

GCSU launches Mobile Health Unit to address rural healthcare gaps in Middle Georgia

by Jordan Stevenson | Tue, October 22nd 2024 at 3:58 PM

Mobile Health Unit (Credit: GCSU).

TOPICS: MOBILE HEALTH UNIT GCSU RURAL HEALTHCARE MIDDLE GEORGIA HEALTHCARE GAPS PREVENTATIVE CARE HEALTH >

WGXA — Georgia College & State University (GCSU) announced its new Mobile Health Unit to combat rural healthcare needs in Middle Georgia.

TRENDING: Georgia voter ballots: What you need to know

According to a release, the new screening center on wheels debuted during a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Tuesday. University officials said the Mobile Unit is headed to a health fair in Putnam County.

The over-40-foot-long Mobile Health Unit has three retractable awnings, two intake areas, two medical exam rooms, refrigeration for vaccines and a bathroom.

Mobile Health Unit (Credit: GCSU).