Last Times Talk of the semester Wednesday, Dec. 6, with Dr. Brian Newsome on "France on Fire: Summer of Protests"

American Democracy Project : Monday December 4, 2023

Please join us Wednesday, Dec. 6 from 12-12:50 p.m. on the second floor of Russell Library, room 241 for an engaging conversation facilitated by Dr. Brian Newsome, dean of the John E. Sallstrom Honors College & professor of History, on "France on Fire: Summer of Protests." On June 27, 17-year-old Frenchman Nahel Merzouk was shot and killed by a police officer in Nanterre, a western suburb of Paris, during a traffic stop. His killing touched off weeks of widespread protests characterized by attacks on state/municipal buildings, the burning of cars and police efforts to contain the protests. What are the roots of the protests? How are they linked to both domestic and international trends?

The following background article may be referenced during the discussion:

https://www.nytimes.com/2023/06/29/world/europe/france-riots-nahel-shooting.html?name=styleIn-france-unrest®ion=TOP_BANNER&block=storyline_menu_recirc&action=click&pgtype=Article&variant=undefined

Times Talk at Georgia College & State University is celebrating 18 continuous years as the first in the nation college weekly discussion series on current and significant public events and issues as reported by the New York Times and other reputable news sources. The topics change weekly and are chosen and facilitated by volunteer faculty, staff, students and community members. Times Talks are open to all campus and local community members. Just bring your brain. There will be free pizza while it lasts.

GCSU 4th annual Athletics Day of Giving

Athletics : Monday December 4, 2023

Our 4th annual Athletics Day of Giving invites you to become a champion for our Bobcats, supporting their pursuit of excellence both on and off the field of competition. Join us in this campaign as we strive to elevate the Bobcat Athletics program to new heights of regional and national success.

One-hundred percent of the funds raised will go directly to the program of your choice. Donations will help to enhance the student-athlete experience through providing support for scholarships, equipment, travel expenses and so much more. Your support makes a direct impact.

This year, our teams are working towards a record breaking goal of 600 donors for this campaign. Every gift, regardless of the amount, counts as we strive for another record breaking year.

Make your gift today. Credit card, Venmo and Pay Pal are all accepted forms of donations.

Thank you for being a champion for our Bobcats!

For questions or further information, please reach out to Michelle Aquino, director of Annual Giving, at 478-445-5320 or michelle.aquino@gcsu.edu.

NEH Flannery O'Connor, Poetry and Us

O'Connor Institute : Tuesday December 5, 2023

On Tuesday, December 12th at 7 p.m. join the NEH Summer Institute on Flannery O'Connor as the participants share their poetry! This event, hosted by Craig Martell, will feature both original poetry, as well as a discussion on how poetry influenced Flannery O'Connor. Register at bit.ly/FOCpoetry to receive the Zoom link.

Please feel free to join us for Flannery O'Connor, Poetry and Us, featuring poetry from:

John Davis: John Davis Jr. is the author of The Places That Hold (Eastover Press, 2021), Middle Class American Proverb (Negative Capability Press, 2014), and three other poetry collections. His work has been published in Nashville Review, The Common, Salvation South and elsewhere, and he is the recipient of the Florida Book Awards bronze medal for poetry, the Sidney Lanier Poetry Prize and other literary laurels. He holds an MFA from University of Tampa, and he teaches English and Creative Writing for Jesuit High School, also in Tampa.

Ann Ritter: Ann Ritter has most recently published poems in Dos Gatos: Persona of the Southwest; ADANNA: Women and Spirituality; Earth First; The Southern Poetry Anthology (Georgia); Gathered: An anthology of Quaker poets; and Elements. Her review of Joseph Bathanti's The Thirteenth Sunday After Pentecost appeared in 2017's Presence: A Journal of Catholic Poetry, where she has also published poems. Her fiction, essays and poetry have appeared in Charleston Magazine; Confrontation; Earth's Daughters; THEMA; Georgia Journal and the anthology, Like a Summer Peach: Sunbright Poems and Old Southern Recipes. Ann has studied in the summer writing intensive at Bennington College, VT, received an artist-initiated grant from the Georgia Council for the Arts in fiction and poetry and has been a fellow in the Flannery O'Connor Summer Institute at Georgia College, sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities. A former business journalist and communications professional, she is currently a clinical instructor in strategic business communication planning at Georgia State University's Robinson College of Business, Atlanta.

