Biography

Professor Remi Chiu, Associate Professor of Music, Loyola University, Maryland, is the Coordinator of the Music Program. He is a musicologist specializing in Renaissance music and the history of medicine. He is the author of Plague and Music in the Renaissance (Cambridge University Press), which examines the role of music and music-making in the medical, spiritual, and civic strategies for combating pestilence. His research into the music of past epidemics has yielded some unexpected insights into music-making under COVID-19, some of which have been featured in the press (The Guardian, NPR, among others). Dr. Chiu's latest research focuses on the role of music in popular (quasi-)scientific entertainments at the turn of the twentieth century, such as the medicine show and the freakshow.
