temporary replacements. The deadline for candidates to submit letters of intent and resumes is August 26th, 2026. Georgia College and State University claims it had a $360 million impact on the middle Georgia economy. That data comes from a study from the University of Georgia and highlighted how the campus employs around 1000 workers, making the university one of the area's top employers. This comes as the university welcomed its largest freshman class this year, which is over 1800 students, and it brings the total number of enrolled students to 7500. Georgia College and State University welcomed students back for its semester on Monday. Meanwhile, it was the first day of class over at Mercer University. The