Ashley Massey: Ashley Massey holds a MA in Literature and writes academically in the fields of Southern Gothic literature and Critical Prison Studies. She currently teaches writing and literature courses in jails and prisons, including through the University of North Alabama's Restorative Justice Lab. She resides on a farm in rural Middle Tennessee where she is a small business owner, cattle caretaker and community organizer. She was a participant in the NEH Summer Institute: Reconsidering Flannery O'Connor. Her poetry has appeared in The Red Branch Review, Lights and Shadows and Pink Apple Press, and she recently released a gothic farm-themed poetry book titled Keep the gate open.

Doni Wilson: Doni Wilson is Professor of English at Houston Christian University where she has taught for two decades. She received her doctorate from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and has taught at Elon University, the University of Houston, the University of Saint Thomas and writing organizations, such as Writespace. She has covered the arts in Houston for over a decade and has written for numerous publications including the Houston Chronicle, Houstonia, Houston Press, The Awl, The Federalist, The Pillars, Ten Spurs and The Pisgah Review.

Angela Alaimo O'Donnell: Angela Alaimo O'Donnell, PhD is a professor, poet, scholar and writer at Fordham University in New York City and serves as Associate Director of Fordham's Curran Center for American Catholic Studies. Her publications include two chapbooks and eight full-length collections of poems. Her most recent book of poems Holy Land (2022) won the Paraclete Press Poetry Prize. In addition, O'Donnell has published a memoir about caring for her dying mother, Mortal Blessings: A Sacramental Farewell; a book of hours based on the practical theology of Flannery O'Connor, The Province of Joy; and a biography Flannery O'Connor: Fiction Fired by Faith. The latter won the Catholic Press Association Prize for best biography in 2015. Her ground-breaking critical book on Flannery O'Connor Radical Ambivalence: Race in Flannery O'Connor was published by Fordham University Press in 2020. O'Donnell's ninth book of poems, Dear Dante, will be released by Paraclete Press in Spring 2024.

And the host, Craig Martell: Craig Martell is a 74 year old retired business man from Milwaukee, WI. He has a Bachelor's in English from the University of Wisconsin and a Master's in Accounting from DePaul. Since Fall, 2019, he has "curated" a total of nine Osher Lifelong Learning five-part series Introducing Flannery O'Connor. This initiative was graciously supported by a host of well-recognized "O'Connor Guest Scholars" who shared their insights on O'Connor and her fiction over Zoom. This background supported Craig's attendance at the 2023 NEH Summer Institute, Reconsidering Flannery O'Connor. While there, he met and befriended the four poets with us this evening, hearing their poetry at the Institute's "Open Mic" nights at the Blackbird Café. While not a poet himself, he enjoys that of others and is intrigued with Flannery's understated appreciation for poetry and its mystical effect on her writing. He has an understanding, tolerant wife and two daughters—one in Milwaukee and one in Charlotte—three grandsons, and one granddaughter! He is a definitely promised community member of the Secular Disalced Carmelites.

ChatGPT in the Classroom: Practicalities & Pedagogies

Center for Teaching & Learning : Tuesday December 5, 2023

This hands-on workshop will introduce educators to the practical use of ChatGPT for writing instruction. The workshop will have a particular focus on how ChatGPT and similar tools can support teaching (1) specific writing genres, (2) research literacy and (3) critical technology appraisal. Attendees who wish to participate in the hands-on portion of the workshop should create a free ChatGPT account and bring a laptop.

Biography: S. Scott Graham is an associate professor in the Department of Rhetoric & Writing and the associate director for Health, Humanities and Medicine at the Humanities Institute at The University of Texas at Austin. His research is devoted to exploring the ethical use of artificial intelligence in scientific and medical writing, and he teaches classes on AI, writing and persuasion in a variety of contexts. His latest book is The Doctor & The Algorithm (Oxford University Press), and his recent essays on AI have appeared in Inside Higher Education, Stat News and Composition Studies.

This workshop is hosted by the Digital Humanities Collaborative and the departments of Art, History & Geography and World Languages & Cultures, and co-organized by the Center for Teaching & Learning and the Writing Center.

Registration is requested: <https://app.smartsheet.com/b/form/95859fcc9ca2427ab9eca2fcbe441426>.

