NATIONAL SECURITY & CAREERS IN PUBLIC SERVICE

The Boren Awards are an initiative of the Defense Language and National Security Education Office (DLNSEO) at the U.S. Department of Defense, which focuses on the combined issues of language proficiency, national security, and the needs of the federal workforce. DLNSEO initiatives are designed to attract, recruit, and train future federal leaders.

Boren Scholars and Fellows make a commitment to work in the U.S. federal government for a minimum of one year. Preference will be given to applicants who demonstrate a desire for a longer-term career with the federal government.

Boren Scholars and Fellows are eligible for exclusive opportunities and preferential consideration for federal government jobs. These include positions in the fields of:

- Diplomacy
- Defense
- Cybersecurity
- Economic Development
- Scientific Research
- Intelligence
- Medical & Public Health
- Legal Professions
- Commerce & Financial Regulation
- Agriculture
- Energy & Sustainability
- Immigration & Border Security

All positions with the priority agencies or their contractors will fulfill the service requirement. Work for other federal agencies and contractors may fulfill the service requirement, but these are approved on a case-by-case basis.
