

Georgia College & State University

GCSU was placed at No. 12 among regional universities in the South. It scored higher when compared to other public schools in the region, sitting at No. 5 — a one spot improvement from previous years.

"These rankings — including breaking into the Top Five in the South for the first time in university history — reflect a period of sustained and remarkable growth for Georgia College & State University," said President Cathy Cox.

---

Explore

College takes over operation of author Flannery O'Connor's farm

---