Being Well Means Teaching Well: Finding Joy in the Journey

Center for Teaching & Learning : Monday May 19, 2025

Your wellness isn't separate from your teaching — it's foundational to it.

In this energizing session, "Being Well Means Teaching Well: Finding Joy in the Journey," we'll explore how rediscovering joy in your role as an educator can enhance your well-being, strengthen student engagement and reignite your passion for the classroom.

Discover time-smart strategies that help you:

- Reconnect with what brought you to teaching in the first place.
- Celebrate small wins and meaningful moments in class.
- Build routines that reduce burnout and increase satisfaction.
- Find joy in everyday teaching, even on tough days.

You'll leave with a personalized plan and practical tools to help you be well and teach well — because teaching with joy helps us continue to create, endure, flourish, inspire and thrive.

This virtual workshop will be held twice at 11 a.m. June 12 and at 10 a.m. June 13. You can register for either occurrence via our registration form.

Dr. Ruben Yepes Muñoz's new book release

Art, Department of : Tuesday May 20, 2025

Please join us in congratulating Dr. Ruben Yepes Muñoz on his recent book release Affecting the Conflict: Mediations of the Colombian War in Contemporary Art and Film (Vernon Press, 2025). Dr. Yepes Muñoz will present his current research this Fall on Sept. 4, 2025, in the Pat Peterson Museum Education Room 5 p.m. – 6 p.m.

This event is co-supported by the Department of Art & World Languages & Cultures.

Affecting the Conflict: Mediations of the Colombian War in Contemporary Art and Film (Vernon Press, 2025).

This book offers a detailed exploration of how contemporary Colombian artists and filmmakers have engaged with the nation's prolonged armed conflict. Focusing on works produced between 2002 and 2017, the book argues that these cultural artifacts do not merely represent the conflict but actively mediate it, fostering affective connections that bridge the divide between urban audiences and the predominantly rural conflict. Paying heed to the “affective turn” of the humanities and social sciences, the book emphasizes the role of affect in these mediations, highlighting how art and film can counteract societal apathy and contribute to processes of remembrance and healing.

Ruben also published Estudios visuales desde América Latina in 2024.

Estudios visuales desde América Latina: Un aporte a la consolidación del campo (Latin American Visual Studies: A Contribution to the Consolidation of the Field) (Universidad Autónoma del Estado de México, 2024).

This book seeks to advance the consolidation of the emerging field of Latin American Visual Studies. The book critically examines dominant narratives surrounding the global emergence of visual studies and interrogates foundational concepts — such as visual culture, visuality and image — from a Latin American perspective that foregrounds the interplay between visuality and power. It also traces the development and discourse of visual studies in Latin America, emphasizing its specificity and divergence from Anglo-American traditions. This work functions both as a critical reflection and a call to action, aiming to establish visual studies as a robust academic discipline capable of addressing the complexities of visual culture in the region.

GCSU Piano Studio Recital: Romeo & Juliet

Music, Department of : Friday May 23, 2025

Sunday, Sept. 28 “Prokofiev’s Romeo & Juliet” is the theme of Georgia College & State University’s piano studio recital at 3 p.m. in Max Noah Recital Hall, on the third floor of Porter Hall. Students in Dr. Owen Lovell’s GCSU piano studio will perform several movements from Russian composer Sergei Prokofiev’s piano transcription of the ballet, Romeo and Juliet. Written in the 1930s, these pieces feature stylistic aspects which made the composer famous: playful dances, pounding, relentless rhythms and romantic moments that evoke moments within original Shakespeare’s original tragic play, as well as its adaptation for orchestra and ballet dancers. This concert will also be livestreamed at www.facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment. A $5 donation is encouraged. Online donations can be made at give.gcsu.edu/g/department-of-music/. Max Noah Singers Tour Homecoming Concert

Music, Department of : Friday May 23, 2025

Max Noah Singers tours middle Georgia

GCSU's Max Noah Singers will go on their annual tour Dec. 15 through 16. They will perform at Walker United Methodist Church in Greensboro on Monday and finish in Milledgeville on Tuesday. During the days, they will visit high schools, such as Peach County and Crawford County, to recruit and exchange performances. The trip culminates with a homecoming concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 16, at First Presbyterian Church in Milledgeville.

