition=1>

Times Talk at Georgia College & State University is celebrating 18 continuous years as the first in the nation college weekly conversation series on current and significant public events and issues as reported by the New York Times and other reputable news sources. The topics change weekly and are chosen and facilitated by volunteer faculty, staff, students and community members. Times Talks are open to all campus and local community members. Just bring your brain. Get free pizza while it lasts.

GCSU Thirst for Knowledge: Georgia Adopt-a-Stream Chemical and Macroinvertebrate Trainings

Academic Outreach : Tuesday August 29, 2023

Through the GCSU Thirst for Knowledge Program, you can become Georgia Adopt-a-Stream certified in these upcoming trainings. Trainings will be offered Sept. 6 (9 a.m. - 12 p.m.): Chemical monitoring (1 p. m. - 5 p.m. Macroinvertebrate monitoring) at Lake Laurel Lodge and Sept. 8 (9 a.m. - 1 p.m.: Macroinvertebrate monitoring) (2 p.m. - 5 p.m.: Chemical monitoring) at Andalusia Farm. Trainings certification is valid for 1 year.

The Chemical Monitoring Workshop is designed to teach volunteers about basic stream water chemistry and how to conduct various chemical tests using hand-held field equipment. The basic set of tests include dissolved oxygen, conductivity, pH, and temperature. Volunteers who collect data within 10% accuracy and pass the written test with a score of 80% or better will be certified to conduct chemical monitoring.

Stream macroinvertebrates (insects, mollusks and crustaceans) are excellent indicators of the condition of both water quality and habitat. This workshop will focus on macroinvertebrate collection techniques and identification; in other words, catching cool animals. Volunteers who identify the macroinvertebrates with 90% accuracy and pass the written test with a score of 80% or better will be certified to conduct macroinvertebrate monitoring and can "adopt" a section of a local stream.

Students can satisfy CbEL requirements for GC Journeys through the GCSU Thirst for Knowledge Program and the trainings are open to all.

For more information, email Ruth Eilers at ruth.eilers@gcsu.edu, or visit the Georgia Adopt-a-Stream website: <https://adoptastream.georgia.gov/>.

Georgia Adopt-a-Stream Monitoring

Academic Outreach : Tuesday August 29, 2023

Do you want to learn more about campus while making a positive impact? Join us this Friday (Sept. 1) for Chemical Monitoring of Champion Creek at Lake Laurel (9 a.m. - 10 a.m.), GCSU's East Campus and/or Tobler Creek at Andalusia (10:30 a.m. - 12 p.m.). No experience necessary. Be sure to wear some closed-toed shoes that can get wet.

We will use Georgia Adopt-a-Stream methods to test temperature, dissolved oxygen, conductivity and pH of the streams all while enjoying the beauty of GCSU's East Campus and Andalusia Farm. Can't make it this time? No worries. We monitor monthly, so check back for more opportunities.

For more information and to sign-up, email Ruth Eilers (ruth.eilers@gcsu.edu). You may register using this link: <https://givepul.se/q7uw31>.

How to Think Like A Woman: Four Women Philosophers Who Taught Me how to Love the Life of the Mind. A Special Talk with Regan Penaluna

Philosophy Religion & Liberal Studies, Department of : Thursday August 31, 2023

From the book's synopsis: "In How to Think Like a Woman, Regan Penaluna blends memoir, biography and criticism to tell these women's stories, weaving throughout an alternative history of philosophy as well as her own search for love and truth. Funny, honest and wickedly intelligent, this is a searing look at the author's experience of patriarchy and sexism in academia and a moving meditation on what philosophy could look like if women were treated equally."

Penaluna is a writer and journalist based in Brooklyn. Previously, she was an editor at Nautilus Magazine and Guernica, where she wrote and edited long-form stories and interviews. A feature she wrote was listed in "The Atlantic" as one of "100 Exceptional Works of Journalism." Penaluna holds a master's degree in journalism and a Ph.D. in philosophy.