New training opportunity: Effective Stress Management

Human Resources, Office of : Wednesday December 6, 2023

The Office of Human Resources is excited to announce a new virtual training opportunity for all employees Thursday, Dec. 14, from 2 p.m. until 3 p.m. See the link below to register and a description of the training. We hope you will be able to join us.

Working under excessive pressure for a prolonged period of time can result in chronic stress which can have a significant adverse impact on our mental and physical health, in particular long-term cardiovascular problems due to the consistent and ongoing increase in heart rate and elevated levels of stress hormones and of blood pressure.

Without understanding the physical stress response, it can be difficult to develop healthy coping strategies to help us tackle stress in an effective way, causing a build-up of stress hormones in our minds and bodies which leads to more significant health issues such as burnout and/or depression.

How participants will benefit:

- + Understand the science of the stress response.
- + Recognize your own stress triggers.
- + Learn how to respond rather than react.
- + Discover powerful stress busting strategies.

Date: 12/14/2023

Time: 2 p.m. - 3 p.m.

Jingle Jam: Life Enrichment Center's Winter Festival

College of Arts & Sciences : Wednesday December 6, 2023

Come celebrate community and the holidays at the Urban Arts Village at this completely free drop-in event Dec. 9 from 12 to 6 p.m. Free professional photos with Santa, hot cocoa for kids, activities, bouncy houses, games and crafts. There'll be a live local DJ. There'll be a special appearance by Cathy Cox. Surplus Toys for Tots, healthy snacks and T-shirts will be distributed to kids, but supplies are limited. A free shuttle will run to and from GCSU main campus by the library to the event. All provided for the community by the community to support a happy local holiday.

Artisan vendors will have crafts available for sale for some last-minute stocking stuffers.

Local food trucks will also be selling delicious hot food and coffee on the cold winter day to warm spirits and bellies. These are great opportunities to support locally this season.

Special thanks to the Life Enrichment Center, GCSU Non-Profit Management Students and the GCSU Office of Community Engagement for coordinating this one-of-a-kind community event.

For additional information, follow our Instagram @jinglejam.milledgeville.

We love this community and cannot wait to see you all there soon. Tell your friends and bring your family.

Mentors need for admitted students

Enrollment Management : Thursday December 7, 2023

Do you have one extra hour a month? That is all the time it takes to help the Office of Admissions with their Adopt an Admit Mentor Program.

The Office of Admissions is once again launching the Adopt an Admit Mentor Program designed to recruit first-generation college students to Georgia College & State University and assist them as they navigate the complexities of college enrollment. Admissions will identify admitted fall 2024 first-generation students and seek to assign each student with a faculty or staff mentor to build a relationship and guide them toward enrolling at GCSU.

The mentor will be asked to:

- Communicate with the student once or twice monthly from January through May—preferably a phone conversation.
- Connect the student to needed resources at GCSU—Financial Aid Office, Advising, etc.
- Encourage the student to deposit - discuss why a GCSU education is unique/valuable and why the college or department would be a good fit for them.
- Encourage the student to complete POUNCE, complete Housing and attend Orientation.
- Provide a kind/listening ear and support the student as they transition from high school to college.

The Admissions team will train all mentor volunteers, and matches will be made based on interests. Admissions hopes these efforts will help GCSU build a strong first-year class.

Virtual training sessions will be held on Dec. 14, Jan. 10 and Jan. 12. Faculty and staff only need to attend one of these virtual trainings. In the event you cannot attend any of the sessions, a recording will be made available. Your assigned mentee(s) will be shared via email after you attend a training session.

If you are interested in assisting, please follow this link to register to become a mentor and select a training session.

If you have any questions about this effort, please contact India Jackson, at 478-445-2523, india.jackson@gcsu.edu.

The annual Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Community Breakfast

Inclusion and Belonging, Office of : Monday December 18, 2023

Georgia College & State University and community partners will present, "Forget Us Not: A Path to Love - MLK Jr. Community Breakfast," Friday, Jan. 12, 2024, from 7:30 a.m. until 9:30 a.m. in the Magnolia Ballroom. In honor of the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., GGSU invites the campus and Milledgeville community to join us as we host essay competition winners from our local schools. Their essays will reflect the concept of this year's theme within our nation and the Milledgeville/Baldwin County community.

The breakfast is $20. Registration to attend the event is located on the Milledgeville Chamber of Commerce website. For more information, please contact the Office of Inclusive Excellence at 478-445-4233.