Five sets of songs, connected by poetry readings, include settings of traditional carols, Latin motets, and original compositions about the season. Audiences will be treated with holiday favorites like "Angels We Have Heard on High" and "Oh, Christmas Tree." In addition to works celebrating the Christmas season, Max Noah Singers will also perform a Hanukkah song in Yiddish and a Kwanzaa song in Swahili. Most of the concert is a cappella, however audiences will be treated to a bottle band and kazoo ensemble, as well as djembe. The concert will close with Palestrina's "Adoramus Te," the Georgia College Alma Mater, and "Silent Night."

A $5 donation is encouraged. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GC Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. For more information, please email music@gcsu.edu or call 478-445-8289.

Guest Artist and Faculty Recital: Samuel Gingher & Hue Jang, piano

Music, Department of : Tuesday May 27, 2025

Monday, Feb. 9 A Guest Artist and Faculty Recital, titled, “Beyond the Canon” will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Max Noah Recital Hall at Georgia College & State University. Featuring guest artist Samuel Gingher (East Carolina University) and faculty member Hue Jang, this piano recital explores rarely performed masterworks by three composers who shaped 19th-century pianism: Johann Baptist Cramer, Carl Czerny, and Franz Liszt. The program balances 30 minutes of four-hand duet repertoire with 30 minutes of solo works.

The program features Cramer's 12 Nouvelles Etudes en forme de Nocturnes, Op. 96 (1842), a set of sophisticated four-hand etudes recently discovered by Dr. Gingher at Duke University's rare book library. This performance may represent the work's modern revival and likely its first U.S. performance. Cramer, dubbed "Glorious John" by his contemporaries, was a leading figure in London's musical life between Mozart and Chopin.

Dr. Gingher's solo set features three contrasting works by Carl Czerny, Beethoven's student and Liszt's teacher: a Baroque-inspired Prelude and Fugue, the lyrical Nocturne Sentimental, and the virtuosic Prestissimo movement from Czerny's Piano Sonata No. 1. The program concludes with Liszt's dramatic Ballade No. 2 in B Minor, inspired by the Greek myth of Hero and Leander.

This concert will be live-streamed at www.facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment. A $5 donation is encouraged. Online donations can be made at give.gcsu.edu/g/department-of-music/. Guest Artist and Faculty Recital: Ari Streisfeld, violin and Lev Ryabinin, piano

Music, Department of : Tuesday May 27, 2025

Tuesday, Feb. 24 A Guest Artist Recital, featuring violinist Ari Streisfeld and faculty member Lev Ryabinin, piano, will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Max Noah Recital Hall at Georgia College & State University. This program explores the remarkable stylistic breadth of European violin music in the first half of the twentieth century, moving between spiritual introspection, modernist intensity, and postwar reflection. Ernest Bloch's Baal Shem opens the concert with music rooted in Jewish spiritual tradition, blending rhapsodic lyricism and raw emotional depth shaped by Central and Eastern European influences. Grażyna Bacewicz's Solo Sonata No. 2 pivots toward Polish modernism—taut, rhythmically driven, and uncompromising in its virtuosity. The concert concludes with Edward Elgar's Violin Sonata, a deeply reflective English work that merges late-Romantic warmth with an inward, elegiac tone born of the post–World War I era. Together, these works trace a wide geographical and expressive arc across Europe, united by the violin's evolving voice. This concert will also be livestreamed at www.facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment. A $5 donation is encouraged. Online donations can be made at give.gcsu.edu/g/department-of-music/. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GCSU Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc. For more information, please email music@gcsu.edu or call 478-445-8289.

GCSU Wind Symphony Concert: "We Danced Anyway"

Music, Department of : Tuesday May 27, 2025

Thursday, March 26, 7:30p.m., Georgia College & State University's Wind Symphony presents "We Danced Anyway: An Evening of Movement, Meaning, and Music" in Russell Auditorium. Under the direction of Dr. Zandra Bell-McRoy, the Wind Symphony will present a dynamic program centered on the idea of dance — not only as physical movement, but as emotional, cultural, and spiritual expression. The concert traces a journey through gritty rhythmic energy, reflective lyricism, and triumphant celebration, drawing on musical traditions that span cultures and generations. We Danced Anyway is more than a concert title — it is a statement. It reflects the enduring human instinct to rise, to express, and to find joy even in uncertain times. It is a story told in sound, and it belongs to all of us. This event will also be live streamed on facebook.com/GCMusicDepartment. A $5 donation is encouraged. Online donations can be made at give.gcsu.edu/g/department-of-music/. All proceeds benefit music scholarships or the GCSU Department of Music through GCSU Foundation, Inc.
