

The Workforce Implications of ChatGPT

The Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship is hosting a lunch hour panel and open forum discussion over how AI programs, such as ChatGPT, will impact our world. We'll explore issues like how this will affect labor markets, specific professions and career prospects. We will also speak to how will might affect trade, commerce, finance, and the pace of technological change. Lastly, we will close by discussing how we can help students prepare for this new phase of tech disruption.

Panelists:

Ward Risvold, Lecturer of Business Communications

Isarin Durongkadej, Assistant Professor of Finance

Jehan El-Jourbagy, Associate Professor of Business Law & Ethics

Gavin Incrocci, undergraduate student