

Jun 2 at 6:05 PM • WGXA News @ 6

The screenshot shows a news broadcast from WGXA-TV. The main headline is "LOCAL TEACHER WINS STATE'S 2027 TEACHER OF THE YEAR AWARD" with a sub-headline "JONES COUNTY". A photo of Charm Mapp is shown on the left, with her name "CHARM MAPP" above it. To the right of the photo are three bullet points: "WINNER OF COUNTY'S 2025 TOTY AWARD", "THREE TIME GCSU ALUMNA", and "HAS TAUGHT AT CLIFTON RIDGE MIDDLE FOR OVER 20 YEARS". The broadcast includes a "PAUSED" button, a "CHANCE" button, a "MICROSOFT" logo, and a stock price for 441.31. The time is 6:06 and the temperature is 78°. The abc 16 logo is visible in the bottom right corner. A video player interface at the bottom shows a progress bar at 18:06:28 and a row of video thumbnails.

This service is provided by TVEye. All content is copyrighted by its respective owners.

hold up, we made it. We made the ballots. McDonald says they're now hoping to bring a stellar award back to the Valley and a three time Georgia College and State University alum is being recognized. State school Superintendent Richard Woods has announced. That charm map is named Georgia's 2027 teacher of the year. Serving as a teacher at Clifton Ridge Middle School in Jones County for the past 23 years, map holds a bachelor's, master's and education specialist degree from Gcsu and is on track to earn her doctorate in education, curriculum and instruction. This December map will serve as an advocate for public education in the Peach State. Speaking to the public about teaching profession and serving as an ex officio member of the State Board of Education and serving in the selection process for the 2027 National Teacher of the Year Award. And while in Peach County, the school system is making sure No child goes hungry this summer,