Biographies

LiKWUiD

Faybeo'n (Fay) Mickens is a hip hop fusion activist, DJ, songwriter, music curator, educator, and marketing executive with over ten years of experience, specializing in brand partnerships and collaborations within the audio content field. She was most recently the Senior Director of Marketing at a hit podcast company, where she oversees the marketing strategy and execution for all of the shows within the company's network including the #1 music and true crime podcast in the nation.

Outside of her day job, Fay brings her passion for music into the world through DJing. Known as DJ LiKWUiD, Fay is committed to using her gift of song to empower the portrayal of women in the entertainment industry. As an avid lover of the African American diaspora of music, her style is based around blending beats together as one tapestry of sound; her signature "traphrobeats" blends house music, hip hop, and afrobeats — three of her loves representing her Gullah ancestry, Harlem influence, and southern upbringing.

Aside from performing worldwide for organizations like Google, Sony Music, Brooklyn Hip Hop Festival, NextGen, and The Apollo Theater, Fay is also fully committed to combining hip hop and education. She has performed, presented workshops, lectures and participated on panels at various spaces such as Columbia University, BAM, the Eleanor Roosevelt School for Girls, the Hip Hop Culture Center, Uptown Vinyl Supreme, Flocabulary, Comic Con, and more.

Ebony Magazine's Sonic Boom states "she can rap circles around most of everyone's favorite rappers. But she also has a good ear for beats and melodies, so her songs always flow (no pun intended..."

A pupil of both southern soul, gospel and the golden era of hip hop, LiKWUiD's versatile writing style often includes multiple entendres, extended metaphor and religious paradox.

As a songwriter, her film credits include placements with HBO Latino Films, IFC Films, Oxygen Network, MTV and several indie projects. LiKWUiD is an Artist in Residence at NewsBeat Podcast, lead emcee for EllaMaeFlossie and collaborates with bands r.o.t.i (Resilience of the Intelligent) led by Grammy Award Winning Simon Yu and Warp Trio.

Fay is committed to using her creativity to empower the voice of marginalized groups (especially womxn and lgbtqai communities); while utilizing music, art and social justice based activism to reflect the times.

Warp Trio

Described as "A talented group that exemplifies the genre-obliterating direction of contemporary classical music" (Columbia Free Times), Warp Trio is an Internationally touring cross-genre chamber music experience. Reflecting the combination of Juilliard trained members juxtaposed with members steeped in rock and jazz styles, the one-of-a-kind trio (that even has a fourth member!) can be seen performing classical works in prestigious halls on the same tour where they headline a standing room only show at a rock venue. In addition to their electrifying public performances, they have gained a reputation for their innovative educational workshops with students from grade school through university level.

Maintaining a busy performance schedule, Warp has performed hundreds of concerts all across the United States, in addition to tours throughout The United Kingdom, Spain, Switzerland, Holland, Germany, West Africa, and the Caribbean. Highlights of recent seasons include, headlining performances at The LEM Festival for Experimental Music in Barcelona, and the Omaha Under the Radar Festival, being featured guests at the 2020 MASA Jazz Festival in Abidjan, Côte d'Ivoire, and the Sold-Out World premiere of their Triple Concerto for Piano Trio and Orchestra with the New York City based Urban Playground Chamber Orchestra. They have been one of the honored recipients of a New York Foundation for the Arts Grant, and in the 2020 season, they were the recipients of the Chamber Music America Ensemble Forward and Classical Commissioning grants. Highlights of the 2021-22 season will include the release of their second studio album, the premiere and tour of a brand-new original Triple Concerto with the ensemble Palaver Strings, a Winter Ravinia appearance, and in the Summer, they will make their first trip to Canada as guest performers at The Vancouver Island Music Festival.

Their education work has led them to numerous Colleges and Universities where they have presented their original workshops and masterclasses in improvisation and creative music making. Recent highlights include, the Royal Northern College of Music (Manchester, U.K.), James Madison University, The North Carolina School of the Arts, Cal State LA, University of the Virgin Islands (St. Thomas), and SUNY Binghamton, among many others.

Individually, the members of Warp Trio hold degrees in performance from the Juilliard School, Cincinnati-College Conservatory of Music, and New York University. The beneficiaries of an incredibly diverse range of education, among the ensemble, they have received chamber music training from members of the Guarneri, Juilliard, Emerson, and La Salle Quartets as well as jazz instruction from figures such as Ray Anderson, Tony Moreno, Dave Pietro, and Mike Richmond.
