ArtHealthy 2025 - Art in Motion: Igniting Wellness, Cultivating Joy

College of Health Sciences : Wednesday April 9, 2025

The ArtHealthy Festival returns with more excitement, more movement and more ways to celebrate wellness than ever before. The event takes place 12 to 4 p.m. Saturday, April 12, on Front Campus.

Now in its 11th year, the ArtHealthy Festival is hosted by GCSU in partnership with CREATE Inc., and continues to grow in size, energy and impact. The 2025 event theme is "Art in Motion: Igniting Wellness, Cultivating Joy," putting a spotlight on physical activity through dance, creative arts, fitness and community wellness.

"This is the year we truly move," said Toyia Barnes, coordinator of ArtHealthy and office coordinator for the Georgia College School of Health and Human Performance. "'Art in Motion' is about celebrating movement in all forms. Whether you're dancing, cycling, cooking or playing laser tag, wellness is an experience meant to be joyful and engaging."

More than a dozen GCSU offices and organizations are involved in the ArtHealthy Festival, including the Athletic Training and Health & Human Performance programs, the School of Nursing, the Department of Art, Academic Outreach, the Office of Sustainability and Continuing & Professional Education.

The GCSU Mobile Health Unit will be open to provide health assessments (such as blood pressure, BMI, cholesterol and glucose testing) and prostate cancer screenings.

New this year are Laser Tag and the Gelly Ball Shooting Gallery — two thrilling, family-friendly attractions that bring out the fun in fitness and teamwork. Also making waves is the Art in Motion Zone where guests can join in aerobic workouts, line dancing, art-based fitness sessions and hands-on Krav Maga self-defense classes.

This year also introduces the ArtHealthy Authors Showcase, featuring regional authors and live readings that promote literacy and well-being. And there will be healthy cooking demos focused on easy, affordable meals.

Over 100 vendors will participate offering wellness resources, food tastings, art projects, giveaways and more.

Young guests can enjoy an expanded Kid Zone and families can get moving together in the inflatable obstacle course or on one of the many bike rides offered (1 mile, 5K, 31 miles, and 61 miles). Georgia Bikes will provide bike safety lessons for youth and promote active lifestyles for all ages.

“The 11th ArtHealthy Festival is a testament to what we can achieve together as a community,” Barnes said. “This isn’t just about health. It’s about joy, creativity, connection and fun. We invite everyone to come out, celebrate movement and experience wellness in motion.”

The festival is open to the public. Admission to the festival and all activities are free.

A Feminist Reading of “Precarious Life:” U.S. Health and Housing Crises in Historical Literature Keynote speaker: Dr. Stephanie Rountree, University of North Georgia - April 16

University Communications : Tuesday April 15, 2025

Dr. Stephanie Rountree’s presentation centers Black and postcolonial feminisms to consider historical U.S. literature depicting public health and housing crises. She explores two narratives spanning time and place: Charles Chesnutt’s “Po’ Sandy” (1888), depicting a self-emancipated Black man’s struggle to survive unhoused in North Carolina; and, Louise Erdrich’s Four Souls (2004), following an Ojibwe woman’s journey to Minnesota to avenge both her stolen homeland and the life of her stillborn child, both lost to the effects of settler colonialism.

Applying Judith Butler’s theory in Precarious Life, Rountree illustrates how such literature makes “grievable” those marginalized human lives lost in U.S. empire’s ceaseless pursuit of profit, expansion and power. Reading these narratives through intersectional feminisms, Rountree demonstrates their power to make visible how the histories of racial enslavement and settler colonialism that founded the nation still linger in systems that render housing unattainable, healthcare unaffordable, food access insecure, and human life ever vulnerable across 250 years of national history.

This event will take place on Wednesday, April 16, in the Pat Peterson Museum Education Room from 5 until 6 p.m. A reception will follow in Heritage Hall.

Eve Puckett Giving Tree Planting honoring Abigail Lee

Community Engagement and Belonging, Office of : Tuesday April 22, 2025

Join us this Thursday, April 24, at 3:30 p.m. at Hall House for the Even Puckett Giving Tree Award tree planting.

The Eve Puckett Giving Tree Award is given to an organization or a person who has left a lasting legacy of service at the university. Each recipient plants a tree on campus as an act of giving back to the community.

This year, the student recipient is Abigail Lee. From Abigail's nomination:

Abigail’s time at GCSU has been defined by her selflessness, her ability to inspire others, and her unwavering commitment to leaving a lasting impact. She has not only transformed the organizations she leads but has also enriched the campus and community through her service. By planting a tree in her honor, we would be celebrating a legacy of growth, resilience, and giving that will continue to inspire future generations of Bobcats. For these reasons, I wholeheartedly nominated Abigail Lee for the Eve Puckett Giving Tree Award. Her contributions to GCSU and the broader community exemplify the values of service, leadership, and giving back that this award seeks to recognize.

Please join us in honoring and celebrating Abigail.
